Union.

Paul Schminke was in town the 25th inst.
Hon. H. F. Taylor was in Omaha last week.
Mr. C. H. Black, of McPaul, Missouri, has been here a few days taking tintype photos, and has sold his camera to Mr. A. M. Rose of this place, who is building a gallery and will be our local photographer hereafter. As good looking people as there are in and around Union, they should not be without a photographer and hence bought one.

Lynn and McNamee is erecting a fine two story building, which will be the city hotel when completed, and Mr. G. N. McNamee will be the proprietor.

S. A. Weimer has been spending the last few days at Nebraska City with his family.

R. H. Frans, our postmaster, says he wants to keep the P. O. another term and would like it if Cleveland would be renominated on that account if nothing else.

A. Keil has left for his ranch in Thayer county where he will remain till spring. The Presbyterian church is being built very rapidly now and will be a handsome brick when completed.

Our Methodist minister, J. Branson, has been at conference the past week and has been appointed at Ithica, Saunders county, and Mr. J. G. Day is appointed here in his stead.

Farmers are making ready to commence husking corn. The corn crop is not as good as some have anticipated.

Threshing is not done around here. Small grain is nothing extra; wheat very poor; oats and barley better.

Haying mostly done; have had slight frost but has not done much damage.

Corn is worth 30c.; oats 15@17c.; barley 28@30c.; wheat (new) 60@63c., (old) 65@72c. Fat cows (butchers stock) $2 @ $2.25. Hay $4@4.50 per ton.

Chas. Morton has made up over 500 gallons of sorghum this fall and is still busy.

O. Ilection is a coming, and this is very true, The Dems. will try to rule us, But this they can not do.

"Hurrah for Harrison! He's all right."

John McCarroll and G. A. Rose returned home last week from a visit with old friends and acquaintances across the wide Mississippi valley.

The democrats keep saying "free whisky." Now it is a well known fact that so long as the General Government is in partnership in a certain sense, with every distiller, rectifier and dealer in whisky throughout the country, the moral support thus given the whisky interest, is bound to be a serious hindrance to the temperance cause. Your vote is an expression of your conscience of the liquor question. Patriotism, religion and our homes are awaiting on your vote for republican of the liquor traffic. If rum-selling produces crime and pauperism, our religion, our homes and our country, then vote the republican ticket and get it out of existence as you would any other nuisance. These are my sentiments.

Yours Truly,
JOSEPH CUNNINGHAM.

Chief of Surgeons of Gen. Grants Army. Ex-President RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, WIFE AND SON.

GALENA, May 15, 1885.

Prof. A. Strassman.—Dear Sir: I have used the equalized glasses prepared by you for my eyes and am delighted with them. I must say that on account of the inequality in my eyes, I did not suppose it to have been within the range of possibility to have remedied the defect so perfectly as you have done. Many thanks. Yours Truly,

GEN. W. R. ROWLEY.

Military Secretary on Staff of Gen. U. S. Grant.

Louisville.

Mr. J. Jackson was at Ashland Monday on business.

Remember the county convention at Louisville next Saturday.

Mrs. Truman Hall and Mrs. Scage are on the sick list, but are not dangerously ill.

Miss May Carr, of Greenwood is in the city attending school.

A large number of our citizens were in attendance at the funeral of Dr. R. R. Livingston, among whom were W. B. Shryock and wife, J. A. Hessemier and wife, and R. P. Loucks and wife.

Nels Nelson, a Dane, is very low at the Exchange hotel. Dr. Hessemier is in attendance; fears are entertained regarding his recovery.

A Great Phenomenon.

A man's leg and foot petrified! Found 80 feet under the surface of the ground in the gravel pit at Cedar creek, wonderfully well preserved—so much so that the medullary canal is recognizable with the naked eye, and the hævesean canal, lacune and canaliculi may be seen by the aid of a microscope. Such is the report, but an eye witness informs us that the wonderful discovery was not over 50 feet deep, and while it is a limb, it belongs to a tree.

