

Wedding Bells.

A few days ago we advertised, referring to our friends who did not believe in "No Wedding Bells for Me," and to our surprise there were more diamonds sold than we had any idea would be called for.

Now all these happy ones will soon be united, and at home you are already asking, "What shall we give So-and-So for their wedding gift?"

This question is asked so often each year, and when it comes down to decision, your jeweler is usually the one to receive a visit.

Now some jewelers do not think of looking out for this, but will let you select from what they have in stock—possibly for years—and when you send your gift it is an old style piece.

We have each year given this occasion earnest study, and are prepared to satisfy the most fastidious taste.

All that we ask of you is to favor us with a call and feast your eyes on the beautiful assortment of new

The members of the vestry and the rector of the Episcopal church together with their wives were very pleasantly entertained Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Douglas and Arthur Boyd at the home of the former. The presence of the ladies was in the nature of a surprise, for at nine o'clock after the men had finished the business matters, the ladies who had previously gathered at the P. J. Gilman residence, walked in on their unsuspecting husbands. Enjoyable refreshments consisting of two courses were served at a late hour.

We do not have complaint in our hosiery department since we have been selling Armor Plate Stockings. They give long, satisfactory service. Same price but more wear. SMALL, The Big Shoeman.

Now that we are to have a democratic congress, we have a right to expect the railroads to at once construct proposed lines. The cry has been that on account of unfriendly legislation at Washington, proposed lines of road would not be built; but now that the democrats are to be in the saddle this fear will vanish, for the democratic party was never known to pass laws unfriendly to corporations. We confidently expect work on the Burlington's Platte valley line to begin early next spring.

Frederick Thompson's "Polly of the Circus" will be the attraction at the Keith this Friday evening. It will be presented here with Miss Ida St. Leon in the titular role, supported by all the important members of the original "Polly of the Circus" Company. The third act reproduction of a big tent show performance, while it could hardly be made more realistic than it has always been, will have added features to lend to its attractiveness. Among the circus acts will be the famous Barlow Troupe of Performing Ponies and Dogs.

Destroyed by Fire.

The Inman home in the Plattview sub-division was burned to the ground Tuesday together with the greater part of the furniture.

The alarm was sounded shortly before midnight and was promptly responded to by the fire companies but the flames by that time had gained such headway that little or nothing could be done and only a few articles of furniture could be removed from the burning building, a piano being among the pieces burned.

Early in the evening a blaze originated in the house in some unknown manner but the blaze it was supposed was put out by members of the family. On account of the odor of varnish in the house from work which was being done the family retired for the night in a small movable house which stood apart from the new house and during the night the fire again sprung up and before they became aware of it the house was completely enveloped in flames. The home had only recently been built and was covered by insurance.

Majority Favor County Option

The majority given Aldrich in Lincoln county—about 500—can be taken as evidence that a majority of the people of the county are in favor of county option, and that if the proposition is submitted to the voters it will carry. There is little question but that the issue in the state was county option—republicans who are opposed to county option voted for Dahman and democrats who favor the measure voted for Aldrich.
