Local News.

Additional local on last page.

Samuel Brimble visited Auburn Tuesday.

J. W. Taylor returned to Lincoln Thursday.

The water in the Missouri river is rapidly rising.

A cool wave struck Nemaha Thursday afternoon.

Rabe Elliott shipped a car of hogs to Nebraska City Tuesday.

James A. Titus went to Omaha Tuesday to attend the Masonic grand lodge.

Two of Stella's business houses were closed up by the creditors during the past week.

Rev. James Hiatt will preach at Hillsdale Saturday night, at 11 o'clock Sunday, and again Sunday night.

C. A. Smiley, of Aspinwall precinct, and Mr. Simmons, of Salem, gave these headquarters a social call Saturday.

Dr. J. L. Meivin has opened an office in the parlors of the Park hotel—first door to the left, at the head of the stairway.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Hoover came down from Lincoln Wednesday, to attend the funeral of their nephew, Arthur Hoover.

THE ADVERTISER mansion was visited by some serenaders Friday night of last week. The excellent music was greatly enjoyed.

A. C. Chambers writes us from Bridal Veil, Oregon, to send him THE ADVERTISER, as he wants to see what is going on in Nemaha.

A basket dinner was held in Charley Robert's grove, adjoining the Champion school house, last Sunday, by the Champion Sunday school.

Attention is called to the "Pictorial History of the St. Louis Cyclone of May 27th," to be found on one of the inside pages of this paper.

Mrs. Edith Schell, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, last week, returned to her home in Beatrice last Saturday.

John Strain went to Omaha Wednesday, to attend the meeting of the Masonic grand lodge, he being a representative from the Nemaha lodge.

Miss Nina Moore went to Tecumseh Saturday. Miss Nina gave such good satisfaction as teacher of the school near Cook that she has been engaged for another year.

Revs. Denton and Goodwin will begin a meeting in Missouri July 2nd, in the grove a mile and a half northeast of the St. Deroin ferry landing. Everybody is invited.

Oscar Scovill returned home Friday evening of last week, after a stay of several weeks in Kansas. He has concluded that Nemaha is as good a place to live as any of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Parmeter, of Lincoln, visited J. W. Webber and family last week. They returned home Saturday. We acknowledge a pleasant call from them, and also Mrs. Webber.

Ed. E. Sanders, editor of the Whiting (Kansas) Sun, arrived in Nemaha Friday morning, on a visit to W. W. Sanders. He came most of the way, on his wheel, and developed an appetite of corresponding alarming proportions.

We are requested to announce that Rev. E. S. Chamberlain will preach on "Foreign Missionaries" next Sunday morning. After services a basket dinner will be held in the park. Everybody is invited to bring well filled baskets and join in the dinner.

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING.

We are requested to call a meeting of those interested in the celebration of the Fourth of July, said meeting to be held at THE ADVERTISER office at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday, June 16th. Everybody interested is requested to be present.

Thos. B. Skeen drove in from Auburn Tuesday, and visited friends for a few hours. We are glad to learn he is fast recovering from the severe injuries he received two or three weeks ago.

Miss Dorram came in from Auburn last Saturday, to visit her brother, John Dorram. The next day she was taken sick with the mumps, and has been kept busy since then nursing that pleasant ailment.

The Woodmen of the World had a meeting at the opera house Wednesday night, to confer degrees. Members of the Howe, Stella and Auburn camps were present in force, and a great big time was enjoyed.

Mrs. John Watson and Mrs. S. A. Scovill returned home Monday evening from Topeka, Kansas, where they had been visiting for two or three weeks. Mrs. Watson's sister, Mrs. Morris, came home with her, and we understand will make her home here.

Georgie Burgess, the second son of George Burgess, had the misfortune to fall and break both bones of one arm between the elbow and wrist last Friday evening. Dr. Melvin set the broken bones, and the boy is getting along as well as could be expected.