CITY BRIEFS.

From Friday's Daily.
—Mr. C. W. Twiss made a selection from his stock of large nutmeg muskmelons and made the HERALD a present today. It was the finest muskmelon we have seen and is of a new eastern species.

—Mr. J. M. Higgins, of this county, was nominated as the democratic float representative at the convention held at Nebraska City yesterday. This intelligence has reached many of the republicans already, and they signified their intention of putting up Mr. Dave Campbell, to wipe him out again.

—About one hundred and fifty democrats formed themselves into a procession last night about 8 o'clock, each man carrying a torch, and marched to the residence of Mr. Jas. Patterson, where the B. & M. band, which headed the procession, played a few of their selections as a serenade to Mr. Patterson, who has, within the last few days, returned from the east. He was congratulated on his nomination for the office of state treasurer, which he received during his absence.

—Quong Lee, the Chinaman, who is proprietor of the laundry at the foot of Main street, manifested much excitement on the street last night in search of a policeman. He was somewhat disfigured by a couple of black eyes and his hand had been badly cut up. He had the name of Joe Conningan written on a card and was bent on securing a policeman to have him arrested. He attempted to tell how the man had assaulted him, but nothing could be understood more than that he struck him over the fingers with a hatchet.

—A surprise party was given Mr. W. Carpenter and wife at the home of Mr. Lorine Cummins, last night, previous to their departure for Texas. A very pleasant time was had.

—Mon. J. Sterling Morton was nominated as the democratic congressional candidate at the convention held at Nebraska City yesterday, while J. M. Higgins, of this county, was nominated as float representative by acclamation, for Otoe and Cass.

Mr. J. G. Hayes, who is better known as father Hayes, returned from a visit to his old home in the east. During his absence he has visited Cincinnati, O., Pittsburg, Pa., and other places of importance in the east. His many friends were pleased to see him return.

—We are in receipt of a wedding cake from the home of Judge Vanatta. The style in which the cake was finished up exhibits a rare talent which Mrs. Vanatta is the possessor of. The style in which it was finished up here, exhibits a rare talent which the newspaper men possess—We take the cake.

It is Once in a Life Time
that such opportunity offers to have such a celebrity like Prof. Strassman among us, to look after our failing eyesight. His adjusting of glasses, and equalizing all inequalities of the eyesight is marvelous beyond pen description. Only those who have made use of his valuable services, can testify what comforts they have derived from his glasses, and the miseries of life changed into a world of happiness, joy, and brightness. You cannot afford to miss this grand opportunity. Office Riddle House.

From Thursday's Daily.
Mr. H. Chapin, who has been on a few days' visit to his parents at Crete, returned home last night.

—Judge Russell issued a marriage license today to Mr. Thos. Jones and Miss Amelia Beckstad.

Mr. Henry Weckbach, who has been in Fremont for several days on business, returned home last night.

Mrs. J. McK. StJohn, of Omaha, and Mrs. S. G. Winchester, of Eldora, Ia., are visiting at the home of Mr. E. A. St. John.

Mr. C. W. Warfel and wife, of Lincoln, are visiting his cousin, Mr. Frank Morgan and wife, of this city. Mr. Warfel is head clerk in the store of S. & C. Mayer, at Lincoln.

—A post mortem examination was performed this morning by three physicians on the body of Robbie Carr. It was ascertained that death was caused by enlargement of the heart. It was discovered that it had swollen to such an extent that its room for operation was entirely closed, making it impossible for the heart to move.

Died.

McBroom.—At the residence of Isaac McBroom, Sheridan, Col., Sept. 18th, 1888, James Harvey McBroom, aged 53 years and 7 months.

The deceased was a brother of Mrs. L. H. Young, and a former resident of Cass county, Neb.

THE DOCTOR IS GONE.

Thousands of People Unite in Paying Homage to Our Honored Citizen.

THE CITIZENS IN DEEP SORROW.

