

TUMBLING INTO THE BASKET.

Governor Boyd Put Three Official Heads in the Basket.

Governor Boyd made three removals yesterday. The first one was Mr. Blanchard, chief grain inspector at Omaha, and appointed H. P. Thompson chief grain inspector.

The next official head to fall was that of Captain W. C. Henry, who was commander of the soldiers' home at Grand Island, and Miles Zentmeyer succeeds him.

Miss Eliza Wiltshire has been appointed matron of the Hastings asylum, to take the place of Mrs. Liveringhouse.

Boyd's appointees seem to be following in his footsteps, as evidenced by the following from the Nebraska City Press.

Prof. Rakestraw does not seem to be losing any time in the way of cleaning out. He had hardly been installed before he released Miss Jessie Sinclair, one of the teachers who upon his (Rakestraw's) recommendation, was given a position by Prof. Parralet, and is a teacher of more than ordinary ability.

Nebraska G. A. R.

The fifteenth annual encampment of the department of Nebraska met at Columbus at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The convention was called to order by Commander Teeter. Mayor Ragatz turned the city over to the old veterans in a short speech and welcomed them to Columbus. Commander Teeter responded in behalf of the G. A. R.

The evening sessions was taken up with resolutions, reports and the appointment of committees. A ringing and eloquent resolution was passed, requesting the Nebraska Columbian commission to do its utmost to have Nebraska well represented at the world's fair.

A $10 collection was taken up to assist the Sons of Veterans at their next annual camp at David City. An adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock this morning. The various candidates for department commander are on the ground and are working hard for the prize, but it cannot be said with any degree of certainty who will be the winner.

There is quite a struggle among the comrades for the privilege of representing the order of the state at the Grand Army of the Republic encampment at Washington, Judge Pat O'Hawes being one of the prominent candidates for the position. There are about 1,000 delegates to the Grand Army of the Republic and Woman's Relief Corps in the city besides a large number of visitors.

Minnesota Veterans Denounce the New York Sun.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Feb. 17.—The state encampment of the G. A. R. to-day adopted a resolution indorsing the record of General R. A. Alger and scoring the New York Sun for the article recently published reflecting upon his military career. The resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, That the article published in the New York Sun reflecting on the military career of our past commander-in-chief, Russell A. Alger, is a libel upon the fair name and well earned reputation of a distinguished soldier and patriot; a disgrace to American journalism and an insult to the grand army of the republic, which should be condemned by every citizen of the United States.

Resolved, That the department commander be instructed to telegraph the above resolution to General Alger."

Department Commander Parker last night telegraphed the resolution as directed.

HE THUMPED HIM.

The Correspondent of the Kansas City Sunday Sun Gets a Sample of Current Public Opinion.

The good people of Nebraska City evidently don't seem to have any use for such personal notices as they get from the pen of the correspondent of the Kansas City Sunday Sun. The following is taken from the Press of that city.

"Young Tolle, who claims to be the correspondent for the filthy sheet known as the Kansas City Sunday Sun had a bit of palpable experience yesterday that should show him just how his paper is regarded in the city. Tolle is a young sneak, who prowls about nosing into other people's business, and then reports to some person of greater ability who writes up the matter in the most breezy as well as dirty newspaper style. There seems to be no doubt that the man who assists this despicable wretch in his ungodly work is an old time newspaper man, but who it is has not been positively learned.

Tolle glories in the supposed power he holds at his disposal, and let out that he would "write up" Casper Lauer for next Sunday's issue. Mr. Lauer is not a man to stand upon ceremony, and meeting Tolle on the street, questioned him upon the matter. Tolle grew impudent and Mr. Lauer grasped his wrist so firmly that Tolle felt his feelings hurt. He accordingly went straight and swore out a complaint for Lauer's arrest on the charge of assault before Judge Eaton. Yet at last report there was found no one to serve the warrant.

As the matter stands, the people are getting to know so much about the disgraceful methods of the Sun and its representatives that public sentiment will support anyone who deals summarily with young Tolle and his unnamed assistant. Such a sneak having no responsibility to law or personal rights has little claim upon their protection. The Press suggests that he be ostracised from connections with people as he was yesterday, when he came to the office to word his complaints. He was promptly rejected."

Word's Fair Notes.

A parade participated in by 24,000 bicyclists, may be a sight at the exposition. Efforts are being made to bring about that result.

The Pennsylvania coal operators want to construct a building entirely of anthracite coal at the exposition, and to have 50,000 tons of the best anthracite on exhibition.

