THE democratic papers insist that there is no room for the tariff issue in the present campaign. Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, This stand is not strange. The result of free trade is a sore spot for the tariff reformers, and they have no desire to discuss the measure which has brought such disastrous ruin to the country.

> THE republican national commit tee has decided to make an aggressive campaign in Nebraska and will send several speakers of national reputation into the state the creasing product." early part of next month, among whom will be the brilliant Horr, of Michigan. A campaign of education in Nebraska means eight electoral votes for Wm. McKinley and Garrett A. Hobartt.

A REPORT just published by the Ohio commissioner of industrial statistics makes an exhibit showing the falling off of in the number of to do about silver, for that was then in men employed in factories of that state for the year 1895 over that of 1894 to be 58,000. It also shows there was a reduction in the amount of wages paid to the extent of over $22,000,000. This is an appalling decrease and explains precisely why McKinley is a presidental nominee, whose election is assured. The farmers appreciate the fact that party be defeated .- Baltimore Sun. this $22,000,000 has hitherto been paid to them for their products which are now going begging at been humming .- Fremont Tribune.

MR. EDWARD ATKINSON, the wellknown political economist, writing silver product is about $40,000,000 -in gold. > MR. BRYAN four years ago was positive free trade would bring prosperity to all the people; but everybody knows that since free trade policy went into effect prosperity is unknown in our land. Now Mr. Bryan declares that free silver will cure all our commercial ills, and everybody will be prosperous, but he has proyen a false prophet in the past and the people will not allow him to fool them

An exchange truthfully remarks that as November comes around the patriotic people will be found shoulder to shoulder behind the flag which is as representative today of all things American as ever before, The republican party, which massed behind it in 1861-64, and brought order out of confusion, and prosperity out of distrust and distress, is the same as then. To trust the republican party is no experiment. Its tands for the people of every class and condition, and under its wise leadership business in every department will take on a new lease of life.

A BIT OF HISTORY. THE populist, to be consistent Review of the Country Since the Free

Coinage of Silver Was Stopped.

The free coinage of silver stopped in 1873, but protective tariffs were steadily | 000 over the land sales of the previous maintained and made higher from time to time for 20 years from that date and until Mr. Cleveland and his party came into power with a mandate to lower party. Mr. Bryan will be very deep coinage suspended all the time, but with a protective tariff policy steadfastly maintained? In those 20 years we reduced the national debt $1,230,000,000 and the annual interest charge over $91,-000,000. From 1870 to 1890 we inpublican congressional committee creased our national wealth from $30,by Mr. Cady. Mr. Lambert has 000,000,000 to $65,000,000,000. In addition to paying the national debt and had much experience in conducting adding so vastly to our wealth, individuals had deposited over $2,000,000,000 ing congressional canvass the fight | in savings banks and building and loan associations, acquired during this period. The amount paid in wages to the 3,750,-000 employees in our manufactories in 1890 was $2,225,000,000, and the value of the product aggregated $9,372,000, 000, exceeding by 125 per cent that of any other country in the world. In the like time the manufacture of pig iron increased 200 per cent, railroad mileage over 150 per cent, the passenger traffic slide to McKinley this year will be 500 per cent and the number of freight greater than that to Morton a year tons moved nearly 400 per cent. So that, writing in May, 1892, when Mr. Harrison was president and the McKinley tariff was in full operation, though free coinage had been denied to silver for nearly 20 years, Hon. Carroll D. Wright, the eminent statistician, who is not a partisan pleader on either side, gave this testimony to the then existing > condition of the country: "There has never been a period in this or any other country when the general rate of wages was so high as it is now or the price of goods relatively to the wages as low as they are today, nor a period when the workman, in the strict sense of the word, has so fully secured to his own use and enjoyment such a steadily and progressively increasing proportion of a constantly in-

> That was the general condition of our people in May, 1892. Within a month of the election of Mr. Cleveland, pledged to the overthrow of protection, and before it was known or even suspected that he proposed to contract the currency and to enter upon the aggressive policy in favor of gold monometallism which he subsequently developed, this general condition of the country described by Mr. Wright had begun to disappear. It was not what Mr. Cleveland was going doubt, but what he meant to do about the tariff, which was in no doubt at all, that started all forms of industrial and commercial business on the down grade of depression, panic and collapse. - New

GEO. W. JONES DEAD.

DUBUQUE.

First United States Senator From the Hawkeye State, a Veteran of 1812 and a Ploneer of Wisconsin and Michigan, Prominent in National Affairs.

