

WORST FORM ECZEMA

Proved Best Medical Skill for Eight Months. Cured in Two Months by Cuticura Remedies.

This is to certify that a child of mine had eczema in its worst form, and which defied the best medical skill that could be employed here. The little sufferer was wrapped in agony for at least eight months. Six months of that time she simply wept, and then I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES; in two months the awful disease had ceased its vengeance, and my darling boy had rest, and to all appearances the disease had yielded, but I continued the medicine for several months after no trace could be seen of it on any part of his body. The doctors here watched the disease with much interest, and could only say "Well done!" The case was known far and wide, and everybody was much surprised. But I ask you to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Could there be anything on earth that would cause a child to rejoice it surely would be when the little innocents of our country have such a remedy at hand. See portrait herewith. J. A. NICHOLS, Bunker Hill, Ind.

A child was brought to me with chronic eczema that had defied splendid treatment from many good doctors. As a regular M. D., I should have continued similar treatment, but I thought it useless. So put it on CUTICURAS. The child is well.

SPECIAL MARKET LETTER.

W. G. Press & Co., Bankers & Commission Merchants, Nos. 2 and 4 Sherman Street, Chicago, in their last special market letter say: The revival of speculative interest in Stocks, Bonds, Grain and Provisions which was so generally predicted before the advent of the New Year was manifested in securities as soon as the holiday festivities were over, and has since increased in intensity under the influence of advancing prices, but in grain and provisions the absence of outside interest during the first business days of the year disappointed waiting holders, and at once began disposing of their property, causing a general feeling of weakness and a reduction in values.

As usual, the interest centered in wheat which declined until legs who, unable to protect their trades, and those who desired to limit their losses, sold out and it became evident that the offerings were being steadily absorbed, when a reaction began which inspired bulls with renewed courage and enabled them to steadily enhance values and broaden the market until the public evinced a disposition to again enter the speculative arena; but before an entire restoration of confidence was assured, the unexpected promulgation of the Official Report of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, stating the area and yield of the crops of 1891 in measured bushels, blasted the hopes of bulls who again hastened to sell out, and emboldened the bears who attacked the market with vigor, and a courage born of success, resulting in another decline which was rapid enough to bring out long wheat freely on top orders and exhausted margins. The report, which was responsible for the break, shows the area of wheat to have been 39,619,807 acres, and the yield 611,780,000 bushels; of corn 76,204,515 acres, and the yield 2,060,154,000 bushels; and of oats 25,581,961 acres, and the yield 738,394,000 bushels, and while showing a yield of wheat considerably under the estimate of chronic short sellers the figures were much larger than the trade generally expected. With such an exportable surplus as this report indicates, the requirements of Europe and the condition of the growing crop become factors of the greatest importance, for on the prospects of our next harvest will depend the freedom with which farmers market the remaining surplus, and on the necessities of Europe must its disposal depend. The past week has been rather unfavorable for the growing plant, but not sufficiently so as to cause increased damage. The Agricultural Department is authority for the statement, that it is in poor condition to withstand severe winter weather without being well protected by snow.

The corn market, which naturally responds to the fluctuations in wheat, was less affected than the latter by the Official Report, although the yield was somewhat larger than previous reports had indicated. The better service rendered by railroads in its transportation is apparent in the liberal eastern shipments to meet the steady domestic and export demands. The scarcity of breadstuffs in Europe which necessitates the substitution of something for unobtainable rye, is creating a better demand for our corn, which is proving to foreign consumers its value as a wholesome, nutritious and cheap bread grain.

The oat market has attracted more than its customary share of attention, and while affected in a general way by the influences apparent in wheat and corn, was not adversely influenced by the reported yield which was about thirteen million bushels less than the previous year's crop. The better transportation service resulted in liberal shipments, and the outward movement promises to be quite liberal for some time, the demand from the East, to replenish depleted stocks being excellent, while large quantities are needed to supply the winter's export requirements.