Chief Walker Fearn of the foreign affairs department of the exposition, in a recent report to the director-general, says that interest in the exposition is already great and is rapidly increasing in nearly every foreign country. Foreign participation as shown by exhibits will be exceedingly complete and gratifying.

Balsa Brothers, the largest cigar manufacturers in Mexico, will make an extensive exhibit at Chicago, in 1893, and Loring Olmstead, who has charge of one of the largest tobacco plantations in Mexico, which is the property of the bank of London, is situated in the state of Pueblo, will make a very interesting exhibit, illustrating hacienda life in Mexico. Mr. Olmstead was formerly an officer in the United States navy, and is a graduate from the Annapolis naval academy.

Shool is the Place.

There are editors who still persist in asserting that the man who takes a paper until it is long past due and then, when asked for pay, fires it back into the office that it may be marked "Refused" is a child of the devil. Now I believe that the assertion is unjust. Being the son of a Baptist deacon I never have had a very high regard for the devil and I still consider him a low, vile, mean, sneaking, despicable and outrageous whelp. In fact I would not stoop to recognize him even in a revival meeting. But as low an opinion as I have of his infernal and satanic majesty I cannot consent to be unjust to him and therefore I will not stigmatize him with any connection, either expressed or implied, with such infamous scoundrels.—Fremont Flail.

Weeping Water Items.

Manley is bound to put on airs and grow with the rest of the world. A pool room has been located in their midst.

The property of John Burns will be sold at sheriff's sale on the 14th of March, to satisfy a judgment in favor of W. O. Taylor. It is a nice little property.

The trustees of the M. E. church are enlarging the basement of the church, so as to admit of putting in a better system of heating registers, also a safer one.

Church Howe and C. H. VanWyck were passengers on the afternoon train going west. They both denied any intention of taking part in the Boyd restitution ceremony.

King Stear has packed up his shoe stock and gone to Lincoln. He was very quiet about it, that no one new what was going to happen until the dray began to cart the stock away.

Ike Tegarden passed a first-class examination last Wednesday, before the state board of pharmacy. Ike feels jubilant over his success and feels that he can now afford to wait until 1893 for further honor and glory.

Editor Mann, of the Plattsmouth Evening News, passed through here last Monday enroute to Lincoln. He says the clock is still chiming to the sinners and good people down in that end of the county. What a loss that is to the rest of us they shall never know.

Frank Pine and Herbert Scribner, the two boys who have been employed carrying messages at the depot, drove in their nail and walked out yesterday afternoon. The boys are still out. Manager Clements has employed Dave Mooney, and is looking for another boy.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

The Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Critchfield

COMPLETELY SURPRISE THEM.

They are Presented with an Elegant Silver Water Set—A Pleasant Evening Spent Among Friends

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Critchfield gave them a surprise farewell reception last evening at the Odd Fellows' hall, in the Fitzgerald building. There were about 300, big and little, people present, who passed the evening in social chat and games of all kinds.

About 9 o'clock a committee called at the home of Mr. Critchfield and informed him that he and his estimable wife were wanted down town, and escorted them to the hall, this being the first intimation they had of anything of the kind. They were completely taken by surprise. After arriving at the hall and greeting their friends they were escorted to one end of the large hall, where Judge A. N. Sullivan, on behalf of those present, presented them with a beautiful silver water pitcher and service, which bore the following inscription: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bird Critchfield by their many friends, February 17, 1892."

Mr. Critchfield, in accepting, responded in the following well-chosen words: "Dear Friends—I regret our inability to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to our vast number of friends who have partaken in this most complete surprise, yet it is useless for me at this time to undertake to express our feelings on this most pleasant occasion. We had, to some extent, broken off the ties of friendship which so often hinder persons from leaving a community, and, indeed, often cause the most unpleasant feelings of homesickness, but this occasion only reacts and reassures us that we shall be missed in your city, where our stay of the past four years has brought us in close association with nearly as many real friends and neighbors as during the previous thirty years of our lives. We only want to dearly thank you, dear friends, for the many courtesies shown us, not only in the discharge of the duties of my office, but as citizens during our stay; also for these beautiful presents which you have given us, which probably seem but a small token to you, but to us are valued highly, and, indeed, their value is beyond estimation in our hearts; and we further assure you that we will ever remember our dear friends in Plattsmouth, and if at any time any of you should happen to be in the vicinity of Elmwood you will find the latch string hanging out for you. You will always be welcome, and if the house is not large enough to accommodate you, we will build larger. You will always find me working for the interests of Cass county."

Anna and Fannie Keppel presented them with a pair of napkin rings, and the friends of Miss Mand Hague (Mrs. Critchfield's sister), presented her with a beautiful gold ring.

