COMMENCEMENT.

The fourth annual commencement of the Nemaha High school was held at Hoover's opera house last Friday night. The exercises began with an invocation by Rev. Van Fleet. Miss Emma Crim gave an instrumental solo, that was fine. Then came the oration, "Our Structure, Life," by the one graduate this year, Miss Dora Morton. It was well worded, and the ideas brought out were good. Misses Bessie Frost and Belle Galbraith gave a duet in an excellent manner. Rev. C. H. Gilmore delivered the address which was one of the best ever given here. The diploma was then presented to the graduate by the president of the board, W. W. Sanders. Modesty forbids us saying anything about the speech, but truth compels us to say that Rev. Gilmore has acted to us since then just like a man does when he is jealous of another, and he probably didn't like it because we got the most applause. Miss Maud Minick then gave a vocal solo, which was finely rendered.

Wm. H. Davenport, the principal, gave a short talk, in which some good advice was given to the school patrons in regard to visiting the school and taking an interest in school matters. Rev. C. H. Gilmore plead guilty to neglect, and by a rising vote almost every one in the audience admitted that they were also guilty, and promised to do better in the future.

The school board, teachers and graduate desire to return thanks to Miss Emma Crim for her valuable assistance with the music, to Rev. C. H. Gilmore for his address, to Miss Maud Minick, and to all others who assisted in the exercises.

Edith Gilmore, daughter of Rev. C. H. Gilmore, met with a bad accident last Sunday afternoon. She was visiting Nellie Sanders, and the two little girls were running on a board laid across a puddle of water. Edith slipped and fell on her knees on the board, and a nail ran into her leg just below the knee. The nail was a 6 penny wire nail and had been driven through the three-quarter inch board and bent over, but the sharp end was sticking up far enough to catch the flesh, and it ran in the full length of the nail, fastening her to the board. It took a hard pull to loosen her from the nail, and of course the flesh was badly lacerated. Dr. Keeling dressed the wound. He says it was the worst nail wound he ever saw. Edith suffered a great deal for several days, and was confined to her bed and chair but is able to walk around again, though she will suffer from the wound for some time yet.

Prof. Wm. H. Davenport, while laboring under great difficulties during the past year, has given the patrons of our school district most excellent service as principal. We hope he will succeed in whatever avocation he may pursue in the future. He went to St. Joe a few days ago, where we understand he has been offered a lucrative position in the stock yards, with an opportunity for rapid promotion.

County Commissioner McIninch gave us a pleasant call Thursday. He was looking after the bridges that were washed out in this district. He reports six bridges gone. The most of them have been replaced and the remainder will be rebuilt in a few days.

16 TO 1.

If you don't pay up at once, 16 chances to 1 I will go to the wall. Does that mean you? If you owe me it does. Respectfully,

M. H. TAYLOR.

H. D. Barr, agent of the Fremont Library Co. of Fremont, Neb., has been in Nemaha several days this week getting subscribers or members for a library here. The plan is to put fifty volumes in a library. At the end of three months these books are taken away and are replaced by fifty volumes of a different kind. This is kept up for five years, giving the subscribers the benefit of a library of 1000 volumes at a very small cost. The library contains such a varied assortment that all kinds of literary tastes can be suited. The cost is very low—$3.00 to join, to be paid when the first library arrives, and 10 cents each quarter after this, to pay expenses of freight, librarian, etc. The library will be at M. H. Taylor's drug store.

At a meeting of the State Normal board, held at Peru Wednesday, Prof. Beattie, of Lincoln, was elected principal of the Normal. The newly elected principal has been one of the professors at Cotner university for several years, and ranks high among the educators of the state.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. of Nemaha county will be held in the M. E. church at Peru June 10th and 11th. An interesting program has been prepared. Peru extends a welcome to all and will gladly entertain all delegates and visitors. Mrs. Gates, the county president, writes us that the convention will be an exceptionally good one, in her opinion.