The promise of lighter receipts of hogs during the remainder of the winter, and the belief that the eastern shippers will be active competitors of the packers for the diminished supply, imparted a feeling of confidence in the future of provisions which was not destroyed by the weakness in grain after the issuing of the Government Report. About the only depressing feature noticeable, which through its influence on general business in the South may necessitate economy in a section where hog product is liberally consumed, was the panic feeling in cotton, which has carried prices to an abnormally low point. Recent prices for provisions have been relatively lower than the hogs from which they were made, and packers are credited with having bought liberally before any material advance occurred.

Never to Cold to Dehorn Cattle.

Remember it never gets too cold to dehorn cattle, but it does get too warm. Any time except fly time is the right time. It can only be done with safety between October and April. A card addressed to the undersigned at Rock Bluffs, Neb. will be promptly answered.

OUR TARIFF WORKS BETTER THAN ENGLAND EXPECTED.

The St. James Gazette, speaking of President Harrison's message, says:

The most important point is that which refers to the tariff. The figures presented compare significantly with British figures, which show a stationary condition of trade. It is all well to say that Americans will presently discover the mistake in their fiscal policy, but perhaps they may not. In the meantime the calculations of the supporters of the McKinley bill are working out much better than any one in England had reason to expect.

A Nebraska Silver Anniversary Organization Effected.

A meeting of the joint committees of the real estate exchange and board of trade of Lincoln having in charge the proposed silver anniversary celebration of Nebraska held a meeting last Friday evening. The committees organized by electing H. M. Bushnell president. A committee was appointed to prepare an address inviting the people of the state to participate in the demonstration; another committee was appointed to secure rates from the railroads and still another to look after the financial part of the programme. Another meeting will be held next Friday evening. This is a matter in which the people of Nebraska should take an interest and see that the celebration proves a success.

Another Bootlegger.

Nebraska City is making quite a reputation for illicit dispensers of spirituous liquors. A short time ago, Uncle Sam sent a man down in this locality and put the justice clamps onto a crooked citizen. Again the strong arm of the law has been stretched down the Missouri, and another wrong doer has had occasion to repent of this iniquity. Deputy United States Marshal Baker was in the city looking for Ed Johnson, who was charged with bootlegging. He secured his man, and the two went to Omaha yesterday to learn what the law says shall be done with such people.—Nebraska City Press.

The Turn-Bezik.

The fourth annual convention of the Turn-Bezirk convened yesterday morning at the Turner hall, with John P. Sattler in the chair and L. Karges as secretary. There were present twenty-six delegates, six from Lincoln, six from Omaha, three from Fremont, three from Nebraska City, five from Sioux City, Iowa, and three from this city. The headquarters were located here for another year. The turn-fest will be held in Sioux City, Iowa, the coming year. The date will be set in the near future. The election of officers will be held next Sunday.

An Afflicted Family.

There is sadness in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Breiner of Elmwood. Last Thursday morning their little four-year-old child was sitting in a chair by the stove, when it accidentally pulled a wash-boiler of boiling clothes and water over it, scalding it frightfully. The little one died Saturday morning, and then, to add more affliction to the grief-stricken parents, their two-year-old babe fell from a chair the day after the other child died and broke its collar bone and fractured its shoulder blade. Six months ago they buried their eight-year-old child and three months ago the only team of horses Mr. Breiner owned got on the railroad track and were killed.

THE HERALD received a letter from G. L. Austin, formerly with Fred Herrmann but now of the government printing office at Washington, D. C., ordering THE HERALD sent to him. He further says that he will be here this fall to help elect the great and only James G. Blaine, and also that everything at Washington is Blaine. Grant is positive that Blaine will be the party nominee.

Everybody is aware of the fact that this is leap year, but it was impressed upon the mind of the county judge at Council Bluffs the other day when a charming young lady stepped into his office and blushing asked that a marriage license be granted her. The groom is a Milwaukee traveling man. The request was granted. It is one of two instances recorded where a marriage license has been asked for by a lady desiring to commit matrimony.

