KNOWLEDGE and timber shouldn't be much used till they are seasoned.

"Knowledge in an uncommon degree is what the world calls wisdom."

Some More About Rice.

Rice is a cheap food and should be served often in the home. There are any number of ways of serving it so that one need never tire of monotony. Served plain, seasoned with butter and salt, it takes the place of a vegetable at dinner, and if well cooked is most acceptable this way.

A dainty dessert of rice and cream is made as follows:

Rice and Almond Cream.

Blanch one-half cupful of almonds, cut in strips or chop fine. Put them into a double boiler with three cups of milk, one-fourth cup of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and when hot add one cup of well-washed rice. Cook until the rice is tender. When ready to serve fill sherbet glasses half full of the rice, add a teaspoonful of apple jelly, then fill with thick whipped cream and another bit of jelly on the top.

Rice gems are very nice and economical for one can use the cold cooked rice left over. Beat one egg, add one cupful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of baking powder, and one cupful milk, and one cupful of cooked rice. Bake as gems.

Chicken and Rice, Spanish Style.

Cut up a chicken as for fricassee, in a deep frying pan put half a cup of olive oil and heat, gradually adding two bruised cloves of garlic. When the garlic begins to color lay in the chicken and turn several times until a golden brown all over; add two sweet red peppers cut in strips, two white onions sliced. When the onions are yellow add four large tomatoes, peeled and quartered, and one-half cup of well-washed rice, and sufficient stock or water to cover. Simmer until the rice is tender, adding salt and more stock as needed. Serve very hot.

Scrambled Eggs With Rice.

Take one cupful of cold cooked rice, put in a saucepan with two table-spoonfuls of water, cook very slowly, stirring constantly. Season with salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of worcestershire sauce. Serve on toast.

"I ALWAYS think she must have a wonderfully active liver," said a clever woman, speaking of a friend, "for she is never given to reproachful spells. She never to my knowledge, has imagined herself to be wronged."

Tasty Dishes Easily Prepared.

Roast the rump end of a loin of mutton and cover it with two sheets of buttered paper; roast two hours. Have ready some French beans, boiled tender and well drained. After the mutton has been removed heat them in the gravy and serve as a bed for the meat.

Italian Stew.

Fry a slice of salt pork, brown in the fat three pounds of beef for a pot roast. Add to the meat four onions, six tomatoes, a bunch of sweet herbs and parsley, and a tablespoonful of salt, cover and stew four or five hours on the back of the stove. The cover should be tight and never allow the contents to get above the simmering point.

Banana Snow.

Take six ripe bananas, slice and mash as fine as possible. Add the juice of a lemon, the white of one egg and whip to a cream. The longer you whip the more banana snow you have. After a thorough beating add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat until the sugar is dissolved. When ready to serve decorate with English walnuts. Raspberries, strawberries or any kind of fruit may be used.

Household Hints.

Keep a couple of pairs of old stocking legs to draw on over the sleeves while laking and frying. They will save burns and blisters if pulled down over the hand when reaching into the oven. Holders made of old stocking legs are very satisfactory.

Fried Potatoes, New Style.

Put the potatoes peeled, through the coarse cutter of the meat chopper, or chop about the size of a large pea. Season well and turn into a smoking hot frying pan, in which there is sufficient hot fat to grease the bottom generously. Do not stir until well-browned, then cover and set on the back part of the stove to finish cooking, and roll out on the platter as an omelet when serving. This is one of the nicest and most attractive ways of serving fried potatoes. Garnish with parsley if desired.

A perfectly delicious breakfast dish is baked mackerel. If the fresh can not be obtained see that it is well-freshened. Put in the oven with a little water in the pan to parboil. Ten minutes before serving pour over a cupful of good thick, sweet cream and you have a dish "fit for the gods."

JOY comes, grief goes, we know not how; Everything is happy now. Everything is upward striving; 'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true As for the grass to be green or skies to be blue— 'Tis the natural way of living.

Some Company Dishes.

A very appetizing way to serve cheese for any meal is to use the following rule: Take one cake of cream cheese, one cup of grated New York cheese, mix well with thick cream and half a cup of stuffed olives, season with salt and cayenne pepper and form in a roll. Decorate with thin slices of the olives and serve on a dainty plate on a dolly, each guest serving himself by cutting a slice with a small butter spreader laid on the plate.

