The reduction of the revenue which the Wilson bill provides for is now put at $62,000,000 by the bill's framers.

SENATOR SHAW predicts that the Wilson bill will be passed in time to take effect July 1, 1894, which means that it will go into operation in ample time to insure the election of a republican house next November.

The Chicago republicans did not succeed in electing their candidate for mayor, but they cut down last year's democratic majority of 85,000 to a beggarly plurality of less than 1200, and there is a good deal of glory in such a showing.

The big figures which recount the return of immigrants to Europe from the United States make agreeable reading. The labor market in this country has been immensely overstocked since the panic began, and the large emigration is among the unemployed the better for those who remain.

UNLESS the unexpected happens, Corbett and Mitchell will face each other in Florida in about five weeks, and the public generally hope that both men will suffer punishment sufficient to keep them out of the ring forever.

W. L. GREEN, Kearney's more or less respected citizen and a well known independent yawner, is lying his plans to capture the seat in congress supposed to be occupied by Omer Kern. If Bill should be nominated and elected, which is hardly a possibility, he would be an improvement over the present nonentity who claims to represent this district.

THE Homestead mills of Carnegie & Co. closed down Saturday night for want of orders and three thousand men were thrown out of employment. This means that from twelve to fifteen thousand men, women and children will battle with hunger and cold during the winter, and pray for those "democratic good times," which were promised us over a year ago.

THE rule or ruin policy of the Bee editor is being keenly felt by that paper, and a decrease of 2,000 in its circulation since the November election has resulted. If Mr. Rosewater expects the republicans of the state to pay off the mortgage on the Bee building he will do well to vacate the position of dictator which he assumed of his own volition.

GOVERNOR WAITE, of Colorado, has abandoned his campaign of blood and begun one of fire. To delegates to the Colorado Business Men's Convention the other day he said: "I am in favor, so far as I am concerned, of fighting for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, not all summer, but till I freeze over." The Governor had not better try for ice; there may be a trap laid for him.

THE Chicago papers, irrespective of party, are saying many good words for Col. W. F. Cody, who they regard as a possible and probable candidate for governor of Nebraska on the democratic ticket next fall. Being in an almost hopeless minority in the state, the democrats to stand any show of electing their candidate, must have a man who will command complimentary votes in every election precinct, and this we believe Colonel Cody would be able to do.

THERE are 18,000 idle working people in Troy, N. Y., with a population of only 400. These idle wage-earners held a mass meeting a few evenings ago, the presiding officer being the democratic mayor of the city, and resolutions denouncing the Wilson bill were passed. But it will do no good, remarks the Inter Ocean. The Neal and Waterson Chicago platform must be redeemed and defended if it closes up every work shop in the United States.

THE speech of Congressman Williams, of Mississippi, on the pension question is a refreshing bit of good sense from an unexpected source, says an exchange. He represents a bourbon democratic district, he declares, "in which there is perhaps not a single federal pensioner except a few negro teamsters and cooks;" but his democratic constituents have a great love of abstract justice, he goes on to say, and therefore he considers it his duty to assume that when a man's name is on the pension rolls it means something and that the status of such a man ought not to be changed without giving him due notice and a fair opportunity to vindicate his claims.

that the man deserves a pension. This is certainly reasonable, and it is difficult to understand how a different view can honestly be entertained. Names are not placed on the pension roll without systematic investigation by men trained to the work of analyzing evidence, and having no personal or pecuniary interest in the matter.

Times are changing and public sentiment is changing in Nebraska. The glamor of false lights and the glare of discordant instruments are losing their effect and the people are rapidly coming to see that truth is truth, reason is reason and common sense is common sense all the world over.

THE trouble was principally upon his leg, and we were afraid they would have to be amputated. My grandmother urged us to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we did so. It was a great relief. I had been suffering for years with this trouble, and when I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla the sores all disappeared, and in a short time he was perfectly cured. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists, 50c per bottle.

Secretary Carlisle's Report. The report of the secretary of the treasury, which is this year delayed two weeks beyond its usual date for presentation, furnishes some highly interesting facts, suggestions and deductions concerning the finances of the government.