No Decision.

THE HERALD has it from good authority that the decision in the Boyd-Thayer case will not be handed down for some time.

COLUMBIUS, Jan. 11.—William McKinley, Jr., was inaugurated, with a most imposing pageantry, in number unexplained in the state's history. Notwithstanding the severity of the weather the city was crowded with people from all parts of Ohio and large delegations from neighboring states. The legislature, supreme court, state officers and members of the press assembled in the state house and thence proceeded by Governor Campbell and Governor-elect McKinley, marched to the rotunda of the capitol, where a stand had been erected for the ceremonies. After the introductory speech by Governor Campbell, the chief justice administered the oath of office to Major McKinley.

In the matter of the Plattsmouth Street Railway Co. vs. Sprague Electric Railway and Motor Co. Judge Chapman rendered the following decision: We, the court, find the issues in favor of the defendant, Sprague Electric Railway & Motor Co. That said defendant has complied with the former order of this court and did place the street railway in condition for operation on July 4, 1891, and on that day turned said road over to the Plattsmouth Street Railway Co. and that said street railway company is not entitled on its cross bill and answer. We, the court, find against the Sprague Electric Co. defendant, upon its demand for reimbursement for expenses in replacing said street railway in operating condition. We, the court, modify our former decree ordering sale of street railway property subject to Plattsmouth Gas & Electric Light Co. We, the court, find there is due the Sprague Electric Co. from the defendant street railway company the sum of $—, with interest from July 4, 1891. Sale of said road ordered unless the street car company pay said judgment, together with the liens of other creditors adjudicated in this action within sixty days from this date exceptions to all parties. In the case of Stull vs. Omaha Southern Railway, sustained a motion for rehearing.

Winch vs. Winch is being argued as we go to press.

COUNCIL CLATTER.

The Council Meet But Do Very Little Business.

The city council convened in regular session for the first time this year last night at the council chamber. Present, Mayor Richey, Clerk Fox and Councilmen Salisbury, Gutsche, Petersen, W. D. Jones, D. M. Jones, Browne and Dove. Councilman Minor came in late. Absent, Murphy and Larsen.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Communication from the chief of the fire department was read and referred to the fire and water committee.

On motion of Browne the judiciary committee, in connection with the fire and water committee, were instructed to draft an ordinance to establish a paid fire department and report at the next meeting. Councilman Browne requested the mayor to appoint Councilman Gutsch to act with the two committees, as he had served several years in the department at Galesburg, Illinois, and that his services would be valuable in drafting the ordinance. The request was granted.

A communication from the secretary of the fire department was read, notifying the mayor and council of the officers elected by the fire department. The council laid the communication on the table and the officers-elect of the department will not be confirmed until after the committees report on a paid department, if at all.

The report of the city marshal showed that fines collected for the last month were $7.50. Referred to the police committee.

The report of the city treasurer was read and referred to the finance committee.

Following is the report of the finance committee:

Table with financial data including names like J. R. Deason, Jacob Stull, Orin Kinnison, John Janda, Geo. Palsall, Wm. Bishel, Robt. Johnson, etc., with corresponding dollar amounts.

The claims of Henry McGuire and George Poissal as foremen of the Third and Fourth ward hose companies were referred to the claims committee, as the finance committee did not seem to think a city official could hold two situations and draw two salaries from the city.

On account of the sickness of Mr. Murphy, chairman of the special committee to report on the opening of the alley back of M. O'Donoghoe's lots at the end of Maiden lane the committee was given further time.

Mr. Gutsch moved that if there was not an ordinance in force compelling property owners to keep the snow off the sidewalks in front of their property that the judiciary committee be instructed to draft one.

An ordinance was read transferring $1,261 from the interest and indebtedness fund to the general fund and was laid over to the next meeting.

On motion of Gutsch the council adjourned.
