VOLUME XXIII, NUMBER 14

Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver, for if the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirits are depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliaryness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. I have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave more than temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured. H. H. JONES, Macon, Ga.

THE LATEST NEWS.

STILL AFTER THE BOODLERS.
New York, June 20.—In the Sharp trial to-day the examination of the bank cashiers brought out the fact that they had collectively cashed for Foshay, one of Sharp's partners, a number of checks, aggregating in value to $700,000, and at his request gave him bills of the largest denomination. The object was to show that these were probably the large bills used in bribing the aldermen.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE.
Charleston, S. C., June 19.—A sharp shock of earthquake occurred at Summerville at 10:37 this morning. The roaring sound accompanying the shock was more alarming than has been heard since the great shock of last fall. No disturbance was felt here.

The shock at Summerville was not enough to do any damage though the vibrations caused some alarm. The roar was so conspicuous at Summerville that it was faintly heard here by some persons. It seemed to come from the southwest.

LAMAR FOR JUDGE.
Washington, June 20.—The officials of the Interior Department have practically settled it among themselves that Secretary Lamar is to go to the Supreme Bench and that Assistant Secretary Muldrow is to be his successor. While there is much regret at Lamar's probable departure, the elevation of Mr. Muldrow would be gratifying to both the Department Chiefs and business men.

The Secretary of the Interior has refused to approve the recommendation made by Commissioner Sparks some time ago that the pre-emption period of providence be increased from six months to twelve months.

SHERMAN CONGRATULATES FORAKER.
Columbus, O., June 20.—Among hundreds of letters received by Governor Foraker to-day was the following from Senator Sherman:
"I am delighted beyond expression at your patriotic stand on the proposed surrender of the rebel flags, and your bold defiance of the President. His act was in substance recognition of the success of the lost cause. How such an idea could enter the mind of any one I cannot imagine. I have felt keenly the tendency of public opinion, especially in the commercial cities, to yield everything, honor included, to the spirit of the rebellion. A halt has been called, and I am glad that you had the honor to take the first decisive step. Very sincerely yours,
JOAN SHERMAN."

BURIED BY AN EARTH SLIDE.

Erie, Pa., June 20.—A frightful accident occurred at the new buildings of the Erie Gas company to-day. The masons and their helpers were at work building the wall around under a perpendicular bank of quick sand and blue clay; suddenly and before the laborers could take warning they were overwhelmed by an avalanche of earth weighing many tons. Jacob Sell and Daniel Stanley were taken out unconscious, but recovered. They suffered severe injuries. John O'Laughlin, after his head was uncovered and his face bared, was given stimulants, and upon recovery said there were others at his feet. He was crushed almost to a jelly. The bodies of Jacob Fehrenback, aged thirty-five, and James Elsie, aged sixty-five, were taken out. Their death had been instantaneous.

BOLD ROBBERS.

St. Louis, Mo. June 19.—The Baldwin and Manchester stage, which runs from here to Barretts on the Missouri Pacific twice a day, was stopped this afternoon about 6 o'clock, when returning, at about half a mile from Barretts, by three masked men. The masked men were concealed in the thick underbrush which skirts the road on both sides, near what is known as the Sugar Creek bridge and, as the stage with its fifteen passengers approached, the robbers advanced with drawn revolvers and ordered Mr. Bennett, the driver, to stop and the passengers to fall in line. There is some dispute as to the actual number of men engaged in the robbery, some of the passengers claiming that there were six drawn revolvers concealed in the underbrush in case any resistance should be offered. The masks worn were made of red handkerchiefs with holes cut in them, and one man had the sleeve of an undershirt drawn over his head as his only covering. Considering the amount of money and valuables the robbers made a poor haul, securing only about $250 out of an estimated $2,500 in money and valuables in the possession of the passengers.

ANOTHER TEXAS TRAIN ROBBERY.

Houston, Texas, June 18.—One of the most daring train robberies which ever occurred in Texas, was perpetrated at 1:30 this morning a short distance this side of Schulenburg, on the Southern Pacific road. As the train drew up to the station, two men with drawn revolvers mounted the locomotive and forced the engineer to pull the train to the open prairie two hundred yards east, where a fire was burning and around which stood eight or ten men all armed. The two robbers on the engine stood guard over the engineer while the others went through the mail, express and passenger cars. Nearly all passengers were asleep and unaware of what was going on. All the passengers were relieved of what valuables they possessed, the value of which was estimated to be about $1,000. The Wells, Fargo express car was gone through, but the amount of money taken is not known. The through mail pouches in the express car were cut open and the contents appropriated. The total amount secured by the robbers is placed at $8,000 or $10,000.

GROVER'S CONGRATULATIONS.

Washington, June 21.—Following is the President's letter presenting his Jubilee congratulations to Queen Victoria:
"Grover Cleveland, President of the United States of America, to Her Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and Empress of India.—Great and good friend.

In the name and in behalf of the people of the United States, I present their sincere felicitations upon the arrival of the fiftieth anniversary of your Majesty's accession to the crown of Great Britain. I but utter the general voice of my fellow-countrymen in wishing for your people a prolongation of a reign so marked with an advance in popular well-being, physical, moral and intellectual. It is justice, and not adulation, to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your personal virtues for their important influence in producing and causing the prosperous and well ordered condition of affairs now generally prevailing throughout your dominion. May your life be prolonged, and peace, honor, and prosperity bless the people over whom you have been called to rule. May liberty flourish throughout your empire under just and equal laws and your government be strong in the affections of all who live under it. And I pray God to have your Majesty in his holy keeping."
Done at Washington, this 27th day of May, A. D. 1887.