During the evening refreshments were served. Following is a list of those buying the water set: E. R. Todd, H. D. Appar, W. D. Jones, Jonathan Hatt, J. M. Patterson, John Ellison, L. G. Larsen, P. C. Hansen, B. S. Ramsey, A. N. Sullivan, J. M. Craig, G. E. Dovey, Byron Clark, M. B. Murphy, C. E. Wescott, J. W. Johnson, J. I. Unruh, Wm. Herold, W. C. Showalter, Thos. Pollock, B. C. Kerr, W. H. Geo. Edson of Murray, is in the city to-day.

Hon. W. B. Shryock of Louisville is in the city to-day.

John Jackman, proprietor of the Louisville Mill, was in the city to-day.

County Attorney Travis has removed his office from the Wettenkamp building to the Sherwood block.

J. M. Stone, of Nehawka, was in the city last evening the guest of Judge Ramsey and his son Lester. Mr. Stone was returning home from South Omaha, where he had been with several car loads of cattle.

PARODY ON SOWING THE SEED.

FOR THE HERALD. Whatsoever a man sippeth that shall he also sew: Sewing the thim by the lamp light glare Sewing the hole in my pants with care, Sewing the hole at the dead of night, Sewing the buttons on strong and tight. O! why do the buttons come off? O! why do the buttons come off? Sew by the lamp light glare by the sea, The patches are there but the work is done, Ripped in the seam or ripped in the side, Covered with patches I cannot hide. Heading a rod socks with all my might, Putting our feet into 'em out of sight, Darning our socks both here and there, And "darning" the fact that made them tare. O! why do my socks wear out? O! why do my socks wear out? Sewing with needle that break in twain, Patching the holes again and again: A thimble we use but all in vain. We stit on fingers and yell with pain, O! why do our pants rip and tare? O! why do our pants rip and tare?

The Lincoln Journal says that Mayer Bros., have leased the Fitzgerald building adjoining their new store, which was their former location, and will put a new front into it, cut a connection through the wall and open a big shoe store therein.

According to the Nebraska City Press, a remarkable case of destitution exists in the midst of that ancient city. The man in question is in ordinary prosperous circumstances, but strange to say has never seen Uncle Tom's Cabin played upon the stage. This gentleman is now advancing in years, and there is a threatening danger of his entering the dark valley of death before he is able to realize the dream of his life. Dr. G. W. Schwartz, who is the unfortunate poverty stricken individual referred to, has evidently met with an almost unprecedented run of ill luck. If the unfortunate man would remove to this thriving city he would be able to witness a first-class performance every night in the week. However the Press has started a fund to enable the fellow to attend the play and THE HERALD will gladly contribute it's share.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

C. J. Dilworth Elected Department Commander for the Ensuing Year.

The meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic state encampment for the second day commenced at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. After calling the comrades to order the matter of nominating and electing a department commander was taken up, the following candidates being placed in nomination: Judge Church of North Platte, C. J. Dilworth of Hastings, R. La Fontaine of Kearney, Church Howe of Auburn, J. H. Culver of Milford, P. C. Johnson of Friend, Capt. Henry of Grand Island and Colonel Roberts of Butler county. The morning was mostly consumed in delivering the speeches of nomination, and but one ballot was taken before noon and an adjournment till 2 o'clock was taken. The noon hour was devoted to work by candidates for department commander and their friends.

On the fourth ballot in the afternoon C. J. Dilworth of Hastings was elected department commander. The following officers were elected: A. H. Church, North Platte, senior vice commander; R. La Fontaine, Kearney, junior vice commander; Dr. S. K. Spalding Omaha, medical director; Rev. W. H. Pillsbury, Grand Island, chaplain; J. H. Culver of Milford, A. C. McArthur of Lincoln, S. D. Davis of Wilbur and J. T. Solly of Beaver City, delegates to the national encampment at Washington.

After the election of officers came a camp fire and the inauguration of officers. The encampment then adjourned.

The Woman's Relief Corps elected the following officers: Mrs. Amanda T. Tisdell, Kearney, department president; Mrs. Ashbrook, Genoa, senior vice president; Mrs. Clara J. McCoy, Columbus, junior vice president; Sarah M. Spaid, Grand Island, secretary; Gertrude Horr Connell, Grand Island, treasurer; Mrs. Richardson, Gearing, chaplain; council of administration, Mrs. Merrill of St. Paul, Mrs. Smith of Tecumseh, Mrs. Baldshaw of Lincoln, Mrs. Whitmarsh of Omaha and Mrs. Powell of Beatrice.

