

JEFF. L. STONE, - City Editor.

A. Sallsbury, Dentist. These Easter cards at Phil Young's are handsome, sure enough, and are rapidly going.

Who said we were going to have nice pleasant weather now, right along. It snow such thing.

Don't forget the meeting at the T. A. M. club at the council chamber tonight, 7 1/2 o'clock sharp.

The city election occurs two weeks from today, and in order to vote you must register. The registrars are sitting now, in each ward.

Knights of honor meeting in their lodge room this evening at which a full attendance is requested.

The Herald understands that V. V. Leonard will be among those who will build a new residence the coming summer.

Isn't it about time the people of Plattsmouth were waking up to the fact that city election is almost at hand; and does it not behoove them to see to it that the grand farce that our police officers have been enacting for some time past is brought to a close on election day?

We are indebted to the Journal office for the use of their press, and to Mr. James Lamberton for his valuable assistance in getting out the Herald last evening. Our press, like the anti-monopolists in the late legislature, refused to "concede," which accounts for the delay, etc.

We desire to call attention of the readers of the Herald to the advertisements contained therein. The enterprise displayed by the business men in the manner of advertising and the goods they advertise speak for themselves. Read over the advertisements and see who the live and successful business men are.

The city at present is full of roughs and roustabouts, who have no money and won't work, so of course must resort to "deeds that are dark and tricks that are vain" to keep them alive. Look out for sand-baggers and thieves. As the warm weather approaches the number increases. Get new locks on the back doors, and turn the dog loose in the yard.

The popularity of the B. & M. railroad and its officers is evidenced by the rapid increase of its business. The present regular express and passenger trains are not sufficient to do the business that is really demanded, and the company have decided to run the trains known as Nos. 3 and 4, which now only run from Plattsmouth and Omaha to Lincoln and return, clear through to Red Cloud, making two trains each way daily, on the main line as far as Red Cloud. It will not be long until through trains in the same way will be required.

The telephone exchange ought to double its present number of exchanges in this city. There are very few in the city who have given a telephone more than a starvation trial that would do without one and if the number in the city were doubled their value to all would be much greater.

The snow has disappeared almost as rapidly as it appeared. It may, after all, just happened to help Wiggins out of a bad scrape. The weather clerk evidently like the Omaha Herald is in "sympathy with the under dog," and Wiggins happens to be the under dog. Dog on Wiggins.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. As reported from the Clerk's office each day:

State of Nebraska to Lorenzo Ahl, n w 1/4 12-11-10 d-$324. Wm. Slade and wife to A. E. Lake, n 1/2 e 1/4 21-21-10 w d-$1,500.

An order was sent to one of our drug stores yesterday which reads as follows: "Nickle's worth salce tarter, sets ayamonea, 5 cent glycerin soap." This is almost as bad as the printer who couldn't get the words "Jesus Christ" in a line, and being in a hurry abbreviated it, making it "J. Christ."

Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Plattsmouth Driving Park association will be held at the County Judge's office on Saturday evening, March 25th.

Election of officers and other business of importance will be transacted. A full attendance is requested.

U. V. MATHEWS, President. J. A. MACMURPHY, Secretary.

Take a look at the display made in the front windows of the opera house clothing store. It is only a sample of what is inside.

At 6 o'clock this evening the spring of '83 makes its entrance. "Spring, spring, gentle spring"—Oh Lord.

For latest styles of children's knit suits, also two and three piece suits visit the Opera House clothing store.

Personal.

C. H. Minor, one of the good boys of Omaha, is in the city for a few days.

Miss Nellie Gerrans and Mrs. Ed Gerrans (nee Mattie Cooper) came down from Lincoln yesterday to spend a few days in the city.

Johnny Sexton, an old time Plattsmouth boy, now of Missouri Valley is on a visit to his home in this city.

Judge Lavery, of Tipton, is in town today shaking hands with his host of warm friends in Plattsmouth.

W. N. Buel, of St. Joseph, Mo., of the Buell manufacturing company, son-in-law of Chaplain Wright, is in the city for consultation with Dr. Livingston. He is suffering from chronic catarrh and other difficulties.

Solomon & Nathan wish to introduce to the ladies of Plattsmouth and vicinity Miss Florence Brooks who is a milliner of eastern experience and will hereafter have charge of that department in their store. Miss Brooks will be pleased to meet the ladies and show them the many new styles for the spring season.

Louisville Locals.

Hon. Orlando Tefft and other parties from Avoca have been spending a few days hereabouts, hunting geese, but the festive goose "hangs high" yet by several majority.

Mr. Seever has been visiting in town a few days accompanied by his new bride. May their lives long continue to flow on as peacefully as the laughing waters, is the wish of "Skedunk."

Mr. H. Herold has got his stock of clothing in shape, and has sold several suits already.

Another dance for the benefit of the sidewalk fund occurred last Friday evening. It was a success socially and financially, and we shall now walk dry shod to the depots.

James Drake has been trying all the toothache cures of late.

Truman Hall's team took a spin around town Sunday on their own responsibility. The buggy got a slight wound, and that's all.

J. V. Glover is rearranging his stock of goods so as to show his spring goods to advantage.

Frank Saander is putting a neat stone sidewalk in front of the clothing store.

Capt. Howell and Dr. Hasemeier have been entertained by "awful bad colds" for a week, but they have got it about all "harked" up now.

Asher Cooley is building a nobby little residence on the east side, but it is big enough for Asher, and he will move to town as soon as it is done.

