The reading circle of the Epworth League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathewson last Friday evening. The attendance was very light.

The first teachers meeting of this year will be held Saturday.

The first grain received at the elevator was on Wednesday and caused the elevator to be in operation. The timbers for the track scales are here and the work of putting in the scales will commence soon.

The Mr. Posts have been working here for some time on the elevator, departed for their home in Shelton Thursday morning for a short visit.

Robert McMurray was a Gothenburg visitor Saturday on business. Arthur Chambers moved into his new residence, which he lately erected, on Saturday.

A slight unpleasantness developed into an altercation in which some force was exhibited at the elevator Monday.

The disagreeable windy weather of Wednesday was the first bad weather if it could be so called of the winter. Have we any cause to complain?

Friday evening there will be a literary in the Union School house.

Those possessing came ras seem to have revived their interest in them and are seen out improving the opportunities of the good weather.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

Several farmers in the valley have been trying the plow the past week which runs like a charm. Unless there is a change in the weather for the worse within a few days, farmers will be sowing wheat in this part of the wild and woolly west.

Supt. Seeberger is already leasing farms under the old canal for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooledge, of the north side, visited their daughter Mrs. R. W. Calhoun and family and looked after business interests at Nichols a few days ago.

Jim Goodwin of Hershey, informed the writer the other day that he expected to go to Seattle, Washington, the coming week.

The prospects for an ice crop, in this section of the country, is not very flattering at this time.

The north river is said to have been on the boom for the past week with no signs of abating as yet.

The McConnell boys have been teaching a number of colts to drive and getting them ready for spring work lately.

Owing to a series of revival meetings now being in session at Hershey the dance that was advertised for this Friday night has indefinitely postponed.

Rev. Evans, of Hershey, and Rev. Green, of Blair, who went to Paxton last Saturday with, we are told, the intention of starting a series of meetings at that village, postponed them and returned to Hershey, where they are still conducting meetings, this being the third week.

Grandma Toillion is recovering from quite a long siege of rheumatism.

L. E. Jones and W. R. Brooks can at this time inform you in regard to the future state of the weather.

Harrington & Tobin.

Spuds lately.

Fred Laubner, who departed from Hershey a couple of weeks ago for the state of Washington, writes back that he reached there in safety and found plenty of work at good wages.

The recent decline in the western hay market has stopped the shipping of that article to a limited extent.

Mrs. Sadie Brown and infant daughter of North Platte, who has been visiting her mother Mrs. Fannie Brooks, at Nichols for the past month departed last Tuesday for a visit at Sidney, where her husband D. A. Brown, is at this time firing the day switch engine.

Walford Krong and two sisters were guests of P. E. Erickson and family at the Nichols section house the first of this week while enroute overland from an extended visit with relatives in the vicinity of Columbus to their home at Egbert, Wyoming. The Krong family formerly resided on the Brown farm at Nichols.

A herd of cattle containing over 300 head passed up the line on Tuesday this week enroute from Chase county to the vicinity of Paxton where they will be wintered and also summered.

Several members of the Loyal Mystic Legion order at Hershey, attended a meeting of the same order at the county seat last Tuesday evening. All report a good time.

There is but very little said up this way about the sugar beet culture. The majority of farmers have gone into the cattle business quite extensively and therefore have about all on their hands at this time that they can comfortably manage.

Seeberger & Co. shipped a car of fat hogs from Hershey to Cheyenne on Wednesday and a car of stock hogs east to Monroe the same day. John Walters accompanied those west.

A ranchman by the name of Pierson from the vicinity of Paxton, purchased a yearling Short Horn bull Tuesday of W. H. Sullivan at Nichols.

Mrs. W. O. Thompson was the victim of a genuine surprise party last Wednesday by about twenty-five of her friends calling upon her unbeknown. All present enjoyed a bountiful dinner and a social time all through.

DICKENS DOINGS.

Miss Norah Johnson, of Iona, Montana, is visiting here this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Polzel and their family.

J. M. Fristo shipped a car of hogs to the South Omaha market Friday morning.

Robert Staley had one of his best horses ruined a few days ago. The animal was fighting through a barb wire fence with some other horses when it got into the wire, and was pretty badly injured.

Mrs. J. R. Cosselman and daughter Nellie, of North Platte, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Baker a few days last week.

Edgar Bailey, of Marengo, Neb., was in these parts Saturday and Sunday.

Messrs. Gardner and Segaser marketed potatoes in North Platte the first of the week.

George Burkert, of Hayes Centre, was in town a few days ago. He took out a load of lumber with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Baker, of Somerset, were in this vicinity the first of the week.

Mrs. Julia Turner was very sick the first of the week, but is better at this writing.
