Married Last Evening.

In the presence of sixty guests, Miss Mary Elizabeth Strahorn was united in marriage last evening at 8:30 to George Aubrey Zentmeyer at the home of the bride's parents on west Second street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Williams, and the ring service of the Presbyterian church was used. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Herma Zentmeyer, of Schuyler, sister of the groom, the wedding party entered the parlor, the bride on the arm of her father and attended by Miss Bessie Salisbury as maid, followed by the groom with Mr. McCoy, of Omaha, as best man. The bride wore a simple gown of white mulle and lace and carried bride's roses, and the maid a gown of white and pink organdie and carried pink roses.

The house was prettily decorated with white and pink carnations, and following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, the Misses Sorenson, McKay, Johnson and Ritner serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Zentmeyer left on a night train for a three weeks' visit in Omaha and Schuyler, and upon their return will be "at home" in the Baker house north of the Episcopal church.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Porter, of Dodge, Miss Irish of Cozad and three young lady sisters of the groom.

The bride is one of North Platte's most accomplished and popular girls; one who has grown from childhood to womanhood in our midst. Graduating from the high school with the class of '04, she supplemented this education with a four year course at the state university. Bright and attractive, and a favorite in social and church circles the groom is certainly to be congratulated. Mr. Zentmeyer is a young man of sterling worth who for some time past has been in the service of the Union Pacific as chief train dispatcher. Best wishes are extended.

The Park Banquet.

Omaha Bee: Vice-President William L. Park of the Illinois Central railroad was banqueted Wednesday night at the Omaha Club by his former associates of the Union Pacific and was heralded as the man who grew up with the great Overland route, starting as a boy freight brakeman and ending as the general superintendent.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated with carnations and palms, and directly over the place at the head of the table, where Mr. Park was seated were two American flags hanging from a buffalo's head. The menu cards were elaborate with a photograph of the former general superintendent on the front and a picture of the Union Pacific station at North Platte on the back cover, representing the place Mr. Park first went to work for the Harriman system. These opening paragraphs were followed by a list of the addresses and the name of those present, which included nearly all of the Union Pacific officials.
