The Train Was Lost.

Westbound passenger train No. 3, due here last evening at 9:30, was lost for over two hours between this place and Alda, reports the Shelton Clipper. The train was reported out of Grand Island on time, and the operator at Alda reported it out of that place on time, but that was the last that could be heard of the whereabouts of the train for over two and a half hours, when it pulled into Shelton, having been two hours longer on the road between the two towns than it is supposed to be by the schedule. When the train failed to show up here on time the night operator reported to the dispatcher at Grand Island and he reported back that it left there on time as did also the operator at Alda. There being no night operator at Wood River no communication could be had with that point. The train dispatcher continued at intervals to inquire of Shelton whether the train was in sight and was as often informed that it was not to be seen, and when the operator here finally informed him that the head-light of the train could be seen the dispatcher no doubt heaved a sigh of relief. The delay was soon explained by the train men after their arrival here, and from them it was learned that a steam thresher engine had broken down on the track about three miles east of Shelton, and all efforts to get the track clear proved fruitless until after a delay of over two hours had been caused to the train. What had become of the train was a mystery for the time being and caused considerable uneasiness on the part of the railroad employees as well as to people who had friends on the train. It is not often that an entire railroad train is lost, but this was indeed an occasion of that kind.

Republican City Convention.

The republican electors of the city of North Platte are requested to elect delegates to a city convention to be held at the court house on Saturday evening, March 16th, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for Mayor, City Clerk, City Treasurer, City Engineer and Police Judge; also two candidates for members of the Board of Education. The basis of representation is one delegate for each twenty votes or major fraction thereof cast for presidential electors in the election of 1900, which gives the following representation in the convention: First ward..... 5 Second ward..... 13 Third ward..... 6 It is recommended that the ward caucuses be held on Friday evening, March 15th, at 7:30 o'clock at the usual voting places, and that each caucus nominate a candidate for councilman for its respective ward. BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

We understand that J. W. Liles will dress S. L. Funkhouser's residence near Hershey up with a new coat of paint soon.

J. V. Robinson delivered 666 pounds of milk at the Nichols creamery on Monday and Charles Tillion 550 pounds, with several others ranging from 50 to 400 pounds.

Mrs. S. L. Funkhouser is reported as quiet ill at this time. Wm. Ware had a fine milch cow die a few days ago from a cause unknown.

There were 5,898 pounds of milk delivered at the Nichols creamery on Monday.

Ed. Stone at Hershey lost a cow last week from some unknown disease.

Mrs. Fanny Brooks of Nichols received the sad intelligence on Tuesday of the death of her brother H. D. Rodgers on March 7th 1901, aged 78 years and five months.

Al. Seibert of Cheyenne visited relatives at Hershey Tuesday.

Elmer Edmisten returned from Kansas via the B. & M. with one hundred head of two year old steers.

J. B. Tillion, Jr., will pasture the Feeken land this season near Nichols that R. W. Calhoun pastured last season.

While in the village of Hershey the other day and having plenty of time we concluded to take in the town. The first place we visited was Ware & Co.'s new store where we found a spacious room well filled with all kinds of first-class merchandise at prices that can not be duplicated in this county. After putting a nickle in the slot and drawing a crook cigar we took a bee line east and after falling over a dog in which Hershey abounds we picked ourselves up amid the cheers of several small boys and pulling up to M. Mickelsen's department store where we found each place complete in its line with prices as low as the lowest. After dropping a nickle in the slot we departed with a B cigar for Dr. Eves office which we found vacant because he was out in the country attending a patient. The next place we visited was the post-office where we spied Postmaster Prickett seated in an easy chair smoking his pipe of peace and patiently awaiting the arrival of No. 5, which was about two hours late, with the morning mail. From there we made a break for the Carpenter livery barn where he was just making ready to drive two traveling men to Sutherland and one to North Platte. Then we struck for the north side where W. W. Youngs hardware store and coal and lumber yard is located with W. H. Hill as manager.

We had no difficulty there in soon ascertaining that everything usually kept in those lines were there and at rock bottom prices we struck the trail from there for Seeberger & Co. office where we found D. M. Leyoldt figuring up his profits on a carload of hay and E. F. Seeberger calculating on how many ducks a good shot ought to get in twenty-four hours with the wind blowing at fifty miles an hour from the northwest. From there we went to the depot where we found Agent Limpus busy with his every day employment. After the above visit we started for the south side, just missing a light extra composed of a man pushing a cart loaded with coal. We landed safely at A. A. Leister's blacksmith and wagon shop where we found him and his brother Will both so busy that they could not stop even to talk. Then we drifted into G. W. Brown's department store where he seemed quite busy attending to the wants of customers. Feeling at this time somewhat weary and hungry we stepped into C. E. McClain's boarding house where we filled up for 25 cents, after which we quietly departed from the town.
