C. F. IDINGS.

W. H. Robison and Isaac R. Hill, of Washington, have been in town for several days taking testimony concerning some Indian claims which are pending in Washington. Messrs Robison and Hill are confident that the claims will all be allowed within a few years. The principal claimants here are Chas. McDonald, M. C. Keith, Edward Morin, W. S. Peniston and L. H. Baker. Several of Bakers claims have already been allowed but through some technicality they have never been paid.

Don't Forget the Boys' Suits

Clever buyers always strike it right at this store. They find the best selections from the entire field—a stock carefully chosen with regard to utility, style and local demand, choicest patterns and best values, judged not alone by the material in the make-up of the clothes, but in which trimmings, workmanship and finish are important factors. They find the best values for the least money—values that appeal to the fat and lean purse with equal force.

Suits, ages 12 to 20, sizes 30 to 36 breast measurement, long trousers—new styles for fall and winter—at the low price of Yesterday's issue of the Omaha World-Herald contains a very graphic account of the convention of the middle-of-the-road populists in Washington Hall. The convention was wonderfully unanimous but after all that is not to be wondered at as it consisted of one man, Hon. Lucien Stebbins. The Hon. Lucien patiently waited for several hours for a revolt to take place in the ranks of the fusionists, as he was convinced that the populists would come to a better mind and not fuse, but he waited in vain and finally went to sleep in the serene consciousness that there was at least one good and consistent pop—himself.

The Beach & Bowers Minstrels.

One of the best negro minstrel performances ever witnessed in St. Joseph was the given by Beach & Bowers' company at the Crawford Theatre last night. The Beach & Bowers company makes no boast of mastodon proportions, but it is a creditable organization throughout and the show presented is entertaining from beginning to end. The show is an exhibition of old-time minstrelsy, with its plantation songs and dances. The dancing is better than was ever executed by Primrose & West's 60—count them—60 company and there is no room for improvement in the singing. A splendid clog dance turn is done by some man who was introduced by the interlocutor as the "champion clog dancer in the world," but whose name is not on the bills. The songs presented in the first part were mostly new and were received with great favor. A funny turn at the close of the olio, as minstrel men call it, is the take off on Sousa and his band. However, Sousa is not a Frenchman, as James Stewart seems to believe. One of the most pleasing features of the performance is the appearance of the vocal quintet in several delightful selections. The specialty work of Bobby Beach and Otis Bowers is extremely ludicrous and in fact there are many features worthy of extended mention, not the least deserving of which is the performance at the conclusion by a troupe of trained dogs under the direction of Bobby Beach.—St. Joe Daily News, Dec. 17. At Lloyd's next Wednesday evening.

A Delightful Picnic.

Tuesday night a jolly party of young people held a moonlight picnic at Lamplugh's Lake. The night was well nigh perfect and the picnickers had a delightful time boating on Lake Ida. Tables had been arranged on the pavilion and part of the time was spent in playing games, among others, the ever popular "Up Jenkins." Hammocks were swung among the trees and Mr. Lamplugh initiated the young people in the mysteries of "Lovers' Lane," "Courtship Avenue" and "Pop the question Willow." Shortly after the party reached the lake a very delicious lunch was served and just before returning to town watermelon was served.

Among those who were present were Misses Minnie Chase, Nellie Orr, Mayme Barbee, Abbie Day, Eunice Babbitt, Elizabeth Burke, and Grace Langdon. Messrs. Geo. Dowlen, Geo. McMichael, Geo. Morley, A. M. Scharmann, C. F. Scharmann, and Armand Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Mooney, Mrs. Gray and Master Charlie Reynolds.