DUBUQUE, July 23.—General George W. Jones, the oldest surviving ex-United States senator, died last night, aged 92. He represented, as a delegate to congress, that territory now included in Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and the west except the Pacific coast. He was the state's first senator and in early days was prominent in national affairs, especially of the northwest.

General Jones died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. Duess, at 8 o'clock. George Wallace Jones has had a remarkable career. Born at Vincennes, Ind., April 12, 1804, he was a drummer boy in the war of 1813, and won distinction in the Black Hawk war. He was the last delegate in congress from the territory of Michigan, the first delegate from Wisconsin and the first United States senator from the state of Iown, and he selected the names of Wisconsin and Iowa. He has known every president since Monroe, was in the escort of Lafayette, was a business partner of Daniel Webster, was the colleague in congress of Thomas H. Benton, Charles Sumner, Stephen A. Douglas, William H. Seward and James Buchanar was the intimate friend of John C. Calhoun, Martin Van Buren, Henry Clay, John C. Fremont, Jefferson Davis and Franklin Pierce, was a minister to South America before the war, was a party to seven "affairs of honor," caught the dying victim of the Cilley-Graves duel in his arms, was imprisoned by Seward on suspicion of being in collusion with Jefferson Davis, was the Chesterfield of Wa hington society nearly fifty years ago, was once the richest man in Iowa, but in hi: latter years has had little income except a pension of $2) a month, granted eighty

Story of His Early Life. General Jones is the son of John Rice Jones, mentioned in history as the friend of Benjamin Franklin. The father was for years chief justice of the supreme court of Missouri. The family lived at St. Genevieve, Mo., in 1814, and when Captain Linn was commissioned to rai e a company of soldiers young Jones was the drummer boy who marched about the streets in that rervice. He graduated from Transylvania university at Lexington, Ky., in 1825. Henry Clay was his college guardian. In 1828 he was sergeant of the body guard of Andrew Jackson on his way to Washington to take his seat as United States senator. When Lafayette revisited America the young student was selected by congress as a member of a reexption committee and escorted the French patriot through Kentucky. After graduation young Jones lived three years at St. Genevieve, studied law and was clerk of the United States district court for Missouri. His health gave out and his physician ordered him into the woods to recuperate. Accompanied by a dozen slaves and a number of hired men he went to Sinsinawa Mound, then in Michigan Territory, but now in Wisconsin not far from Dubuque. He engag d in mining, smelting, farming and merchandising, living a simple, rough life, which restored his health, and he boasted freedom from sickness for nearly 70 years.

When the Black Hawk war broke out in 1832 he enlisted as aide-de-camp to General Henry Dodge, father of his colleague as United States senator from lows. After the war the pionce s of Michigan Territory cho-e Lim colonel of militia without his knowledge, although a son of Alexander Hamilton was a candi date. Later he became a major general. While organizing a company of soldiers at what is now Mineral Point, Wis., he was chosen a county judge, although he had not sought the place.

Represented a Vast Territory.

In 1838 he was elected delegate to congress from the Territory of Michigan, which then embraced all the country from Lake Huron to the Pacific, the largest district ever represented by one man in congress. One of his first acts was to introduce a bill for the formation of Wisconsin Territory, which comprised most of the country west of Lake Michigan. He took the name from the Ouis consin river, so named by Marquette, and secured the passage of his bill before the bill admitting Michigan to statehood was passed. He was elected delegate from Wisconsin while still holding that position from Michigan. He introduced and secured the passage of the bill creating the President Van Buren appointed him surveyor general of the Northwest Territory and he became a resident of Dubuque. President William Henry Harrison removed him, but he was reappointed by President Polk. He was chosen first United States senator from Iowa in 1848, a position to which he was re-elected. In 1859 he was appointed minister to the country now known as Colombia. While there he wrote a letter to Jefferson Davis, who had been a lieutenant with him in the Black Hawk war. Jones did not terms of his letter to his old friend put him under suspicion when it fell into the hands of Secre ary Seward. General Jones was recalled and imprisoned in Fort Lafayette for 64 days. Pre ident Lincoln became convinced of his innocence and ordeted his release. A year or two later General Jones retired from public life.

A False Note,

The Chicago convention, made up for the greater part of interlopers from the various Populistic organizations of the south and west and by a few score of unconscionable scalawags from the north wearing the collars of bosses like Altgeld, has not only spoken falsely for graced the American name before the world in a manner that no similar gathering ever equaled and which every patriot may fervently hope no succeeding aggregation of moral and intellectual degenerates ever will imitate. - " '---
