

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Century Club.
The Century Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. C. J. Jones at her pleasant home at Seventeenth and D streets. The subject under discussion was France. The meeting was opened with a paper on "Crusaders," by Mrs. M. E. Kirker. Other interesting papers were read as follows: "The Normans in France," Mrs. R. T. Van Brunt; "Battle of Hastings 1066," Mrs. W. B. Wolcott; "Hundred Years War," Mrs. Frank Campbell; "Louis XI, 1461-1483," Mrs. E. H. Curtis; "Francis I, 1575-1547, Joan of Arc, The Bastille," Mrs. D. A. Campbell. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Scott in East Lincoln.

Mrs. Funke Entertains.
Mrs. Carl Funke entertained delightfully Monday afternoon the form of diversion being an author's reception and gallery. The ladies each represented an author or book, and there were spirited contests. Mrs. Hargreaves and Mrs. A. S. Raymond were awarded prizes. Those present were: Mrs. Sidley, of St. Louis; Mrs. P. C. Hall, of Omaha; Mrs. C. H. Morrill, Mrs. Oscar Funke, Mrs. C. F. Ladd, Mrs. Ed Green, Miss Anne Funke, Mrs. W. B. Hargreaves, Mrs. D. E. Thompson, Mrs. W. M. Leonard, Mrs. S. E. Moore, Miss May Moore, Mrs. Jesse Moore, of Newark, O., Mrs. W. B. Ogden, Mrs. I. M. Raymond and Mrs. A. S. Raymond.

Whist Club.
A whist club has been organized by several popular Lincoln young ladies, to meet every fortnight during the winter. Each lady will have the privilege of inviting a gentleman friend to become a member of the club. The first meeting will be at the home of Miss Rachel Brock Tuesday evening. The lady members are Miss Nellie White, Miss Olive Latta, Miss Joannette Wilson, Miss Fay Marshall, Miss Mge Burr, Miss Hallie Hooper, Miss Anna Funke, Miss Bertie Burr, Miss Mame Carson and Miss Fannie Hawley.

Novelty Club.
The first meeting of the Novelty club was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wilson. The following officers were elected: Mr. M. H. Van Horn, president; Mrs. Wells, secretary, and Mrs. L. W. Garroute, treasurer. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Fradenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Laach, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. M. Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Garroutte, Mr. Snow and Miss Carrie Powell.

Saw "The Girl I Left Behind Me."
Among the theatre parties who witnessed "The Girl I Left Behind Me" at the Lansing Wednesday night was that of Mr. Mortimer Scofield occupying two boxes on the left. Those present were: Mrs. Jessie Stiles, Misses Ruby, Marie, and Emerald Jones, Messrs. J. A. Barrett, Frank Askens, Woodberry, Scofield, Mrs. Jones, received the party after the play, serving a delightful lunch at 11 o'clock.

Hallow'een Party.
A most delightful party was given on Hallow'een by the Misses Felton, at 1227 C street. At an early hour the young people gathered, and the fun again. A very amusing program was successfully carried out. At about eleven o'clock the guests were invited to partake of refreshments after which another hour was spent in games, to the delight of all present.

Pleasant Hour Club.
A business meeting of the Pleasant Hour club was held Monday noon at the Couriers office. Some routine business was transacted, and it was decided to give two parties at the Hotel Lincoln in November, one on Friday evening the 10th, and the other Thursday, Thanksgiving night, the 30th. The latter will be a fancy dress ball.

Entertained With "High Art."
Mrs. Jessie Stiles entertained a small company Friday evening with "High Art" and theatricals, at 312 south Eighteenth street. Supper was served in the dining room, which was decorated with ferns and roses. Prizes were awarded to those having the best guesses.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.
The friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hawks gave them a delightful surprise Tuesday evening at their home in East Lincoln, the occasion being the golden anniversary of their wedding. There was a large number present and the evening passed very pleasantly.

Chicago's Clubs.
These are animated days in Chicago clubdom, with a rare panorama of receptions, banquets, balls and dinners incidental to the closing days of the World's Fair. All of the managers and their corps are as busy as bees, scouring the marts for epicurean novelties and planning programs of entertainment. The Union League, the seeming vital organ of Chicago clubdom, is averaging a banquet or dinner every day in the week, and Manager Glennie is on the verge of distraction, although his equilibrium is defiant. A luncheon to Miss Terry and Mr. Irving by Mr. Melville E. Stone is on dit at this club and before the World's Fair season is done with or passes into history, the Union League of Chicago will be very familiarly known to Londoners, indeed —the lordly cabinet, the House of Parliament, the stage and society having contributed noted individuals.

Minor Mention.
The members of St. Theresa's congregation held an enthusiastic meeting in the sodality rooms of the parochial school Wednesday evening to make final arrangements for a bazar which is to open in Lyceum hall November 27 and continue one week. A large committee of married ladies was appointed to solicit donations from the merchants of the city. Other committees were to look after the program and music.

A Singular Coincidence.
The chaplain of an American jail vouches for the following. A little boy was taken by his parents to visit the prison, and on passing one of the cells in which a notorious criminal had been incarcerated his father playfully pushed him in and closed the door upon him. The child, overcome by some vague terror, screamed aloud and could scarcely be comforted by his mother's caresses. Years passed. The lad half thoughtlessly fell into crime and was only recalled to his better nature on finding himself, having been sentenced to a term of imprisonment, in the identical cell into which he had been momentarily thrust as a child.

Spent Only One.
Little Dot—Mamma gave me two quarters to buy candy, but I only spent one of them.
Father—That's something like. Now I'll give you another quarter to put with the other.
Little Dot—Thank you, but I can't put it with the other till I find it. It dropped out of my pocket on the way to the candy store.—Good News.

One of His Tricks.
"I thought you said you were going to bring a friend home to dinner with you," said Mrs. Chugwater.
"He couldn't come, Samantha," replied Mr. Chugwater as he sat down with great satisfaction to the first good dinner he had had a chance to attack for a long time.—Chicago Tribune.

Rooms to Let.
Mrs. Fangle—Have you secured a lodger for your second floor yet, Mr. Goalin?
Goalin (horrified)—I haven't been looking for a lodger, madam.
Mrs. Fangle—Why, I'm certain my husband told me you had rooms to let in your upper story.—Waif.
