Only twenty-four days until Christmas, which is none too long to prepare for what has become our most elaborate festival. It is the wise man or woman who begins to make his purchases early; he or she has the advantage of stocks that have not been picked over. Our merchants have their Christmas goods on hand, and they will all be glad to sell you now and lay your purchases aside until such time as you desire.

Switchman Spurgeon sustained a badly wrenched knee Sunday night while at work in the yards. He attempted to get on a caboose, when either the step broke or he made a misstep, and was thrown to the ground. Luckily he managed to roll away from the rails and escaped injury from the wheels of the following cars.

Perhaps Not Till 1911.

When the Burlington has worked out its low grade freight line problems in Wyoming, connecting the links that will give it a new line to the far northwest via the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern from Billings or some other nearby junction, then there will be a demand for the Nebraska connection and the line from Kearney will be built, via North Platte and on to Northport. It is said that the line between Thermopolis and Powder River, Wyo., may be ready for use by January 1, 1911. By that time other links may be supplied and the company may then be ready to start on the Platte valley line. The Thermopolis Record, a Wyoming paper, says contracts have been let for sixty-five miles of this work and that the time for completion is set for Sept. 1, next. It is doubted whether this early completion is possible—Lincoln Journal.

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by Stone's Drug Co.

Revival Services Close.

The revival services conducted by Rev. Johnson at the Christian Church closed Sunday evening. During these meetings there were thirty-one conversions. Rev. Johnson has accepted a call to become the pastor of the church for an indefinite period. His evangelistic work proved him a power in the pulpit, and it is reasonable to presume that the good work he has done will continue during his pastorate and that the church will be strengthened along all lines.

Conrad Anderson Married.

The Tribune in advertently omitted to mention the marriage of Conrad Anderson, of this city, and Miss Pearl Haywood, of Kearney, which occurred at Lexington November 20th, Rev. Gaither performing the ceremony in the Rosenberg hardware store, where Guy Robinson is employed. In speaking of the wedding the Lexington Pioneer says: While the groom was securing the license it leaked out that there was to be a wedding, and when the ceremony took place a large crowd collected in front of the store which awaited the bride and groom and showered them with rice and shoes as they passed down the street.

New Physicians Arrive.

Doctors Redfield and McKirahan, who will open a physicians and surgeons hospital in the Lamb block in the third ward, arrived from Grand Island yesterday and expect to have the hospital ready for patients by the end of this week. In speaking of these two physicians the Grand Island Independent says: Friends were surprised to learn that Drs. Redfield & McKirahan have decided to locate at North Platte. They had intended starting up a physician and surgeons hospital in this city but in looking over the situation decided that North Platte offered a better opportunity in this line. Both Dr. Redfield, who is the grand medical examiner of the A. O. U. W., and Dr. McKirahan have made many friends in the city who regret to see them leave. Dr. Redfield came to this city several months ago from Wood River where he practiced for a number of years.

Myron Hart, employed as a conductor out of this city, died at four o'clock Sunday morning at Mrs. Simpson's lodging house from pneumonia. Last Wednesday he went out on his run to Sidney, but feeling badly, dead-headed back the following day and upon arrival home Dr. McCabe was summoned, who pronounced him suffering from pneumonia. The patient continued to grow worse, although an hour before dissolution occurred death was not so soon anticipated.

The deceased was about forty years of age and leaves a wife, but no children. A brother arrived from the east Sunday evening, and that night the remains were taken to Rock Island for interment. Mr. Hart was a member of the O. R. C., and members of the local division made the necessary arrangements for the care and shipment of the body.

The united mine-workers of America will attempt to raise $100,000, as a permanent relief fund for the widows and orphans of the victims of the Cherry, Ill., mine disaster, it was announced today. President Lewis estimates there are one thousand children who have been made homeless. While the red cross society is attending to immediate needs of the destitute families at Cherry, Mr. Lewis believes a fund should be raised for the care of the children in the future. It is the plan Mr. Lewis says, to have the fund held in trust by the committee for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the Cherry disaster.

Publicity for Trusts.

Apart from all the legal phases of the question, one rock upon which Standard Oil has broken is its long policy of persistent secrecy. Here is a monstrously big corporation doing business all over the world and yet it never makes public any statement of its earnings whatsoever.

Standard Oil has been earning net $80,000,000 or more every year, but no one, not even its own stockholders except a few high ones knows how. A defiance of public sentiment for many years brought around the Standard antagonisms such as other and even larger concerns, like the United States steel, do not suffer.

Steel's managers saw the vital mistake made by oil's managers in their policy of extreme secrecy and went the limit the other way. Publicity has been a characteristic feature of United States steel, and its quarterly reports go into the fullest details.

The people like to see and know what is going on. They may not read annual reports, but they want the opportunity to do so. Standard Oil would never let even Wall street look into its books sufficiently to have the shares listed on the stock exchange.

We believe that trust managers will some day learn, what others know already, that publicity is their safety and not a peril.—Philadelphia Press.
