It has since developed that he committed suicide by hanging himself. The cause is unknown. —Wave Allen, the popular moller of Ashland was in the city last Saturday. He reports progress in the enlargement of his mill property and expressed his appreciation of the several car loads of rip-rapping material gratuitously furnished him by Messrs Parnly and Newell of this city. —Gerkey, the cigar maker, was robbed Saturday night of about $48 in cash, the thief reached through the window and pulled out Mr. Gerkey's clothes and went through them, taking the cash and then left the clothes. This falls quite heavily on Mr. Gerkey, as he is a laboring man and has just brought his family on, intending to go to housekeeping. —Early Monday morning the people on Vine street between 4th and 5th streets were awakened by the cries of help and J. L. Farthing, Dr. Siggins, J. Bert Walters and one or two others responded to the call and found that it proceeded from the home of Mrs. Ambrose Patterson. Hartigan, representing the Nebraska Chautauqua assembly, which occurs at Crete June 29th, to July 9th, called on us last Saturday. The association expects the largest attendance it has ever had. —Last Tuesday the B. & M. road run a fast train from Omaha to Lincoln, the train consisted of two coaches and an engine, one of the coaches was a U. P. coach, and the other a B. & M. The distance was made in 67 minutes. Robert Smith was the engineer, and if the road had been clear of gravel trains, he would have made the trip in less than an hour, and made all stops besides. —Just as we go to press we received a letter from our special correspondent in Mexico, and he says in regard to the rumor that is going the rounds of the press, that several new volcanos have broken out in Mexico, are all false. He says: "The earthquake was not near as severe as reported," and where he was, he says, "The earthquake was hardly perceptible here. Some few noticed it—I did not. The volcano stories are all pure nonsense." —The "Col. Mulberry Sellers" social given by the Y. L. R. A. on Wednesday evening, May 18th, was a real novelty in the line of socials. There was a large attendance, and while the guests were enjoying themselves at games and other social pastimes, the young ladies of the society brought out plates and goblets filling the goblets with water. It was not realized that that constituted the supper till they passed the tooth-picks followed by the hat, but all enjoyed it. —On last Saturday evening as Bert Pollock was going home, he saw a couple of men whose actions indicated that they were footpads, he met one of them on the bridge near Dr. Schildknecht's and just as they passed each other Bert turned around and found that the other man had turned around and was facing him, the man stood still and pulled his hat down over his eyes. Bert started on up the hill when the man who he had just passed whistled and a man crossed the street ahead of him and laid down by the sidewalk. Bert stopped and waited till some one came along who he knew, when he went on home unmolested. A few minutes later when Fred Murphy was returning home from Gospel Hill in the same neighborhood, with his umbrella raised as it was raining, some one slipped up behind him and struck a blow at him, striking the umbrella breaking three of the steel ribs. Fred was frightened and made good time the rest of the way home. It is evident they intended to hold up the boys and make them disgorge a little hard cash but they failed.

Married. SMITH—SMITH—On Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. F. B. Manley corner Pearl and 10th streets, Mr. Frank S. Smith and Miss Ellen J. Smith were united in marriage by Rev. W. B. Alexander.

WALTERS—SPARKS—At the residence of the brides parents, on third street, Mr. J. J. Walters and Miss Cassie Sparks were joined in holy wedlock, at 5 p. m. yesterday, by Rev. W. B. Alexander of the M. E. church.

The newly married couple left on the 6 o'clock train for Lincoln where they will visit the brides brother, then they will go to Illinois and visit the grooms family after which they will probably locate in Southern Kansas. THE HERALD wishes them success and happiness through life.

A Family Reunion. On last Tuesday there was a family gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Windham on Walnut street between 7th and 8th streets. All of the living descendants of Benj. Windham, sr., of Glenwood, Iowa, except three were present, these are small grand children and the cause of their absence was sickness.