The Relief Corps encampment then adjourned and attended the Grand Army of the Republic installation services in a body.

Columbus has succeeded in entertaining her 1,000 visitors admirably, and has sustained her reputation for hospitality and shown that she is a great convention city.

Mrs. M. R. Wickens, national senior vice president of the Woman's Relief Corps, is in the city attending the encampment in the interest of the national grand army of the republic memorial college at Oberlin, Kansas, for the free education of the children of old soldiers and sailors.

The following resolutions concerning world's fair matters were introduced and unanimously adopted by the Grand Army of the Republic at Columbus last night.

Victor Vifquain introduced the following:

"Resolved, that the thanks of the Grand Army of the Republic of Nebraska are due to the world's fair commission of Nebraska for the resolution passed by them which provides that the preference will be given to old union soldiers for all employment in their gift, and we sincerely hope and trust that this patriotic resolve will not remain a dead letter or a deceptive expression of regard upon the records of the commission.

The second resolutions were presented by S. P. Mobley and are:

Whereas, Patriotic devotion to country is the foundation principle upon which the Grand Army of the Republic rests, and

Whereas, The 400th anniversary of the discovery of America is a fitting time for showing that patriotic devotion to the country discovered by Columbus and preserved and prospered by that patriotism which is exemplified in our noble organization.

Resolved, That we most heartily commend the efforts to make the forthcoming world's Columbian exposition an event in the world's history eminently worthy of the grandest nation the world has ever known, and that the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in department encampment assembled deem it the duty of every loyal citizen of the state to give such proper aid and encouragement to the enterprise as will enable the management to fitly illustrate our progress in material wealth and our advancement in education, civilization, art and science, and that we pledge our undivided efforts in that direction.

Resolved, That we request the Nebraska Columbian commission to arrange for the delivery, at the Nebraska building, during Grand Army week, by veteran soldiers residing in this state, of addresses calculated to illustrate the fact that we are a patriotic as well as a progressive people.

Important Opinion Filed.

Attorney General Hastings late this afternoon rendered an opinion in a case of importance to every member of the medical profession in Nebraska. It is embodied in the following letter:

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 18.—E. B. Louquest, M. D., Grand Neb., Dear Sir—Your communication of February 15 has been this day received. I note your request for the opinion of this office on the question as to whether or not a physician, duly registered, under chapter 42, consolidated statutes of Nebraska, with his certificate properly filed in the county wherein he resides, can practice medicine in an adjoining county without first filing a certificate of registration in that county.

Replying to you I beg leave to say section 3287, page 758, of said statute provides for the filing with the state board of health certain affidavits and the diploma of the person desiring the certificate. Section 3288 of the same says that it, upon investigation of said diploma and affidavits, the applicant shall be found to be entitled to practice the board shall issue a certificate under seal stating such fact. The applicant, before practicing, must file the certificate or a copy of the same in the office of the county clerk in the county in which he resides, or in which he intends to practice. It is then the duty of the county clerk to file the certificate and then record it in a book kept for that purpose.

Section 3291 sets forth that any person that shall have obtained a certificate provided by this act and shall remove to another county shall, before entering upon the practice of his profession in such other county cause said certificate to be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county to which he has removed.

I am of the opinion that the intention of the legislature was that the physician should file his certificate and have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he has his office, or resides. If this is done, and properly done, my judgment is the requirements of the law have been met. The physician having done this is entitled to practice in any county within the state where he may have a professional call. If, however, he should change his office or residence to another county, he would of necessity comply at once with the provisions of section 3291 above mentioned. I remain,

GEORGE H. HASTINGS, Attorney-General.

Hawk vs. Wagner. Hawk vs. Wagner is a case in police court to-day that is attracting considerable attention. Hawk is a farmer who lives ten miles south of town and has a large family of children. He was married some time last summer and since then his domestic affairs have not been running as smoothly as they ought to. Before he was married his wife borrowed $50 from William Wagner, with the understanding that he (Hawk) would pay it. His wife left him, and to get her to return and take care of his children he agreed to give her a mule—that is, if she would live with him. She went back and lived there nine days, according to the testimony, and then left. She had the mule brought to town and turned over to William Wagner to liquidate the debt. Hawk replied the mule, claiming that she had failed to live up to her bargain, and hence the mule did not belong to her. Mathew Gering is prosecuting the case and J. L. Root is for the defendant, Judge Archer has taken the case under advisement and will render a decision next Tuesday.

John Ossenkop, of Louisville, is in the county seat to-day.