S. A. Milgrim will not move west as reported last week, on account of the ill health of Mrs. M.

The lads and lasses here have swapped styles on head rigging. The demure lass appears now in a plain hat, while the hitherto verdant youth goes forth gushing and blushing beneath a brilliant red hat adorned with trimming to match.

Charley Brown, our lively democrat from Illinois, is here to dispose of his crops, and will take a lot of seed corn back with him. He is arranging with the Mo. Pac. company to start a town midway between here and Weeping Water. The county seat is to be moved to the new town in a few years, and then Weeping Water and Louisville will be recorded with Herculeaneum and Pompeii.

SKEDUNK.

The Herald is indebted to Master Frank Burgess for official figures as to the snow fall last night, which was 22-100 of an inch.

The county clerk is making good headway with his assessor's books, and says if he could work on Sunday he would soon have them completed.

Sheriff Myers today received the intelligence that a carriage and span of horses had been stolen in Sioux City, Iowa, also a horse and buggy from a livery stable in St. Joe, Mo., and to be on the look out for them.

A little summary justice, dealt out like the old anti-horse thief association used to administer might be effective.

Philip Horn was in town today with a handsome, black hall Norman stallion, whose weight was 1840 lbs. He is big enough, and looks as though he might be strong enough to pull almost anything.

Business on the streets, to-day is pretty quiet, even the usual number of loafers don't show up.

The Journal office is indulging in a big new sign on the west side of the Guthman building, their present place of abode.

THE REFORM SCHOOL

Location of the New Building--The Management--Miscellaneous Notes.

Hon. E. P. Roggen, secretary of State, returned Friday from Kearney where the board of public lands and buildings went to inspect the reform school and select a site for the new building. The other members of the board, Attorney General Powers, Treasurer Sturdevant and Mr. Kendall, president of the board, went from Kearney to their homes at Dakota City, Geneva, and St. Paul respectively.

The site selected for the new building is within 150 feet of that of the building occupied at present. The present building will be converted into work shops, for the training of the inmates of the school.

Mr. Roggen says that there are not nearly sufficient accommodations at present to satisfy the demands for admission for children. He does not doubt that if there were sufficient accommodations there would be 100 inmates within three months. He believes that this will become a very important and useful institution and will have five hundred inmates within the next five years.

The board design putting up a barn at once, an appropriation having been made for that purpose, and this can be utilized for a time for sleeping apartments. The board will advertise on the first of June for plans, and on the first of July for bids under the plans.

The board were well pleased with the management of the institution. There are thirty boys and eleven girls in the school, and the discipline among the inmates is said to be wonderful. They are trained like soldiers, and they are controlled in their movements by a simple movement of the hand of the superintendent.

The superintendent believes in moral suasion, and does not administer corporal punishment of any kind. There are certain privileges which the inmates have, and they forfeit these by an infraction of these rules. This is generally all the punishment that is required. A citizen of Brownville took his son to the school some time ago, and he assured Dr. Collins that no moral suasion would have any effect upon the boy, that he would have to whip him. The doctor said that he would do nothing of the kind, and has been as good as his word. The boy is obedient and trustworthy, and is frequently sent up town with sums of money to make purchases. In no case has he failed to execute his errands with promptness and fidelity. His father wanted to take him out a short time ago, but the boy did not want to go and was not compelled to do so.

There is no enclosure around the grounds sufficient to prevent the escape of an inmate disposed to run away, but there is an uninterrupted view for several miles around and the doctor on one occasion at least made good use of this advantage. One of the boys got away and had been gone some time before he was missed. Dr. Collins got a large field glass which he had purchased a short time before, and by means of it discovered the lad about three miles off, and taking a horse, soon overtook him and brought him back. He soon after missed his telescope, however, and it occurring to him to stir up the ashes in the large stove he found the slag into which the telescope had become metamorphosed. The boy had evidently taken this precaution against recapture a second time.

There is a good deal of trouble grows out of the tendency of those desiring admission of their children to swear under the age. The rule is to admit none over sixteen, and parents are inclined to distort the facts in order to get troublesome children off their hands. Another unpleasant thing is the presence of several idiots who have been sent there. This unfortunate class of beings seem to have no proper place. They have been scattered around between the reform school, the penitentiary and the insane asylum, in none of which places they belong. Some provision ought to be made for them.—State Journal.

A City in Ashes.

Under this heading the Black Hills Index, published at Central City gives the following account of the fire: It shows how news will increase in volume when it leaves home:

Under date of 17th instant the telegraph gives information of the total destruction of the business portion of Plattsmouth Nebraska, by fire. As many old residents of Plattsmouth are now living in this county, this will be read with regret. It is terrible to contemplate a busy little city in flames, with no power to check them, but to sit and watch the crumbling of fine business houses, erected at great expense, one by one, and see the crackling fire lick up home after home. We predict that upon those ashes will grow a better and more permanent city.

The horse thief has been getting in his work again in the vicinity of South Bend. Poor judgment was used though, as it is doubtful if the animals taken would sell for the amount which is offered as a reward for their capture. The following is the description of the horses and reward offered:

STOLEN.—From George Schroeder, on Sunday night, March 18th, 1883, one cream-colored or almost white mare, weight about 800 pounds, blind in one eye, lump size of hen's egg on left side of neck. Also, on the same night, from South Bend, two sorrel horses, weight nine hundred and fifty to one thousand pounds; one white faced and one crippled behind. Will pay $50 reward for capture and conviction of the thief or return of property.

R. W. BYRNS, Sheriff. Plattsmouth, Neb., March 19, 1883.
