—There was an unusually large number of farmers in town Saturday and the merchants had a very busy day.

—The wife of Amos Gantt, who published a paper in this city in 1878, died in Falls City, Neb., ten days ago.

—The regular meeting of the ladies' guild will be held at the guild house Friday afternoon at the usual hour.

—Mrs. John Shaffer had an eye badly injured Friday by being struck with a stick of wood she was splitting.

—W. W. Scott, the Sunday-school missionary, left Saturday for Camp Clarke, where he will look after Sunday-school work for a month or so.

—Rev. Irwin administered the rite of baptism on Sabbath afternoon at the parsonage to the infant children of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McKay and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Fort.

—During the past two weeks a large number of farmers from Frontier county have visited the ditch section west of town and purchased wagon loads of potatoes and cabbage.

—Dr. J. West Hingston will visit North Platte next Saturday, Oct. 26th, when he will be pleased to meet all old friends. He will stop with Mr. and Mrs. Oberst at the Nebraska House.

—The girl waiters at the Hotel Neville went out on a strike just a short time before dinner on Saturday last. Mine Host Federhof managed, however, to rustle sufficient help so that everything went smoothly.

—The county division fight in Frontier county has resulted in the talk of having the territory in town 10, ranges 27, 28, 29 and 30 in this county annexed to the old portion of Frontier county. This, however, will hardly work.

—Sam Grace loaned Billy Lahey his overcoat Saturday evening, and now he is sorry he did, for Lahey and the overcoat have disappeared. Lahey was employed as a switchman but quit work Saturday. He secured Grace's coat for a hour, but failed to return it.

—Colonel G. H. Bush, the Front street flour and feed dealer, was married on Sunday evening last to Mrs. Maggie Lentz, the ceremony being performed by Rev. David Z. Fouk at the home of the bride in the Third ward. THE TRIBUNE extends congratulations.

The republicans will hold a rousing meeting in this city on Saturday evening, Nov. 2d, the full arrangements for which will be completed by to-morrow. Judge Lansing and Fred Collins of Lincoln, together with local speakers, will address the meeting. It is desired that there be a large attendance of voters from the country. More complete particulars will be given in Friday's paper.

—Fred Douglass, late with the Boston Store, has accepted a position with Richards Bros.

—Joe Morsch went to Ogalalla this morning and will ride from there to Grant on his wheel.

—The republican meeting at Hershey last evening was largely attended and much enthusiasm displayed.

—Several paintings from the Nativity Convent of this city are on exhibition at Mrs. Huffman's store. The work is very creditable.

—J. H. Hershey gathered forty-eight bushels of apples from his six year old trees last week. Some of the trees yielded two and three bushels.

—Owing to unforeseen circumstances the chicken pie supper to be given by the ladies of the M. E. church Friday evening of this week is indefinitely postponed.

—The state irrigation association will hold its annual convention at Sidney on Dec. 18th and 19th. It is proposed to have in connection therewith a tri-state exhibition of products raised from irrigated lands.

—Dr. V. Lucas, of North Platte, was in Gandy last Monday on professional business. Many persons here would like to see the doctor move to Gandy and keep a stock of drugs as well as practice medicine.

—The probabilities are that Gustave Frohman's "Colonel's Wives" company will be at Lloyd's opera house on the evening of October 30th. The company is an excellent one. On the evening of November 4th, the "Pay Train" will be presented at the opera house.

—The farewell party given to Will Fikes at Keith's Hall last evening was attended by a large number of his more intimate friends. Dancing was the main entertaining feature of the event and the evening in a social way, was all that could be desired. Mr. Fikes left for St. Louis this morning.

—The concert to be given prior to the grand march at the firemen's ball on Thursday evening of next week will be a rare musical treat. In addition to six or eight numbers by Garlich's orchestra, there will be vocal solos by Miss Picard and Miss Freeland. Both these ladies are excellent vocalists and are sure to please the audience with their selections.

—The ladies' guild social at the Barnum home Friday afternoon was well attended. A musical program served to increase the enjoyment of the afternoon. It happened that the day was the wedding anniversary of three of the ladies in attendance, namely Mrs. Doolittle, Mrs. Congdon and Mrs. Barnum, and of course a bride's cake constituted part of the refreshments.

—The members of the opera company and their friends who returned from Lexington Saturday morning report quite a gay time. As a financial venture the trip was not much of a success, the receipts of the entertainment just about paying traveling and hotel expenses. The company, however, did not expect to make money, the trip being taken for the fun that might result.

