Mystery of a Lost Ring

Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.

The main incident of this story was given me for a fact.

The loss of Sophie Brock's engagement ring was a mystery. Less than a week after Clarence Howes had given it to her she went to bed one night with it on her finger, and when she woke up in the morning it was gone.

There was no evidence of burglary except that the ash of a window in Sophie's room, which had been closed when she went to bed, was found in the morning raised.

The persons in the house besides the servants were Sophie's father, mother, a younger brother, aged ten, and her cousin, Winifred Loomis, about her own age.

When Sophie told her lover of her loss she intimated she believed that for some unknown reason Winifred had coveted the ring and had yielded to a temptation to take it off her finger while she slept.

What we fear we are apt to bring to pass. Howes was a manly fellow, and the moment suspicion, which he considered unjust, was thrown upon Winifred he became interested in her and in the solution of the mystery by which she suffered.

Of all social conditions the most exasperating is one involving things known and not spoken. Howes knew that he was suspected of being on terms with Winifred that were not acceptable to his fiancée.

Howes received a brief note from Sophie breaking her engagement without giving any reason. It drew color to his cheek and a flash to his eye.

One night she awoke suddenly from sleep. The full moon was shining into the room, and by its light she saw her cousin in her room standing before a mirror combing her hair.

While Winifred lay awake she thought. The loss of the ring must be in some way connected with this somnambulism. Might not her cousin have dropped the ring in the room or out the window?

This was in midsummer. One day in October the gardener was pulling up some withered vegetable stalks in the kitchen garden in the rear yard and found the missing ring.

The explanation came too late to effect a reconciliation between Sophie Brock and Clarence Howes. He married Winifred Loomis.

Poor Air and Poor Living.

When Jim Bridger, the one time famous scout of the plains, grew old he thought he would like to retire from the somewhat arduous life of a plainsman and settle down to the ease of "the east," which to him meant Missouri.

A year or two passed, and one day Captain Russell, the commandant of the post which Bridger had left, was surprised to see the old scout heave in sight.

"Well, Bridger, what brings you back here?"

"Captain," said Bridger, "I want to go back to scouting again."

"Indeed? Why, I thought you had settled down in the east for the rest of your life!"

"Well, cap'n, I'll tell you how it is. I went back to old Missouri, and if you'll believe it they've got a railroad station within ten miles of the old place—yes, sir, a railroad station! And, what's more, they've got a ranch now in every four miles. I tell you what, cap'n, the air ain't pure down there no more!"

"Is that possible? But I thought you'd like the good things to eat they have down there. You like good things to eat, I remember."

"Good things to eat! Why, cap'n, I didn't have a briled beaver tail the whole time I was there!"

The First Cookbook.

To the Romans belong the honor of having produced the first European cookery book, and though the authorship is uncertain, it is generally attributed to Caelius Apicius, who lived under Trajan, 114 A. D.

The second recipe shows the same queer mixture of ingredients: "Take a wheelbarrow of rose leaves and pound in a mortar; add to it brains of two pigs and two thrushes boiled and mixed with the chopped yoke of egg, oil, vinegar, pepper and wine. Mix and pour these together and stew them steadily and slowly till the perfume is developed."

Which Foot Walks Faster?

You may think this a very silly question to ask, but it isn't. It is a simple, demonstrable fact, which you can prove to your own satisfaction in a very few minutes.

Why Not Be an Egotist?

There is much mistaken sentiment as to the sin of egotism. The fact is egotism is not a sin. On the other hand, it is somewhat of a virtue and an indispensable element in all real progress.

LEGAL NOTICE.

To Nathaniel E. Martin, defendant: You are hereby notified that on the 15th day of October, 1908, John C. Dewey, plaintiff, filed his petition in the district court of Lincoln county, Nebraska, against Nathaniel E. Martin, as defendant, to quiet title in the plaintiff in the northeast quarter (NE 1/4) of Section Fourteen (14), Township Nine (9) North, Range Thirty-four (34) west of the Principal Meridian in Lincoln county, Nebraska; that during the month of December, 1898, one Nicholas Scullen, who was then owner of said premises, with his wife Scullen, made, executed and delivered to one Nathaniel E. Martin a mortgage upon said premises to secure an indebtedness of $60.00 that said mortgage was recorded in the county clerk's office of Lincoln county, Nebraska, in Book 6 of Mortgages at Page 189; that said mortgage has long since been paid, but through mistake or neglect still remains of record and unsatisfied and casts a cloud upon the title of said premises; that said mortgage became due on the 6th day of December, 1891, and more than ten years have elapsed since it became due and if unpaid is barred by the statutes of limitation.

The plaintiff is the owner and in possession of said premises and the object and prayer of said petition is to have said mortgage cancelled and discharged from the records of the county clerk's office of Lincoln county, Nebraska, and that said title to said premises be quieted in the plaintiff and for such other and further relief as equity may require. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 7th day of December, 1908. Dated this 19th day of October, 1908. JOHN C. DEWEY, Plaintiff. By L. E. BOACH, His Attorney.