An Immense Concourse Accompany the Remains to Their Last Resting Place.

His Works a Memoriam.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The funeral of the late Dr. R. R. Livingston, who is known far and wide throughout the state as "The Doctor," occurred in this city yesterday afternoon. It was certainly the largest ever held in this city, and many of the visitors and citizens here who are popular over the state, remarked frequently yesterday that it was the largest ever witnessed in the state. The procession about spanned the road from the Episcopal church to the cemetery and extended more than a mile. Every order of the city was in attendance in their uniforms, and by the count of several spectators, numbered more than seven hundred in the procession. The vehicles on the road to the cemetery numbered between seventy-five and one hundred.

Friends of the deceased were in attendance from all parts of the state and thousands from the surrounding country were so anxious to pay a last tribute to the one who has proved himself a friend in a thousand ways to them all, walked to the city.

As the doctor has filled the office of chief surgeon of the B. & M. for many years, and has ever proved himself efficient in that office, the officials of that company exhibited due respect by attending, in a body, while work in the shops here was suspended for the afternoon.

Every store in the city was closed and nearly every business house in the city was extensively draped with mourning and all flags hung at half mast. This tribute to the dead physician extended to hundreds of private residences.

The remains lay in the parlor of the doctor's residence, in a cloth-covered metallic casket, upon the lid of which was a silver plate bearing the inscription:

ROBERT RAMSEY LIVINGSTON
Born August 10, 1827.
Died September 28, 1888.

At the head stood a most elaborate floral tribute, Gates Ajar, forwarded by R. C. Cushing of Omaha. Above the gates was a spotless dove with outstretched wings. At the base was a pillow of flowers with the words, "At Rest," in purple immortelles. Another elaborate tribute was a Maltese in pink carnations, with the words, "In Hoc Signo Vincas, in immortelles. On the face of the cross was a crown with a Roman cross in yellow roses, while beneath were the emblems of Faith, Hope and Charity. This was a tribute from ex-residents of Plattsmouth who had moved to Lincoln. Mrs. John Fitzgerald of Lincoln sent a beautiful scroll of tuberoses and white roses; the German societies of this city a floral wreath; Mrs. E. G. Doye a sickle in heilrotrope, Livingston chapter, No. 10, K. T. Beatrice, a floral square and compass; the Herrman family a large floral pillow; the Plattsmouth commandary a Maltese cross. Mr. L. Moore, an anchor of roses; little Helen Cox, a cross; Father Kearney, a cross; Miss Burton, a cross; Miss Maggie O'Keefe, of Omaha, a cross, with a number of bouquets from other people.

About 2 o'clock, when the procession formed, the crowd on the streets was immense, and it was almost impossible to walk along the sidewalks on several streets. The line marched south on Sixth street to Main, thence to Third, Vine and the church of St. Luke, where the funeral exercises were held. It afterwards proceeded west to Sixth, north to Oak, and thence west to the cemetery.

J. W. Johnson acted as chief marshal. The first division was in charge of M. B. Murphy. It comprised about 100 Knights Templar, about twenty of whom were past officers, the latter being under the command of Major Hastings. These were followed by seventy-five master masons under the marshalship of V. V. Leonard.

These were followed by the ministers in carriage, the hearse, relatives and intimate friends. The second division in charge of H. J. Straight: Loyal Legion, Grand army post, Sons of Veterans, State

Medical Association. Third division in charge of J. C. Eikenbary: Knights of Pythias and Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Fourth division in charge of Wm. Neville: Hibernians, Liederkranz, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, Ancient Order United Workmen, Fire Department, Mayor and city council, Plattsmouth Glee Club, and carriages.

A square was formed around the grave by the Knights Templar, and within this the members of the Blue Lodge formed another. The burial service of the latter was conducted by V. V. Leonard, and that of the knights by J. K. Marley, of Lincoln, and E. K. Long, of Omaha. The Loyal Legion dispensed with ritualistic services, and the Glee club sang the beautiful anthem, "He's Gone." A bugler sounded the "taps," and then all was over.