Those present (besides the host and hostess and family) were Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Windham of Glenwood, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Windham also of Glenwood, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. O'Neal of Clarinda, Rev. E. W. O'Neal and Misses Birdie and Jessie O'Neal. The occasion was the celebration of the 79th, birthday of Father Windham, and it was a very happy gathering. THE HERALD extends its congratulations to the father and to the relatives and friends, and wishes them many more such occasions.

Organization of the Plattsmouth Mining and Prospecting Co. The directors of the Natural Gas and Mining company met for permanent organization last Tuesday evening, at the law office of R. B. Windham. Articles of incorporation were duly signed and J. W. Johnson elected president, J. M. Patterson treasurer and J. W. Cutright secretary. The object of the company is to bore for gas and coal, and determine, if possible, whether there is anything underneath the ground worth bringing to the surface. Over $30,000 stock has already been subscribed and the work has so far progressed as to insure the success of the undertaking. The company is composed of energetic men, who will push the work for all there is in it. The articles of incorporation were signed by the following named gentlemen: J. W. Johnson, A. B. Todd, Frank Carruth, J. M. Patterson, R. B. Windham, Fred Gorder, W. H. Pickens, S. F. Granger, W. H. Newell and W. H. Baker.

Omaha Southern. It has just been made public, that the Omaha Southern railroad is a fixed thing it is composed of London, Liverpool and Omaha capitalists, who propose to build a road from Omaha to Abilene, Kansas, thence on through Kansas and Indian Territory to the cattle ranges of Texas, finally seeking a gulf outlet.

The company was duly incorporated under Nebraska laws about six months ago, but great secrecy has been observed in regard to it every since; even the publication of the articles of incorporation being made in an obscure paper, and the secretary of state at Lincoln being requested not to divulge anything concerning the company.

Aid will be asked from Douglas, Sarge, Cass, Otoe and Gage counties, to build the road from Omaha to the Kansas line.

The project is a stupendous one and will certainly be carried out as the Kansas portion has to be built within eighteen months, in order to acquire the subsidies voted in the various counties of that state.

Gas Meeting. Those interested in the project of sinking an artesian well for gas in Plattsmouth met in the council chamber last Wednesday evening and appointed a committee of three to draft articles of incorporation to be read for action, at the next meeting. They then adjourned till Friday evening, at which time they met and heard the report of the committee, and after revising them somewhat, the articles of incorporation were adopted. They provide that the name of the incorporation shall be "The Plattsmouth Mining and Prospecting Company;" that its principal place of doing business shall be in this city; that the business thereof shall be the sinking and operation of mines, prospecting for coal, gas, oil, salt or other minerals and selling the products thereof, and to hold or lease real estate. The amount of capital stock is placed at $10,000, with shares at $25, non-assessable when paid in full. The amount of indebtedness shall never exceed $2,000. The affairs shall be managed by a board of eleven directors, who shall choose a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer from their number.

Upon the adoption of the articles of incorporation the meeting proceeded to the election of a board of eleven directors. The following were selected: F. S. Granger, J. W. Johnson, Frank Carruth, W. H. Newell, J. M. Patterson, Joseph Whistler, R. B. Windham, A. B. Todd, F. Gorder, W. H. Baker and W. H. Pickens.

A committee comprising Messrs. Eikenberry, Sullivan and Byron Clark was appointed to draft by-laws.

A meeting of directors was called to occur at the office of R. B. Windham the following Tuesday evening.

A Trip to Greenwood. Last Thursday morning we bought a ticket and boarded the cars for Greenwood. When we arrived there we were very agreeably surprised, for we had been led by the Hawkeye to believe the town was dead and that the business men had no spirit of enterprise whatever. We found it just the opposite, it is a lively stirring little town of about 800 inhabitants, who received us with open hands and spoke in praise of the HERALD.

Greenwood has a number of fine brick blocks and all the stores are well stocked with goods, and every thing was clean and in order, indicating the prosperity of the town and country around.

