The Firemen's Ball.

The firemen's twenty-second annual ball last evening was attended by a very large crowd; not only were the galleries crowded beyond the seating capacity with spectators, but the floor was filled with as many as could dance with convenience. The ball opened with a concert by Hart's orchestra, several selections being well rendered, and this was followed by the grand march led by Thos. E. Jeffers, chief of the department. The twenty-six numbers on the program were danced with a zeal that indicated thorough enjoyment by the participants, and it was about 3:30 when the final dance ended.

Through the efforts of J. J. Baden and Ed Paul an innovation in electrical display was made possible, consisting of intermittent lights from wires strung across the ends and dropping from the center of the hall, red and green bulbs being used. This gave a very pretty affect. A strong "spot light" was also used on the stage, which was focused at the will of the operator.

The attendants were largely representative young people of the city, and the affair throughout was conducted as nicely as the most critical could desire, and so smoothly as to reflect credit upon the boys forming the several committees. It was, as one young lady said, "as nicely conducted as any ball she had attended in North Platte" and she had attended many.

BRATT & GOODMAN.

Public Notice.

During the past few weeks a tragedy on right and justice has been enacted and who is accountable? Judge ye. It will be remembered that we had something to say on the subject some time ago and at that time the board of health inserted the following in both papers, The Tribune and The Telegraph: "Sec. 6. Art. 7, Chap. 55, Revised Statutes of Nebraska 1903, grants authority to the Nebraska state board of health to make rules relative to the control of contagious, infectious and epidemic diseases and a fine of from ten ($10) to one hundred ($100) dollars is imposed upon anyone convicted of failing, neglecting or refusing to enforce such rules. The ordinances of our local city government are in harmony with the state board's regulations."

"In particular the rules require that that diphtheria (membranous croup) scarlet fever, scarletina or scarlet rash, be quarantined for (35) thirty-five days. Local boards of health are required to act accordingly and the board of health of the city of North Platte will carry out its instructions without variation or favor."

Now for examples of how it has been carried out:

Mrs. Baggett's home was quarantined five weeks for diphtheria.

Miss Blake's home was quarantined five weeks for diphtheria.

Mr. Kaban's house was quarantined five weeks for scarlet fever.

Another physician was supposed to have seven or eight cases of diphtheria and here is how the law was administered in his first three cases.

Mrs. W. T. Wilcox's home quarantined twenty-two days for diphtheria.

Jesse Edward's home quarantined for two weeks for diphtheria.

Mr. Walker quarantined eighteen days for diphtheria.

Any variation or favor here! Why did the local board of health look on and never question? Surely they must have thought that they were supposed cases, but why they were so critical when your humble servant had one case of true diphtheria, and so composed in the presence of seven or eight? To me it certainly is a problem. It looks too much like discrimination.

It certainly is high time that people have equal rights in these matters before the law, and when money and influence and the ring do not figure; when the poor and the rich will have things in common in the interest of health and the prevention of disease. For after all "one touch of nature has made us all kin", and without doubt we are our brother's keeper, and ought to remember the injunction "to do as we are done by". Therefore if it were right to quarantine the three former cases five weeks it was a flagrant injustice to the former and to the community to allow the three latter out sooner than the time specified by law; except that it was not diphtheria.

Respectfully Yours,
J. S. TWINEM, M. D.

Dickey Brothers have just completed installing an ice cream making plant with a capacity of 500 gallons in ten hours. The apparatus is of the latest pattern, and though the cream is frozen rapidly it is very smooth. It enables the packing to be done with but little handling, thus insuring more perfect sanitation. The firm expects to engage in cream making on a wholesale scale, and have already established agencies in adjoining towns.

It is when you have a frightened team and a jolting road that our carriages stand out so strongly. Better get one so that if you do have a runaway you'll have a carriage that will stand the test.

Manager Stamp, of the Keith theatre, who will soon install a moving picture show, will give Lowell's band a benefit the opening night. The band is endeavoring to secure funds with which to purchase uniforms and new music, and we feel sure that this proposed benefit will attract the attendance of an audience that will pack the theatre. The band needs new music for the concerts to be given during the summer and as these concerts are free to all, everybody ought to be willing to "chip in" and raise the funds needed. The local band is one of the best in the state, and it should receive more encouragement from our citizens.
