

R. V. Muir, the veteran prohibitionist of Brownville, was a Nemaha visitor Wednesday.

Hon. V. P. Peabody went to Lincoln Tuesday—he says to assume the management of Reese's campaign.

The patrons on route 2 are evidently fitting up Carrier Ed Knapp for the winter. Thursday Jim Wolfe presented him with a pumpkin and W. T. Whitten with some onions.

Arthur Camblin, former manager of the Edwards & Bradford Lumber Co. at Nemaha, was shaking hands with Nemaha friends Thursday. He now makes his headquarters at Stella.

Mrs. Rachel Shrimsher of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Frank Withee of Stella arrived in Nemaha Saturday on a visit to Mrs. M. W. Knapp. Mrs. Withee returned home Wednesday.

The members of Bena Rebekah lodge No. 166 enjoyed an oyster supper at their regular meeting on Wednesday night. After supper some time was spent in social conversation and music and all present enjoyed the evening to the utmost.

There are still five counties in the state in which there are no railroads and one in which there is no railroad station, although there is a small strip of railroad in the county. The five are Banner, Keya Paha, Logan, Loup and McPherson. The one without a station is Hayes.—Ex.

Johnny Shuck, who has been in the state industrial school at Kearney for three or four years, returned home Thursday evening. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Z. Shuck, were not looking for him and at first did not know him. The reunion was a great pleasure to all. The superintendent writes that Johnny has been a good hardworking boy.

Mrs. R. E. Bucher came near having a disastrous fire Wednesday evening. Gladys had opened a draw in the dresser in the bedroom and must have dropped a match in or one was lit in pulling out the draw or pushing it in. She then went in the kitchen. Ernie Alexander, who lives across the street, saw the fire rolling up, ran over, burst open the door and soon had the fire out. No damage was done except to the dresser and clothing.

Still Growing.

The canning industry in Peru is still growing. Mr. Lowe has the past week built a structure for evaporating the cores and peelings of his apples, having a sale for them to the jelly factories in that condition. He has also received and placed in position several machines for peeling and taking cores out of the apples.

Three car loads of apples have arrived this week and have been stored to await preparations for canning. A car load of cans have also been received for the apples.

The tomato season is still at its height, and tomatoes will continue to come in for several days, if severe frosts hold off. The basement of L. R. Dillon's building on Fifth and Main streets is being fitted up for use as a store house for the canning factory.—Peru Pointer.

Grandma Culp Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Culp died at the home of her son, John W. Culp, in Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday, Oct. 9, 1907, at 11 o'clock a. m. Mrs. Culp was 100 years old Sept. 15. She died from infirmities of old age, gradually getting weaker until she died peacefully as if going to sleep.

She had been bedfast for four weeks. Grandma Culp was probably the oldest person in the state. She came to Nemaha with her husband in 1859, driving up from St. Joe, and lived here or in this vicinity until about four months ago, when she went to Lincoln and made her home with her son.

She was remarkably well preserved physically, attending the Christian church at Lincoln only a few weeks ago. She was a member of that church for a great many years. The deceased leaves three sons and a daughter to mourn her loss—B. F. Culp of Milford, John W. Culp of Lincoln, Wm. Culp and Mrs. Sylvester Yates of Nemaha.

Brief funeral services were held at the home of her son in Lincoln at 10 o'clock a. m. Thursday, conducted by Rev. Doward of the East Lincoln Baptist church. The remains were brought to Nemaha, arriving here on the four o'clock train Thursday, being taken directly to the cemetery.

We are requested by the relatives of Mrs. Elizabeth Culp to return their thanks to the many friends here for their kindness and sympathy, and especially to F. L. Woodward for the assistance rendered.

The Parriott farm, south of Peru, was a scene of a very pleasant gathering Wednesday, the occasion being the sixty-ninth birthday of Mrs. Margaret Parriott. All of the children and many other relatives, as well as neighbors were present. A sumptuous dinner was served, over sixty guests partaking of the hospitalities of the occasion.

In the afternoon many pastimes were indulged in, the boys engaging in a blue rock shoot in which J. B. Parriott carried off the honors. Mrs. Parriott was the recipient of many fine presents, and a picture of her and her twenty-two grand children was taken in the afternoon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parriott and family of Nemaha, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Parriott and family of Shubert, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parriott and family of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Parriott and family of Nemaha, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rainey and family of Cass County, and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Edwards and family of Nemaha, Mrs. O. G. Whitfield and son of Nemaha and Miss Peterson of Falls City; and the following from Peru and vicinity: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parriott and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Parriott and family, J. L. Parriott, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glasgow, Mrs. W. G. Glasgow, Mr. and Mrs. H. Palmer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Rhoades, Mrs. Vanderford, Miss Katie Vandeford, Miss Scears, Rodney Edwards, Mears Buck, and Jas. Peterson.—Peru Pointer.

Lost and Found

Lost, between 9:30 p. m., yesterday and noon today, a bilious attack, with nausea and sick headache. This loss was occasioned by finding at Hill Bros. drug store a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, the guaranteed cure for biliousness, malaria and jaundice. 25c.

The editor of The Advertiser has been acquainted with Chas. O. French ever since he was a boy in the Auburn high school. He earned the money for his university course and law course as a farm laborer, as a teacher in Benton precinct, and by farming in London precinct. This being said there is no comment upon his energetic disposition and industrious habits. He graduated from the law school of the state university and was admitted to the bar in 1901 and has been engaged in the practice of law ever since. He occupied the back seat assigned to beginners for two or three years during which time he gained the approval and confidence of the bar and of the people by his fair dealing and close attention to business. He was then elected county attorney of this county and served one term with conspicuous success and with credit to himself, winning not only the high regard of the local bar of the county as an attorney of promise, but also the commendation of prominent attorneys from outside the county who were called here to defend persons whom he prosecuted.

The Advertiser has watched his progress with satisfaction and now commends him to the voters of the county without reserve, as the man who ought to be elected to the office of county judge.