DR. W. A. DEBERRY,
DENTIST.
Office in First Natl. Bank Bldg.

Their new location is a central and pleasant one, and when they get things in order will have a store second to none in the city. THE TRIBUNE welcomes these merchants to the south side, and trusts their move will prove a profitable one.

—The accounts of responsible people who settle their bills once a month are respectfully solicited. We want your trade.

Shot by a Tramp.
Hank Gilfoyle, brakeman for Conductor Blood, was shot by a tramp at Hershey at 9:30 this forenoon but fortunately the injury inflicted is not serious, though the hobo's intention was to kill. The train had stopped at Hershey and Gilfoyle told the hobo, who was on the train to get off. The latter complied with the request, but later climbed on again. Gilfoyle again made the fellow get off, and this time the tramp struck Hank over the hand with a club. This roused the ire of the latter and he proceeded to administer a good thrashing to the tramp. Hank supposed this would settle the matter, and walked away. When a few steps distant the tramp drew a thirty-two calibre revolver and fired twice, one of the shots hitting Gilfoyle above the hip and cutting through the flesh, the heavy clothing evidently causing the ball to glance.

The tramp then took to his heels and fled north. The train arrived in town about an hour later, the officers were informed of the occurrence, and Sheriff Miller and others left on an extra at eleven o'clock for Hershey to search for the assailant.

Gilfoyle's wound is not dangerous, but that he is alive is due to the poor marksmanship of the tramp and the heavy clothing which caused the ball to glance.

—George, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McDonald, died at his home in this city Saturday night of consumption, a disease he contracted last spring while a student at Kendall Green college, near Washington, D. C. The deceased since early childhood was deprived of the power of speech and sense of hearing, an affliction that fell heavily upon him, as he was naturally a very bright and ambitious boy. George was born in this city in the early part of 1872, and though unfortunate in the above particulars was a general favorite with all both as a boy and as a young man. He attended school at Omaha, and later at Kendall Green, and became very proficient in communicating his desires by writing as well as by actions. Had he possessed the faculties of which he was deprived, his ambition and natural brightness would have won him more than an ordinary station in life. The funeral was held from the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, Rev. Snavey officiating, in the presence of a large assemblage. George's life on earth was heavy with affliction but it was as pure as crystal; he has won the crown of that peaceful, happy and eternal life beyond the grave.

—Prof. Garlich's "Little Tycoon" company from North Platte showed last night in this city. They were greeted by a rather small audience, but gave a good performance when the disadvantages they labored under are taken into consideration. There were over thirty people in the company and everybody wonders how they managed to get along so well on the small stage.—Lexington Pioneer.

—The irrigating season having closed in Colorado, quite a volume of water is now flowing over the bed of the South Platte. The water reached this point yesterday and is flowing somewhat slowly.

—The father of Mrs. D. W. Crane died at Ogalalla yesterday morning.

—Notice is hereby given that all walks in the city of North Platte that are not in good repair will be repaired by the street commissioner after the first day of November, 1895, at the expense of the owners.

R. W. MORGAN,
Street Com.

—On Tuesday night, Oct. 22d, Manager Lloyd has arranged for the appearance of Wm. Hoey's company of laugh-makers presenting a new comic play by Louis DeLange, entitled "The Globe Trotter." Bill Hoey, Old Hoss, is certainly one of the most prominent of laugh-makers, and now has a play which it is said suits his peculiar line of comedy admirably. He is still to be seen as Old Hoss, and again as a deaf and dumb old lady and a bogus English swell. Admirers of Hoey will find it hard to imagine Old Hoss as a woman, dressed in a most regal costume, bewigged and powdered to the highest degree, but such, the public is assured, is Hoey in his new creation, and the fun he manages to extract from this new element of comedy is certainly unlimited, as he keeps his auditors in one continuous roar of laughter throughout the entire evening. Hoey as an English swell has been known, his walk and drawl having been imitated unconsciously by theatre goers for some time past. This time we will have him in a new creation of the English swell—a sort of Taffy as it were, with flowing mutton chops of the most vivid hue, a tight fitting suit, a walk and a drawl that are all new and laughter-provoking.

—Eleven railroad employes' passes, good to Denver and return, are said to have been received last night. Two of them were for Geo. Austin and Charley Ell, who left this morning.

—Jovial John Murray, of Cottonwood, is transacting business in town to-day.
