LOST FAITH IN WHITE MAN

Eskimo Tested Efficacy of Telephone Scheme, and Realized He Had Been Deceived.

An interesting story is told regarding the efforts of an Eskimo to construct a telephone line. The Eskimo came into possession of a piece of wire of considerable length and never having seen wire before he asked Professor McMillan of the Peary north pole expedition what it was and what it was for. He was told that the white man strung it on poles stuck in the ground and a voice talking to an instrument at one end could be heard at the other end. After some search the next morning the Eskimo was found to be engaged in telephone construction work of his own. He stuck some sticks in the ground and hung his wire on them. He held one end of the wire to his mouth and talked to it at the top of his voice. Then he ran as fast as he could to the other end and held the wire to his ear with the expectation of hearing his own words repeated.

When he failed to hear any sounds the expression on his face revealed his opinion of his white friend.

To the Childish Mind.
Dorothy Ullman of E. Eighty-fourth street, is a very literal young person. To her mother's definition of the All-Seeing Eye she returned a question as to the size of the eye.

"Can God see everything?" she continued.

"Yes, dear. He can see everything, at all times."
That afternoon Dorothy escorted her mother down town. Before an optician's display she stopped. Then, "Mother," she asked, pointing to the eye winking eye in the window: "Is God's eye as big as this?"—Cleveland Leader.

Difficult to Answer.
Explaining the happenings of the sixth day of the creation, Miss Frances Hartz read to her Sabbath school class: "And the Lord God formed man out of the dust of the ground."

"Well," spoke up one kid, "that's nothin' new. Did he put him in the sun to dry, the way we do our mud pies?"

Miss Hartz discreetly slurred the answer and proceeded with her lesson.—Cleveland Leader.

FEED YOUNG GIRLS Must Have Right Food While Growing.

Great care should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just merging into womanhood that the diet shall contain that which is upbuilding and nothing harmful. At that age the structure is being formed and if formed of a healthy, sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervene which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic condition and cause life-long suffering.

A young lady says: "Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago that I finally quit using it. It brought on headaches, pains in my muscles, and nervousness."

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk at my meals, but at last it palled on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum."

"I did so, only to find at first, that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had it made right—according to directions on the package—I found it grateful in flavour and soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I owe to Postum!"

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches, nervousness, the pains in my side and back, all the distressing symptoms yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition; it seems keener, more alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than for a long while before, and I am sure I owe it to the use of your Postum." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason."
Every read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

AEROPLANE BUILT ESPECIALLY TO CARRY WOMEN

King and Two Fair Passengers

RECOGNIZING the great interest that women are taking in aviation, Charles G. King has invented and built an aeroplane designed especially to carry members of the fair sex up to the clouds. Lightness, roominess and strength are said to be its chief characteristics, and it offers ample accommodation for one or two feminine passengers.

PIG ENJOYS ITS RIDE

Dressed as Baby Is Taken From Newark to New York.

Owner Carries Little Porker in Her Arms and Successfully Deceives Conductors—Stuffed Squeal Betrays Secret.

New York.—If it hadn't been for a stifled squeal and a very piglike wriggle the taxicab driver would never have known that one of his fares wasn't human. In fact, the chauffeur rubbed his eyes several times before it finally dawned on him that Mrs. Marie Watson's traveling companion was a pig instead of a baby.

The chauffeur wasn't to blame for being deceived, for several conductors had made the same mistake. They don't know even now that the bundle Mrs. Watson carried so tenderly in her arms was not a baby at all, in spite of its baby cap and fluffy little coat and the milk bottle which Mrs. Watson produced every now and then on her ride from Newark.

Mrs. Watson, as almost every vaudeville performer knows, is the wife of Sam Watson, who has a barnyard circus. One of the star performers was a wee pig, but it got so fat that Mrs. Watson decided that another pig would have to join the show, one that she could hold in her arms without straining her muscles.

After some correspondence she found what she wanted in the pig line on a farm just outside of Newark. The pig's owner agreed to sell free on board at Newark, but not Manhattan.

Mrs. Watson and her husband went into conference to decide how to get the pig here.

"Leave it to me," said Mrs. Watson. "I'll just bring the pig over on the train."

Her husband suggested that pigs were not allowed on passenger trains. But Mrs. Watson knew what she was talking about.

"Leave it to me," she repeated, and Mr. Watson did so.

Mrs. Watson made the trip to Newark the other day and met the farmer and his pig. Mrs. Watson whispered a few words of pig language in the little fellow's ear and proceeded to dress him up in baby attire. The cap was a cute affair of muslin and baby chiffon, with a near-blue ribbon at the tip. The baby coat was also blue, as was a blanket which Mrs. Watson had provided. When the dressing was finished the farmer departed chuckling over the transformation.

With the pig in her arms Mrs. Watson proceeded to the Newark station of the Pennsylvania railroad and boarded a train for Jersey City. The pig wasn't making a sound. Perhaps it was because of those few whispered words of pig language of which Mrs. Watson says she has a smattering. Perhaps it was a bottle of milk which the pig tipped now and then. Anyhow no one on the train imagined that it was anything else than a very quiet and well-behaved baby that Mrs. Watson was carrying in her arms.

At Jersey City Mrs. Watson and her charge proceeded to the Hudson Tunnel station. While waiting for a tunnel train an elderly man suggested to Mrs. Watson that she had better stand well back from the edge of the platform.

"You know these drafts are very bad for babies," said the elderly gentleman. Mrs. Watson smiled and thanked the solicitous old man. Never once during the trip to Manhattan did the pig betray himself.

CARING FOR "ONLY" CHILD

Vienna Professor Finds Only Thirteen Out of One Hundred Are Fully Normal.

