M. S. QUAY was elected senator from Pennsylvania Tuesday with three votes above the required number.

It is quite evident that the Omaha Bee would much rather have Congressman Mercer at Washington than in Lincoln.

The introduction of bills in the legislature goes merrily on notwithstanding the excitement of the senatorial struggle.

SENATOR BALDRIGE has introduced in the state senate a bill providing for nine judges of the state supreme court.

The vote so far on United States senator gives no inkling as to the final outcome, but indicates pretty conclusively that neither Thompson or Rosewater can muster sufficient votes to elect.

We learn the apportionment bill introduced by Representative Evans is very favorably received by members of the legislature, both fusionists and republicans.

THE first bills recommended for passage by the legislature were those appropriating money for incidental expenses of the session and for payment of members, officers and employees of the legislature.

THAT General Wood is taking care of the interests of the Cubans in every possible way is seen in the report that he will have an ice plant erected at Manzanillo, to compete with the combination there of two companies already established.

THE Daily State Capital, a newspaper published for the apparently sole purpose of defeating D. E. Thompson, is giving that senatorial candidate some warm shots.

son's part in, the closing act of the drama of two years ago, and so moved were the people when they saw their beloved Hayward, after his two months battle with this political bully, sink broken-hearted and exhausted into a premature grave, and so universal was and is the revulsion against this man in every town and voting precinct in the state, that now, the name of "D. E. Thompson," called out by a few of the republican members of the legislature, is the most unsatisfactory answer ever given back to Nebraska people by their representatives.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The famous play, which dates back so far that some people have a vague idea that it caused the war of rebellion, has been presented with religious regularity each dramatic season, sometimes with double little Evas and double Uncle Toms even but never has it been given with such an elaborate stage dressing and realistic effects as this. In fact several of the features are in themselves sufficiently novel to make it worth while to see "Uncle Tom Cabin" for the forty-seventh time. Topsy is a fine piece of character and dialect acting with the additional virtue that is exceedingly funny. But the leading feature of the production is the gorgeous transformation scene which represents little Eva in the golden realms. This tableau is a beautiful and striking one, representing the flight of the angels of death and the opening of the golden gates. There are also several other noteworthy stage settings, representing a cotton picking scene, Eliza crossing the ice, etc. Some very pleasing singing of plantation melodies is given by a colored quartette, and there is some wing dancing that is a great novelty. The audience last night was a large one.—The Times, April 14. The Ed. F. Davis colossal spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin company will appear at the opera house January 24th.
