THE senate committee on postal affairs s decided in favor of the extension of he free delivery system to all cities of ,900 inhabitants, or to cities where the ostal receipts amount to $5,000 per year. There are good reasons why this advanage should thus be given to the smaller cities of the country, and it is to be hoped that congress will authorize it as soon as

LAST Monday United States Minister Mizner was attacked by the daughter of Gen. Barrundia, who was murdered on board a Pacific mail steamer by the authorities of Guatemala. No dam done by the bullet fired by the enraged woman; the bullet lodged in a book which the minister raised as a shield. Minister Mizner is charged by the young woman with being the direct cause of her father's death, Just what responsibility he had in that cold blooded murder will not be known until later dispatches are received. The chances are, however, that he was careful to follow the law which gave the Guatemalan officers the right to take an enemy of their country, even from a neutral vessel. The commander of the ship on which Barrundia had taken refuge refused to give him up, but offered no resistance after receiving word from the minister that it was not lawful to shield the contraband.

If Minister Mizner simply expounded the law to the captain, it does not follow that he should be charged with responsibility for the murder. Further advices will probably show that the outburst of rage against him was entirely without

BRAZILIAN RECIPROCITY, Inter Ocean.

The most important news from Washington since the senate settled the controversy which came to a head over the Quay resolutions relates to trade relations with Brazil. That country has vast possibilities, and may become of inestimable commercial importance to the United States. The Argentince Republic is in the temperate zone, and its products are such as we ourselyes produce in excess of the home demand, but Brazil is a tropical country and produces what we do not produce but must have.

The news referred to is to the effect that Brazil in return for free sugar would not only remove the duty on farm probut would admit free United States agri- | ser us teacher. cultural implements and machinery and railroad equipment and supplies, including railroad iron. Brazil would also, said its representative, Mr. Mendonca, make a reduction of at least 25 per cent in the duty on cotton and leather goods and clothing from the United States. This is highly gratifying assurance that Mr. Blaine was premature, to say the least, in assuming that free listing sugar was giving "something for nothing."

Brazil now does most of her trading with Great Britain. The most important article of importation is cotton cloth. In 1888 it imported from that country about $15,000,000 of this one article, and a little more than that of all other goods, such as iron products, woolen goods and machinery. The customs duties upon these articles average about 45 per cent. The Brazilian government levies an export duty on almost all exports, besides its import duties. About one-third of its exports come here, another third goes to England, and the rest to the continent of Europe. Great Britain enjoys about 45 per cent of the import trade of that country, France 17 per cent, and the United States hardly enough to be taken into account at all. Under the operations of the proposed reciprocity seases that ever afflicted a community. the United States would probably make This disease developes a great variety of heavy inroads upon British trade in Brazil, and a new era will dawn upon the commercial relations between the rwo great countries of America.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, pastor United Bretheren church, Blue Mound, Kas. says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. Havelock and Saltwrter vs. Plattsmouth and Pure Water.

From Wednesday's Daily. EDITOR HERALD: Not to keep you in suspense I say on the outset that the verdict is in favor of the defendant Plattsmouth. Land was bought at what may be called fabulous prices in and around Havelock since the new shops were to be erected there. Speculation was the order of the day and poor Plattsmouth was to be no more than a mere passing station like Louisville or South

Plans and specifications for shops, stalls and an immense water tank were ordered and accepted, and they have worked on them for several weeks. Men from Plattsmeuth were ordered to Havelock. Some of them purchased lots there, and were ready to give what they possessed in Plattsmouth for a mere bagatelle, At the first onset the water in the great tank appeared to give every hope of success. Hopes and fears dispended on the water; but the salt is deeper in the soil at Havelock than pure water, and it has just asserted its right to the premises, by covering the bottom of the great tank with solid salt.

Work is all but suspended around Havelock; the Plattsmouth Terra Cotta Co. got orders not to send any more brick to Havelock. One of the speculators in Havelock wanted Lafe O'Neill to give him three lots in Plattsmouth for three the speculator had in Havelock. Lafe's answer was simple but very characteristic; he simply put his thumb to his nose, and spread his palm to its full extent, but never a word did Lafe speak.

Plattsmouth has won and the B. & M. Company is fully convinced that the greatest treasure it has from Chicago to Denver is the unrivalled spring water of Plattsmouth.

Goldsmith once said:

To me more dear, Congenial to my heart One natric charm Than all the gloss of art.

Again I say if we have been lacking heretofore in courtesies to the B. & M. let us now encourage them to extend their shops here and give us a new depot, so that 1891 will be the commencement of a new era of prosperity to our city and the B. & M. Railroad.

Selfish laziness is one of the worst disymptoms, but the most prominent in this community is the unwillingness of the people to serve as school officeas for the reason there is no pay in it. It is now two months past since the annual school meeting, and this school district has not got a treasurer. The one elected failed to qualify and has since moved out of the district. The old one refuses to serve because he does not want to be bothered with it and there is no pay in bothered with it and there is no pay in it, and no one seems to be willing to take the office, so that up to this time this district is sitting on a two legged stool and one of them wants to drop out because there is no pay in it. ### Skins on Fire.

With Itching, Burning. Bleeding Eczemas Instantly Relieved by Cut cara Remedies.

Our; little son will be four years old on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the Ikin. We called in a physician, who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggregated form, became larger in blotches and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the RESOLTENT about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrid malady. In all we used less than are held of a bettle of CUTICURA RESOLTENT with the horrid malady. In all we used less than one half of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOL-VENT, a little less than one box of CUTICURA and only one cake of CUTICUEA SOAP.
