Oscar Scovill arrived in Colony Monday evening, on a visit to his brother-in-law, Mid Shockey. He is well known to the most of Colony people, having been a citizen of our town some years ago. He moved from here to Grant county, Kans., eight years ago, and from there to Nemaha county, Neb., four years ago, but recently returned to Kansas and is now living at Garnett. His intention is to work for the Singer Sewing Machine Co. We wish himself and family abundant prosperity in their new home. Os. is a good whole-souled fellow, a rustler, and a republican.—Colony (Kas.) Free Press.

The executive committee of the Nemaha County Old Settlers' Association met at THE ADVERTISER office last Saturday, to make arrangements for the annual meeting of the association. Seymour Howe was added to the committee and was elected vice president and treasurer.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting and picnic on Saturday, Aug. 7th. The secretary was instructed to correspond with speakers, whose engagement will be announced in the future.

It is the determination of the committee to make this the best meeting ever held by the old settlers of Nemaha county.

Steve Cooper has been having a little experience with a dead beat. A fellow by the name of Shannon hired a team Tuesday morning, to drive to Rock Port, but instead of going there he went to Falls City. Wednesday morning Steve got a telegram sent from Rulo by Shannon, saying that his team was at Falls City, with one horse sick. Steve went to Falls City and found the team. He then went to Rulo and found that Shannon had hired a team there to go out in the country. He had left a valise at the hotel, but on examination it was found to contain nothing but bricks, old rags, etc. The Rulo liveryman went to White Cloud to look for the fellow, and while he was there a telegram was received at Rulo that his team was at Highland, Kas. The fellow seems to be addicted to this kind of work, as he played the same kind of a trick on Dustin & McConnell, of Auburn, and also beat the hotel out of his bill, the same as he did at Rulo. Of course he did not pay for the telegrams. He had a woman with him.

John Dundas must be the man, as he is the only editor and inventor combined in the county.

At last the starving people of India are to receive the supplies raised in this country for their relief. The steamer City of Everett, chartered by the government, will leave San Francisco for Calcutta, June 12. The cargo will consist almost entirely of corn, contributed by people of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. On reaching Calcutta the grain will be sent to the American missionaries for distribution.

Last Sunday the Woodmen of the world unveiled the monument erected by this order to the memory of their deceased brother, Everett Larimore. The services were under the direction of the Nemaha camp, and were held at the Prairie Union cemetery, where the deceased is buried. Rev. C. H. Gilmore made the address, and it was good and very appropriate. A very large crowd was present, estimated at from 2000 to 3000. The neighboring camps at Auburn, Howe, Stella, Shubert, Salem, Barada, Verdon were well represented, there being about 300 Woodmen in the procession. Fifty-three sovereigns were present from the Nemaha camp. Excellent music was rendered by the Stella band and there was also good singing. The ceremonies were very impressive.

Col. L. W. Celby called at our office last Wednesday for a social chat. Speaking of the colonel's proposed expedition to Cuba in behalf of the cause of liberty, he said that the negotiations were pending and that it would not be at all strange if everything was in readiness to start for the island within the next six weeks. He says that the only trouble he is experiencing in the matter is the raising of the money, but that his eastern agents tell him that that difficulty will soon be bridged over. It will be an easy matter to get the 15,000 men which the colonel thinks necessary for the success of the enterprise. To properly arm and equip them with sixty days' rations will cost $1,000,000, but Col. Celby says that with such an army he could march through Cuba from one end to the other and make sure and speedy the independence of the island. When asked if he did not think it would be very difficult to get away from America with such a force he said the rendezvous would be in Mexico, and that there was practically nothing there to interfere with the embarking of the expedition. The colonel talks confidently of the success of his plans, if he can only put them in practice.—Tecumseh Chieftain.

The July number of the Delineator is called the summer number, and its resume of the latest styles of hot weather attire, with especial reference to the needs of sojourners at seaside and inland resorts, is rendered graphically complete by glowing color plates and scores of accurate wood-cuts. Various aspects of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee are entertainingly considered by Mrs. Alec Tweedie, whose books of travel have made her name familiar on both sides of the Atlantic. In her talks on health and beauty Dr. Grace Peckham-Murray this month deals with the digestion. Mrs. A. B. Longstreet begins a serial discussion of domestic problems. The season of canning and preserving is taken note of by an article describing the latest and best methods in these processes. In fiction, the Adventures of Clive Rayner, by "Martin Orde," begins promisingly with "The Eye of Buddha," a short story of strange happenings in Thibet, while Jennie Beene Winston contributes a pathetic dialect sketch of life in the south, "Mammy's Chile."

Once in a while some Nemaha county man gets an idea that he is too good for this country, and after reading a lot of real estate pamphlets he goes to California or Arkansas or Florida to make his everlasting fortune. Sooner or later—generally sooner—he returns to old Nemaha, richer in experience but poorer in pocket. A man may not become a bloated bondholder in Nemaha county, but if he invests his money in a few acres of Nemaha county land and sets it out in fruit, instead of spending it in traveling over the country looking for a better place, in a few years he can be independent of any "power, prince or potentate" on earth.

The sultan has just discovered that it is the wish of Allah that the Turks should have the Grecian fleet. This request has been sent to the czar of Russia for approval.—St. Joe Herald.

Why should Bryan go to Canada to make conversions to the silver cause? Was the ultimatum not free coinage without the aid or consent of any other nation on earth? Where does Canada come in on the Bryan program, anyway?—Omaha Bee.

Millionaire Sorg has withdrawn from the popocratic lists for endorsement for the Ohio senatorship, thus leaving the way clear for Millionaire McLean. The trouble with the popocratic party in Ohio, whose leaders prate about being close to the common people, is that it has a surplus of millionaires on its hands.—Omaha Bee.

The delegates to the Universal Postal congress nearly all speak the French language, inasmuch as that is the polite language of the world. All the proceedings of the postal congress are held in the French language, and for that reason the delegate who does not speak French is practically useless to himself and his country. Great care had to be taken in naming the delegates to represent the United States to get men who could speak fairly good French. General George S. Batcher, of Washington, and Edward Rosewater, of Omaha, speak French excellently and were chosen by the postmaster general because they combined this accomplishment with other excellent traits. Neither one, however, is acquainted with the technicalities of the postal service, and therefore several officers of the post-office are appointed to furnish the technical knowledge.—Chicago Times Herald.
