

THE LEAGUE FALLS DOWN.

No One Wanted to Put Up the Cash and Manager Houseworth Releases His Men.

Notwithstanding the fact that Lincoln parties were the first to set on foot the movement for the organization of the state league of base ball teams and had to all appearances carried the movement to a successful issue, it has been known for the past ten days that breakers were in sight. Manager Houseworth had gone ahead securing contracts with players and making such arrangements as could be made without any outlay relying upon T. J. Hickey, president of the league, at whose solicitation he claims to have gone into the movement, to come to the front with the needed capital when it became necessary to make an outlay. At last the time arrived when it became necessary to purchase uniforms and paraphernalia and meet other necessary preliminary expenses and yesterday Manager Houseworth was apprised by Mr. Hickey that he did not intend to put up the cash. Without further ado Houseworth sat down and notified the players signed not to come to Lincoln, releasing them from their engagements. The only player here now who came from abroad is Fowler. Smith, Hillis and Castone are local men.

This will be stunning news to the teams in the other five towns, as some of them have incurred considerable expense and unless some other town can be induced to come in, the league will be disrupted.

There will be an opportunity afforded for some explanations, and right here the vice-president wants to get from under and disclaim all responsibility for either the organization or the collapse.—Lincoln Journal.

There is no danger but what the state league will be a go, as either Norfolk or Kearney are only too willing to be represented in the state league and at short notice will step into Lincoln's place.

A Pair of Otoe County Lovers Dodging the Girl's Father.

Fred Warner, a farmer of 20, and Della Bales, sweet 16, of Syracuse, are just enjoying love's young dream. They loved each other on their Otoe county farms, but their parents looked on their affection with disfavor and would not permit them to marry.

Young Warner was romantically desperate and so when Friday Miss Bales came to Omaha to visit an aunt, who resides on Park avenue, Warner forsook his cows and farm, left all the chickens running in the garden and came to this city.

Della's father knew that there was a plot hatching and so he started for the depot. He found at Berlin that the couple had come here and he immediately took the train for Omaha. Young Warner had the Syracuse rustle in his blood, and he heard of the old gentleman's contemplated visit here. Saturday afternoon young Warner hired a cab and, securing the blushing Della, drove to the depot and took a Missouri bound train. It is said they will stop at Langdon, and there be married, and together they will brave their parents' ire, and settle down on the Otoe county farm.—World-Herald.

Twice in a Week.

The publishers of the State Journal struck the public want when they commenced printing the Journal twice a week. The circulation has been more than doubled. Everyone can see the advantage of receiving two complete papers each week, with markets and telegraphic news while it is fresh. What makes the Semi-Weekly Journal so popular is, that it is only $1.00 per year, which is the same price other papers charge for their weeklies.

A year's subscription to the Twice-a-Week Journal will carry its readers through the national conventions, the presidential campaign, and through the next session of the Nebraska legislature. Everyone will want a reliable newspaper during such stirring times, and these events will afford the Semi-Weekly Journal ample opportunity of proving its superiority over any weekly paper. It is almost as good as a daily, giving 104 papers a year at less than one cent per copy. Others give but fifty-two papers a year. We are still offering the paper a year, and our great Stanley book, for $1.40, or we will send the book free for two new subscribers. Write for a sample copy and we are sure you will subscribe. The Semi-Weekly Journal is the newspaper success of the west. Join the crowd and receive twice as much for your money as the old weeklies give you.

World's Fair Notes.

In front of the administration building at the exposition the largest fountain in the world will toss graceful streams and excite the admiration of millions of spectators. It is now being constructed in Paris by Sculptor MacNonnies, who is acknowledged to be one of the best of living artists. The idea of the fountain is that of an apotheosis of modern liberty—Columbia—and will take the shape of a triumphal barge, guided by Time, heralded by Fame, and rowed by eight standing figures, representing on one side the arts, and on the other science, industry, agriculture and commerce. This barge is preceded by eight sea horses, forming a semi-circle in front, and mounted by eight young men as out-riders, who represent modern commerce. The smallest figure is some twelve feet in height and the largest twenty feet. The design of the basin is circular—150 feet in diameter—and is flanked on each side by columns 50 feet high, surmounted by eagles. The water is furnished by a great half circle of dolphins in the rear and by a system of jets which entirely surround the barge and figures. At night the fountain will be illuminated by electricity after the principle employed in fountains in the Champ de Mars. Molders and other artisans are working day and night in getting this immense fountain ready in time.

The Board of Lady Managers is making arrangements for an extensive exhibit showing women's share in the illustration of books in engraving and other forms of picture. During her recent visit to New York Mrs. Palmer consulted with a number of publishers and received considerable assistance from them. A list of distinguished woman illustrators was secured and plans set on foot to obtain old volumes and manuscripts illustrated by women, together with historical data concerning woman's share in this line of work from ancient times down to the present.

A number of owners of steam yachts in New York intend to utilize them to transport themselves and their friends to the exposition by way of the St. Lawrence and Welland canal. They believe it will be of great advantage to live aboard their yachts, and thus be independent of crowded hotels. It is reported that the owners of many steam barges in Canada will fit them with comfortable living quarters, and carry Canadian visitors to and from the fair.

RUSTLERS ARE ON TOP.

Four Stockmen Wounded in a Fight and the Sheriff and his Posse Repulsed.

GILLETTE, Wyo., April 12.—The fight between the rustlers and stockmen is waging desperately. The ranch of Nate Champion, the chief of the rustlers, was surrounded and over 200 shots were fired into the building. Champion was killed. Nick Ray was the Champion at the time. The house was soon fired and Ray was burned to death. Champion is reported to have left the house and to have died in the open.

The rustlers have got a large number of cattlemen corralled at the T. A. ranch, ten miles from Buffalo. Four stockmen were wounded in the fight and taken to Buffalo. A mounted messenger arrived at the rustlers camp in great haste Monday, with important news.

The report of the killing of Nat Champion and Nick Ray on Powder river is confirmed by a stage driver reaching here this morning. He reports that Red Argus, sheriff of Johnson county, went to Powder river Saturday with a posse of twenty men and reported upon his return to Buffalo the following details of the killing of Champion and Ray.

Champion's cabin was surrounded by the stockmen and his surrender demanded. He refused to come out, and shooting then commenced. When Champion and Ray exhausted their ammunition, Champion made a rush from the cabin, but when 300 yards away was shot and killed, his body being riddled with bullets. Ray remained in the cabin. The attacking party placed hay against it and fired the place. Ray's body, burned to a crisp, was found on the floor of the partially destroyed building.