Vienna.—After a study of the problem of the "only child" extending over several years, Prof. J. Friedjung of the Society of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics has made public the result of his observations. He had under examination 100 "only" children, of whom 445 were boys and 55 girls. They range in age from two to ten years.

Each had been raised in a family where there were no other children, and therefore had been subjected to the kind of domestic isolation that accompanies those conditions.

Of the 100 children 18 were severely neuropathic and 69 manifested less marked symptoms of nervous instability. Only 13 of the youngsters, according to Dr. Friedjung, were fully normal. He set off these observations against another set of studies made among families consisting of several offspring. Of these only 31 showed neuropathic symptoms.

Fear was the strongest symptom in 75 of the 87 neuropathic "only children." They were hysterical in their nature. Forty-nine had restless sleep and 8 were subject to more marked symptoms.

Unusual mental ability and waywardness, the professor reports, seem to go hand in hand in the case of children. Of the neuroathetics, 32 showed malnutrition to a remarkable degree.

The "only" child, says Friedjung, gets its morbid manifestations from the excess of tender care lavished upon it. Its parents spoil it, they take away its sentiments of self-reliance, and in this way they unconsciously encourage the child never to develop unduly. A certain amount of knocking about and hardships and necessity for self-reliance is imperatively demanded, this investigator says, otherwise a child will grow into a nambypamby, a nervous molly-coddle.

On this account, as well as because of the menace to the race through the limitation of population to "only" children, Friedjung urges that every family should possess several children.

SEE SAHARA IN DIRIGIBLE

Doctor Siegert Hopes to Prove That "King Solomon's Mines" Are Not Entirely Legendary.

Berlin.—Doctor Siegert is actively engaged in preliminary preparations to cross the great desert of Sahara in a dirigible balloon. Prominent geographers and meteorologists are helping him in his scientific calculations and his choice of an airship. Count de la Vaux, the famous French aeronaut, had the same purpose a few years ago, but gave it up because airships had not sufficient protection against the sun's rays. Doctor Siegert confidently expects to make the trip he has laid out—about 950 miles—in 34 hours. His aerial vessel's engines will give the craft a speed of 18 1/2 miles an hour; besides, Doctor Siegert is counting on 12 miles an hour more by the wind.

To the unimaginative the Sahara is only an illimitable, and waste, but from it have come legends of buried cities of incalculable antiquity and tales of immense, hidden hordes. Doctor Siegert wishes to clear up the mystery surrounding the expedition of Browne, the English explorer of a hundred years ago, and to investigate the romantic story of Rholfs, who found traces of a great road running out in the desert until the sand obliterated them. What lies beyond that lost track? Whether did that great highway lead, and of what character were the people who constructed it?

These questions, which have been put so often, are supposed to have inspired the plot of Rider Haggard's romance, "King Solomon's Mines;" at any rate, they appear to Doctor Siegert to be well worth answering. The headquarters of this expedition will be in the Nile valley. From it the airship will sail about 310 miles to the oasis district in the desert. In an oasis a depot will have been prepared with cylinders of gas, spare screws and other fittings—everything needed to repair any damage that may have been or may be done to the craft. From the depot the dirigible will start on her real flight of more than 600 miles over the "undiscovered country." Having traversed it, Doctor Siegert will attempt either to reach the coast or to return to the Lybian oasis. The expedition's cost is estimated at $250,000.

ALL BELLS SILENT AT NIGHT

Flashlight System May Be Adopted in Richmond for Time Signals and Fire Alarm.

Richmond, Va.—City Electrician William H. Thompson the other day made the announcement of the plans of his proposed signal system to be installed upon the tower of the city hall. The system will consist of lights, whereby the hours of the night will be flashed, as well as will fire alarms and police signals.

"There will be flashlights of three colors," the Mr. Thompson explained. "The equipment will be installed in the balconies of the tower. Red lights will be used for police emergency calls, white lights for fire alarms and green lights for flashing the time of the night."

Mr. Thompson will recommend to the board of fire commissioners that the bells, which have not as yet been silenced at night, be silenced after ten or eleven o'clock and the flashlight system used instead.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES LUMBAGO

Remarkable Story About Great Remedy

I cannot refrain from writing to say that your Swamp-Root has benefited me greatly. Last year I had a severe attack of lumbago. Was bad for a long time, and on seeing your advertisement, I determined to give it a trial. I did so and in two weeks was cured. I gave a bottle to a poor woman who could scarcely walk. She came to me in four days to tell me she was all right and most thankful. I had another attack last November and was so bad that I could not rise from my chair without assistance and could hardly lace up my boots. I at once sent for more Swamp-Root and after taking two bottles, I am more than glad that I am well again. My age being seventy-three, I am the more convinced of the excellence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,

"Yes; sure it is."
"Well, ye know that bletherin' spalpeen, Widdy Castigan's second husband?"
"That I do."
"He bet me a bob to a pint of whiskey I couldn't swally an egg without breakin' the shell uv it."
"An' ye did it?"
"I did."
"Then phwats allin' ye?"
"It's doon there," laying his hand on the lower part of his waist coat.
"If I jump about I'll break it and cut me stomach wid the shell, an' if I kape quiet it'll hatch and I'll have a Shanghai rooster scratchin' me inside."

Age of Oysters.
Oysters grow only during the summer and especially during the long, warm summers at that, and are scarcely big enough for the mouth before the third year. It is easy after looking over a bunch of shells to tell how old an oyster is. A summer hump and the winter sink come across the shell every year, but after the seventh or tenth year full growth comes; then, by looking at the sinks between the humps it is hard to tell anything more about Miss Oyster's age. Oysters live to be twenty years old.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good Starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.
