THE JUBILEE SINGERS.

The colored concert company which appears at Lloyd's opera house on Thursday evening of next week under the auspices of the K. P. lodge, comes very highly recommended, as the following paragraphs show:

"The double quartette of colored singers sang the old plantation melodies, which every one has heard but which nearly every one is anxious to hear again. The singers were repeatedly recalled. The solo numbers were especially good—the soprano being a singer with extraordinary powers and a sweet voice over which she has absolute control. She sang 'Steal away to Jesus' and 'The Suwanee River.' The audience wildly applauded when she had finished, and she was recalled again and again. There were twenty-five numbers besides the numerous encores, and the singers were kept before the audience for nearly two hours."—The Topeka (Kans.) State Journal.

"Slayton's Jubilee Singers rendered a number of plantation melodies and hymns as only negro voices can, and at once caught the hearts of their hearers. The male quartet gave some excellent imitations of a steam calliope and of the ringing of distant bells. It was the last number assigned to the jubilee singers, but the people wanted more. The audience was not quieted until the songstress came out and sang a version of 'Annie Laurie.'"—The Chicago Tribune.

"The program was lengthy and varied, occupying over two hours with hardly a perceptible pause; but neither the audience nor the singers grew tired, and such spirited applause as greeted the singers at the close of each number was certainly never heard at the Association Hall before. The Slayton Jubilee Singers are actually immense, and should they ever visit this city again the hall would be packed to the doors, as all who attended last night are loud in their praise of the splendid program rendered."—The Racine (Wis.) Times.

"A large and appreciative audience listened to Slayton's Jubilee Singers last evening at the Congregational church. Most flattering reports from Chicago and other cities had put the people of Sheboygan on the qui-vive, but they were hardly prepared for such a musical treat. The Quartet alone was worth double the price of admission and graciously responded to many encores. The company is undoubtedly the peer of any similar organization that has ever appeared in our city, and we hope to hear them again in the near future."—Sheboygan (Wis.) Gazette.

All plans of reorganizing the Union Pacific contemplate a virtual loss of the money advanced toward the construction of the road by the federal government. The difference in the plans is as to who shall get the benefit of the government's contribution. Only by sale in foreclosure and the operation of the road as part of one continuous road from the Missouri river to the Pacific on a basis of actual value, with all the water of the present fictitious capitalization wrung out, will the people be able to gain any relief in the way of improved service and reduced transportation charges.—Bee.

Dr. Sawyer, Dear Sir: Having used your Family Cure, I can recommend them to the public. I have been attended by four different doctors, but one and a half boxes of your medicine has done me more good than all of them. Yours respectfully, Mrs. Maggie Johnson, Brown, Branch County, Mich.