The town site occupies about 300 acres of land and is beautifully laid out, and is in the midst of as pretty a farming country as we ever saw. We took a stroll over the town and when we reached the end of the sidewalk in any direction, it did us good to look out over the surrounding country and see the green fields and the busy farmers plowing their corn. On the west we came onto a beautiful stream of water, with beautiful groves on both banks. We enquired the name of the stream, and the answer was "Salt Creek;" we don't believe it is the "Salt Creek" of political fame because it is a beautiful placid stream and appeared to be entirely free of snags and sand bars.

While in the town we heard two merchants talking, one said he had been there six years and that he had left things laying round loose and his ware store house had not been locked half of the time, and he had never had a single thing stolen, the other said he had left barrels of potatoes stand on the sidewalk night after night and a theft had never been committed. This speaks well for the town and the surrounding country, and makes it a desirable place to live, we doubt if there is another town anywhere that can make as good a showing. While there we secured Mr. C. A. Wooley as our agent, and we also have secured a good first class correspondent, so that hereafter we will be able to give the news of the town and immediate neighborhood.

—Rev. W. F. Johnson, who was for twenty-five years in Allahabad, India, as a missionary, lectured in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He spoke of the advancement of Christianity in India in the last few years as compared with former ones, showing how it was apparently slowly but really rapidly undermining Hindooism. He gave the testimony of several natives and missionaries as to the effect the teaching of the Gospel was having on the people as a mass. Although not bringing them directly to the christian faith it was destroying their faith in Hindooism. He also gave the statistics which showed the number of native Christians in India in 1851 to be 91,000 and in 1881 to be 417,000 and he believed there were now 600,000. He then spoke of the difficulties the missionaries had to deal with. The principal one was difficulty in reaching the majority of the women, and they being bound in their faith taught their children in the same. Another was the language which having been used only to praise heathen gods, contained no words with which the missionary could directly tell what he desired, but had to explain everything. In the evening he preached a sermon from Mark, 13th chapter and 34th verse, which was a very able effort.

A Highly Prized Document. Lyons Mirror.

The Indians who went to Lincoln a few days ago had a very pleasant conversation with Governor Thayer, and returned home feeling that their trip had not been in vain. The governor received them kindly and gave them the following document, which they prize above almost anything else:

To the Chiefs and Head Men of the Omaha Tribe of Indians—I have learned that you have been led to fear that a movement is on foot to levy taxes on your property, and otherwise interfere with your affairs. I write this to say that there is no truth in these reports. I assure you that no one can or will interfere with you or your rights. You have to deal with the government of the United States alone, during the period of twenty-five years. This state, or the governor of this state, has no power to levy taxes upon your property. We are friends, and desire to live in peace with you, and to see all of you prosper. As the governor of the state, I assure you I am a friend of the peaceable Indians. I want to see them adopt the good ways of the white man now, and improve and make all the progress they can in the way of civilized life. I repeat to you, you have nothing to fear from the whites. No one shall interfere with your rights or your property of any kind.

[Signed.] JOHN M. THAYER, Governor.

It is not generally known, we suspect, that Senator Sherman has a military record. He raised a brigade of infantry, cavalry and artillery in Ohio during the first year of the war, which he commanded as a colonel until President Lincoln wrote him that there were plenty of men to command troops, but few who could take his (Sherman's) place in the senate, when he relinquished his military dreams and resumed that career as a statesman which was to prove so useful to the country and so highly honorable to himself. —Globe Democrat.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds will be, for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal, but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of Throat, Chest or Lungs are especially requested to call at F. G. Fricke & Co's drug store and get a trial bottle free, large bottles $1. (4)

In the latest news from Washington on the subject of natural gas, we read: "In general, it may be said that natural gas is found in varying quantities all through the territory from the Hudson river, on the east, to California, on the west. In New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, Colorado, Dakota, Utah, Wyoming and California its existence is reported." It would certainly be in order for some booming Nebraska town to subscribe two or three thousand dollars and prospect for the valuable product. Other states have sought and found. Why not Nebraska. —Omaha Bee. That is just what we are doing in Plattsmouth.