A dainty dessert, easy to prepare for the unexpected guest, is prepared by adding marshmallows cut in quarters with shears, a few blanched, shredded or chopped almonds stirred into sweetened whipped cream. Decorate with candied cherries, ginger or cubes of bright jelly. Serve in sherbet glasses.

A delicious sandwich is made by mixing chopped almonds (blanched) with a boiled salad dressing, just enough to spread nicely. Butter the bread, then add the filling. For a sweet sandwich nothing is daintier than grated maple sugar and walnuts chopped and browned in a very little butter, adding enough cream to mix well.

Onion and Bean Puree.

Take a cup of cooked beans of any kind, baked will do; pour a pint of cold water or macaroni, or rice water over them. Mince a good sized onion fine, add salt and the onion to the soup, and simmer until smooth; rub through a sieve, then add a table-spoonful of butter and half a table-spoonful of flour and a cupful of milk, cook together, pour in the puree, add a dash of paprika and a little minced parsley. In the bottom of each soup plate lay a thin slice of lemon. Serve with croûtons made by buttering a slice of bread, cut in cubes and brown in the oven, or without using butter, fry in deep fat until brown.

Such a soup is sufficient with a little bread and butter and some preserves or fruit for an evening meal.

Cheap and nourishing soups are worth spending time looking up.

Griddled Eggs.

Heat the griddle, butter lightly and range small buttered muffin rings on it. Drop an egg in each and turn as soon as lightly browned. They resemble fried eggs, but are more delicate.

Veal and Sweet Potatoes.

Get the inexpensive cut of veal from the breast. Have the ribs cracked and a pocket made in the tissue which lies between them and the fleshy covering. Fill the pocket with stuffing made of two cups of breadcrumbs, two minced onions and salt and cayenne. Dredge the meat with flour and pack around it a sufficient number of sweet or Irish potatoes. Baste during the roasting, adding a pint of water to the pan.

Armenian Rice Pilau.

Cook one-half cup of rice until tender, salt and pour over the rice two table-spoonfuls of melted butter in which one table-spoonful of onion has been cooked, add half a pound of chopped meat and cook. When nearly done add a few walnut meats. Serve hot.

Problem of Cost of Living.

In discussing the problem of the assistant professor in American universities, in science, Prof. Guido H. Marx of Stanford university says: "The rapid increase in the cost of living in the past 20 years has made the situation acute; for there has been no general increase of salaries commensurate with this, and as a consequence these men find themselves driven to a lower and lower standard of living. This is a grave menace to the efficiency of the institution both present and future, for it must not be forgotten that the highest ranks must be recruited from time to time from men whose development has necessarily been limited by the conditions surrounding this rank."

A Speedy Fault.

WOMEN'S ILLS.

Many women who suffer with back-ache, bearing-down pain, headaches and nervousness do not know that these ailments are usually due to trouble with the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills remove the cause.

Mrs. Joseph Cross, Church St., Morrilton, Ark., says: "For weeks I was bent double by pain in my back and the kidney secretions were profuse. My feet and ankles were badly swollen and I had headaches and dizzy spells. Six doctors treated me without relief and I finally began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me."

Diplomacy.

Here is a story about a diplomatic negro waiter; also about two well-known Kansas men, who can go by the names of Smith and Jones, just to tell the yarn.

Smith and Jones look much alike and are frequently taken for each other. One day Smith was in a certain big hotel not a thousand miles from Kansas City and went into the dining room for dinner. The negro waiter busily brushed off the crumbs and said: "Why, how is you, Mr. Jones, how is you? I'm glad to see you. I hasn't seen you since I waited on your table when you all used to have a little game upstairs."

"I'm afraid you are mistaken," said Smith, very quickly. "My name isn't Jones. You have the wrong man."

"Nuff said; nuff said," smiled the negro, with much bowing and scraping. "Ah knows all right when to keep mah mouf shet; Ah knows all right, Mr. Jones."—Kansas City Journal.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

"A cape is land extending into the water."

"Correct. William, define a gulf."

Christopher shot up from his seat so suddenly as to startle the teacher, and promptly responded: "A mountain is land extending into the air."