The grave was beautifully decorated. The walls were hung with pine branches which effectually concealed the banks of cold and rigid earth. The edge of the grave and for a space of a foot all around was fringed with sprays of palm, while the outer rim was finished with a line of colored autumn leaves as red as sumac in its brilliant period. The work was beautifully done and was a tribute to the deceased by Mr. and Mrs. M. E. O'Brien, of South Bend, and Mrs. F. E. White, of Plattsmouth. The work on the part of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien was in commemoration of the doctor's work on the Nebraska fish commission.

The services in St. Luke's were conducted by Dean Garm r. of Omaha, who delivered the funeral discourse, speaking in general terms of the qualities of the deceased; and Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Beatrice, who spoke on Death.

Hon. F. E. White, the doctor's most intimate friend, managed all proceedings in the burial of his deceased friend.

An Irish Sentiment.

ED. HERALD:—I have seen in an issue of the Journal that its editor and proprietor accuses Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World of being a renegade and a deserter from the Union army during the rebellion. Now, as there is no chance of Patrick Ford ever seeing that obscure sheet or of getting an opportunity to refute its bare assertions, I take it upon myself, with good and reliable authorities, to brand the Journal as a bare fabricator, whose only object is to turn the Irish vote in this locality from Harrison and Protection to Cleveland and Free-trade. The Journal sees that the Irish adhere to its teaching (which I have no doubt they will) that democracy and free-trade are doomed to be buried forever in utter oblivion. English free-trade banished us from the Irish shore and the same malignant enemy wants to pursue us with free-trade to this glorious free republic. Sherman, your lies won't work.
M. O'DONAHUE,
WM. DONNELLY.

Few Eyes

The long felt want in this community for sight-restoring glasses is now supplied by the successful optician, Prof. A. Strassman, from Berlin, Germany, for a short time longer at the Riddle house. The waste of valuable eyesight can be prevented, if not too late, by his correct mode of equalizing all inequalities of the injured eyes. In his speciality, it is conceded that he is the head of the profession, and many of our best citizens, and physicians have been successful in obtaining relief by the use of his glasses:
Allen Beeson, Dr. Sehidknecht,
Byron Drew, S. P. Vanatta,
J. Valley, Jr., W. H. Newell,
H. Boeck, Mrs. P. Kessler,
Mrs. F. Johnson, Mrs. P. Kennedy,
Mrs. N. E. Sage, C. W. Sherman,
Mr. C. Nichols, Eli Sampson,
Mr. Hodgett, Mrs. Rankin,
Mrs. Levings, Miss Young,
Mr. Hayes, W. Manker,
Mrs. Nieman, Prof. J. B. Wittcomb,
Geo. Buckle, Judge A. N. Sullivan,
Mr. Leonard, Judge Chapman,
John Robbins, Mrs. Benfer,
Mr. Holschuch, G. W. Covell.

Consumption Curable.

Since the fact that consumption is both preventable, and in its earliest stage curable, it has lost much of its terror. If the first symptoms are at once recognized, and the proper remedy applied, very few, if any, one, need die of consumption, which is really lung-ferofula. Like many other diseases this formidable one grows out of impure blood, and this, in turn, from a diseased liver. Hence, we have the hacking cough, the pains in the chest, the inflamed lungs, and all the symptoms of hastening consumption, all the result of depraved blood and a diseased liver. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will arrest all such symptoms, restore the liver to healthy action, and send streams of pure blood into every organ. Of druggists.

Her Fault.

If she is made miserable by day and sleepless at night, by nervous headache, pains in the back, easily grieved, vexed or made tired, or is suffering from any of those wasting functional disorders peculiar to women, such as prolapso, ulceration, leucorrhœa, morning sickness, or weakness of the stomach, &c., a brief self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will convince her of the folly of enduring misery that can be so easily, pleasantly and radically cured.