GROVER CLEVELAND, Pres.
THOS. F. BAYARD, Sec. of State.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

London, June 21.—The first day of the fifty-first year of the reign of Queen Victoria opened with perfect summer weather. Thousands of people who yesterday selected locations along the route of to-day's procession in order to retain their occupied them all night. A steady stream of carriages and pedestrians passed constantly all night until dawn through the city from all directions towards the west end. At 9 o'clock the line of the route was a compact mass of people. Everybody, despite the discomfort of the crowd, manifested the utmost good humor.

The scene at Westminster abbey was most brilliant. Every seat was filled and every person present was a distinguished personage. It seemed as if every locality the world over had sent one or more of its representative personages to do honor to England's queen. It was a brilliant assemblage. There was never, probably, in modern times, assembled under one roof an audience so well and so brilliantly arrayed. Every man present entitled to wear uniform or decorations had both on, new or burnished up. When the audience was all seated the scene presented was incomparable.

The queen's advent was arranged so that she entered the abbey precisely at noon. Dr. Budge, organist of the abbey, had for the occasion a specially trained choir of 250 voices, selected from the great choirs of London, a number of eminent soloists, besides a large accompaniment of brass instruments and drums. When the clergy at the head of the royal procession moved into the church, the national anthem was rendered by the organ. The music was thrilling and the audience rose as a unit and let 10,000 voices accompany the choir. The effect was so grand, so profound, that many persons were moved to tears. It was at this moment that the queen appeared within the doors. The singing of the anthem ceased and the processional march from Handel's "Occasional" oratorio was given by the organ during the progress of the queen and royal family to the dais. When they were seated the archbishop of Canterbury and dean of Westminster, who had taken their places within the sacristy, begun the service by asking of God blessing upon the queen. The "Te Deum Laudamus" was then sung by the choir to music composed by the prince consort, the queen having requested it. The Lord's prayer was said, and responses, adopted to the occasion, were intoned. Then special prayers were offered. Following the prayers "Te Dominus" was sung, with the organ and brass band accompaniment. The dean of Westminster advanced to the altar and read the lesson for the day, the first epistle of Peter, chapter 2:46-186. Dr. Budge's special anthem, selected by the queen last year as

HER JUBILEE ANTHEM, was next rendered, followed by the choral "Gotha," composed by the prince consort. In the rests the national anthem was introduced. Two more special prayers for the defense of the faith, the spiritual welfare of the kingdom and for peace and love followed and were supplemented by the benediction, which was pronounced by the archbishop.

When the benediction had been said, the queen's sons knelt before her and kissed her hand. They arose and her majesty kissed each upon his cheek. The princesses next advanced to the queen and kissed her hand and she kissed them all, favoring some twice, making unusual demonstration over Princess of Wales and Princess Beatrice. Other relatives of the queen then saluted her and she shook hands with some and kissed others, kissing the crown prince Frederick William of Germany twice, very heartily each time. All this the congregation applauded warmly.

After the royal salutations all had been made the queen descended from the dais and moved out of the abbey, preceded by the royal family, the congregation standing and cheering with fervor all the while. The congregation at once dissolved, selections of sacred music being played until all had left the abbey.

The procession on its return from Westminster abbey, reached Buckingham palace at about 3 o'clock. A few minutes later the queen arrived at the entrance and alighted from her carriage and, attended by her brilliant escort, entered the palace amid a roar of cheers from the people gathered as close to the palace as the guards would permit. Her majesty seemed to be in excellent spirits. Among the Americans occupying seats in the abbey during the ceremonies were Mr. Lawton, United States minister to Austria, Senator McPherson of New Jersey, Senator Hale, of Maine, Hon. Perry Belmont of New York, Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, and Prof. Parks of Dartmouth college. The Marquis of Lorne has informed the press that he received no injury whatever from his fall, not even a scratch.

Conspicuously prominent among the distinguished throng which filled the abbey was Mr. Gladstone, who appeared in full court dress accompanied by Mrs. Gladstone, while the Hon. James G. Blaine and Mr. James Russell Lowell attracted the attention of all within whose view they were. The banquet which took place at Buckingham palace tonight was limited in attendance to the queen's own family, the visiting royalties and the diplomats representing foreign countries at the court of St. James. Minister Phelps was present. Mr. Phelps drove to the abbey this morning in his own landau, and his black broadcloth coat, contrasting strangely with the gorgeous uniforms of the personages on either side of him, provoked much comment. The Prince of Wales, who wore his familiar uniform, looked quite insignificant in comparison with the crown prince of Prussia and several others of the visiting nobility. The display of fireworks in the parks, which was the feature of the evening's program on the occasion of the day of the queen's accession, was conspicuously lacking tonight. At the Crystal palace, Sydenham, however, a special celebration was held this evening at which there was an exhibition of pyrotechnics conducted on a grand and elaborate scale. Upon nearly every hill of importance in England and Scotland reports are received of illuminations producing the grandest effects.