We have been informed that last week we failed to mention one of the best features of the memorial service at the opera house May 30th and that was the part taken by the children. We plead guilty, as the children all did splendidly and were deserving of special praise.

ICE CREAM SUPPER.

The members of the Mt. Pleasant church will give an ice cream supper Friday evening, June 19th, at the residence of Mr. Lute Barnes, one and one-half miles northwest of Nemaha. Everybody is invited.

By order of committee.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Next Sunday will be Children's Day at the Methodist church in Nemaha, and the children will have possession that day. There will be no preaching in the evening, the regular children's day service taking the place. This service is called "The Young Crusaders," consists of choruses, recitations, etc. The program is as good as was ever given here. Everybody is invited to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Keeling started for Springfield, South Dakota, Monday night, driving over to Auburn and taking the Missouri Pacific. Steve Cooper took them to Auburn and on the road got into a mud puddle and stuck, and all parties had to get out and wade through mud and water two or three feet deep, and wait until Steve got the outfit out of the mud hole. The doctor will visit his two sons and a daughter for two or three weeks.

ARTHUR HOOVER DEAD.

Arthur J. Hoover, oldest son of Johnson P. and Huldah Hoover, died at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 10th, 1896. Arthur had not been feeling well for several days from stomach and bowel complaint, but would not give up. Sunday he was down in town for the last time. After going home he was taken worse and suffered severely. Dr. Melvin, who had been attending him, was sent for, and relieved him somewhat. After severe suffering on Monday he grew easier toward morning on Tuesday and strong hopes of his speedy recovery were entertained but as the day advanced vomiting, which had troubled him from the first, became incessant and all the symptoms grew rapidly worse. About 6 o'clock the doctor was again called and succeeded in checking the vomiting in about an hour. From this time on till midnight he grew gradually easier and the worst was thought to be over, but about 2 o'clock he again began to grow worse, with symptoms involving the nerve centers. He grew gradually worse until about 5 o'clock when the collapse came and Arthur passed quietly away.

Arthur was so strong and full of life that his death is a shock to all. He had a wide circle of friends, and all feel keenly his loss. He will be greatly missed as he always took a leading part in everything with which he was connected.

To the parents his death is a terrible blow. The sympathy of everyone goes out to them in this hour of trial and affliction.

Arthur J. Hoover was born in Nemaha in February, 1877. He has passed all of his life here, and looked forward with joyful anticipation to a long life, but the Father knows best, and we can only bow in humble submission to His will. May He comfort the loved ones in their affliction.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. C. H. Gilmore preached the funeral sermon. The pall bearers were associates of the deceased—Alber and Frank Titus, Robert Frost jr., Irvin Hadlock, Leslie Woodward, and Lionel Swope. The church was crowded, and at least one-third of those coming could not get inside. The remains were followed to the last resting place in the Nemaha cemetery by a large procession.

We learn that John L. Colhapp, a former citizen of Brownville, died at his home in Chicago, May 29th, 1896. Mr. Colhapp died from a tumor of the stomach, from which he had been a great sufferer for several months. Mr. Colhapp was at one time one of the proprietors of THE ADVERTISER, the firm being composed of Jarvis S. Church, now living in Auburn, John L. Colhapp, and T. C. Hacker who lives at Red Cloud, under the firm name of Church, Colhapp & Hacker. Afterward Mr. Colhapp engaged in the manufacture of cigars and tobacco. He removed to Chicago many years ago. He will be remembered by all the older citizens as he was known by almost every one in the county when living at Brownville.

Friday of last week was the last day of school at the Maple Grove school, two and one half miles northwest of Nemaha, and a picnic was given as a treat to the children for their faithful attendance. A number of our citizens attended, and all report a good time. Unfortunately for us, but perhaps fortunately for the picnickers, we did not hear of the picnic until it was over. We believe this was a deep laid plan of Jim Drain, Billy Maxwell and Herb Minick, who were afraid they would not get enough to eat if a hungry editor was present. Miss Lulu Clark was the teacher of this school during the past year, and gave excellent satisfaction.
