PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY

The Plattsmouth Herald Publishing Co.

For City and County Directory, Railway Time Tables, Telephone Exchange Business Directory, Business Cards, etc., see third page.

JEFF. L. STONE, - City Editor.

A. Salisbury, Dentist.

The members of the T. A. M. club are requested to meet at the council chamber to-night at 7:30. A full attendance is desired.

W. C. Rounds bade farewell to every fear last night, and in his mind some of his creditors. His whereabouts to-day are unknown to them, but they would like to C. Rounds and square up with him.

The Journal gets a little mixed, at times on its editorial geography, owing, perhaps, to the Misses' cellanous manner in which it makes up its editorials. It is now laboring (like Bab el's wife) with the outrages committed or permitted by the republican party in Connecticut, and grows indignant that the Nutmeg State has failed to elect Shot Gun Sprague, Governor. Evidently the Journal has not heard from Rhode Island or Plattsmouth.

At the art loan the ladies have a Japanese and Chinese department, presided over by a lady arrayed in the dress of the heathen. That branch of the art loan will attract a large circle of admiring spectators.

Mr. S. M. Chapman has the oldest book on exhibition at the art loan, an English law and justice book, in an extra state of preservation.

Arrangements are being perfected to-day for the concert Friday evening in connection with the art loan. No extra charge for admission will be made.

"We regret to learn that our cotemporary," the Journal, "is in such distress" because of the condition of the HERALD, and if it is any source of satisfaction to our considerate friend, and will in any manner relieve him of some of the bills which has so apparently accumulated since the DAILY HERALD commenced, we will state this paper is in a flourishing condition, with about 300 paying subscribers on its list. Not an employee is compelled to stay, and if they are not satisfied with their wages, they are at liberty to go. The boys are paid every Saturday, are paid in money and are paid good wages, the Journal to the contrary, notwithstanding. It's none of the Journal's business, any how, come to think about it, whether the HERALD pays its help anything or not. It is not the policy of the HERALD to indulge in personal attacks upon people for the mere purpose of having something to say, but the Journal's "distress" to know something of the condition of the HERALD, must be attended to, and we hope he is fully satisfied if not he might come and look over the books. The HERALD will continue to be printed each day, and the help will be paid as usual every Saturday, and paid good wages.

ALMOST A SUICIDE.

A Case Deserving of Sympathy.

The fellow confined in jail for the burglary of the Louisville saloon, attempted to hang himself this morning and very nearly succeeded. He has suffered a great deal from epileptic fits, and is fast becoming an idiot or maniac as the result. Deputy Eikenberry had his arms fastened down at his side by means of a belt around his waist, and this morning he succeeded in getting his arms free and the belt from around his waist. He fastened the belt around his neck and tried to hang himself from the bars, but was prevented by the interference of other prisoners.

These fits he claims are the result of a mad dog bite received a number of years ago. The fellow is to be pitied, and something should be done for him besides confining him in the county jail. Where are the philanthropists.

A MUGGLED MARRIAGE.

The Conial General Ticket Agent of the B. & M. Tied for Life.

On the third of the present month, Mr. P. S. Eustis, the well known and popular general passenger agent of the B. & M. was united in marriage to Miss Eliza Russell, daughter of William T. Griffith, in Philadelphia.

It was expected that the bride and groom would arrive home yesterday, and accordingly their comfortable suite of rooms in the Millard hotel were put in shape for their reception. A Bee reporter caught a glimpse of some of the presents which awaited the bride, and they were beautiful indeed. An exquisite bouquet, of the horse-shoe design, occupied the space on the center table. It was of the most delicate and fragrant rosebuds with a lovely calla lily in the center and on each side. This was an offering from Mr. Eustis' admirers in the headquarters building.

Then there was a beautiful toilet set of embroidered blue silk from Miss Eva L. Ives and a very handsome beveled plate glass mirror in a hand painted velvet frame from Mrs. Sidney E. Locke.

Unfortunately the bridal company did not arrive as was expected, but they will find the evidences of good will and remembrance when they do move into their quarters in the Millard, which cannot but be pleasing.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Their Regular Meeting Last Evening and the Business Transacted.

The Council met in regular session last evening. Present Mayor Weckbach, Councilmen Schnellbacher, Herold, Hartman, Murphy and Lehnhoff and H. M. Bushnell, clerk pro tem.

The reading of the minutes of last regular meeting was dispensed with. Applications and bonds accompanying for saloon licenses were presented by Geo. P. Weidman, F. Goos, M. O'Connor, J. J. McVey and Peter Mumm, and the same were referred to committee on licenses.

The mayor called attention to the necessity for opening up a road in the north part of the city. Mr. Herold, Mr. Wayman and city engineer Fairfield, who were present with the council, spoke of the necessity of meeting being done in the matter at once. On motion of Mr. Hartman it was referred to the committee on streets, alleys and bridges, together with the city engineer, with power on their part to take action at once.

A communication from J. A. Connor relative to the city's purchasing certain grounds for additions to Oak Hill cemetery was read and on motion referred to the cemetery committee.

The following bills were presented, and referred to the finance committee: Mrs. Roba White, wood for city.

W. A. Hendrickson, surveying 14 00
On motion proceeded to canvass the vote of the city election held April 3. The mayor appointed Mr. Murphy and Mr. Hartman to conduct the canvass, who, after opening and canvassing the votes, reported the following:

Personal.

Ed Wescott returned from Chicago this morning.

Miss Jessie Baker left this morning for Agency City.

General Smith and Dr. Clutter were on the train for Omaha this morning.

Attorneys Hartigan and Crites went to Nebraska City this morning to attend the district court now in session at that place.

Elder J. G. Miller, of Lincoln, is in town and is arranging for the sale of some of his lands on Four-mile.

William Coon, of Weeping Water, was in the city today on his way to New York.

J. E. Morrison started this p. m. for Fremont, Nebraska, where he attends the grand lodge K. of H. which is in session in that city.

Mrs. Wm. Atwood left last evening for Illinois, where she will spend several months visiting relatives and friends.

W. J. Agnew returned from Ashland last night.

Wm. Atwood went to Ashland this morning, he intends visiting the western part of the state before he returns.

Vine street takes the cake for girls, any way. It was a whole menagerie, lemonade and all, to see one of them excuse a cow from the front yard this afternoon. She ran out and in a soft, sweet gentle voice gave the cow a pointer to the gate. Madam Cow had a pretty fresh appetite for the nice green grass which grew in the front yard, and desired to linger longer, but the girl got emphatic, and picking up a small piece of board proceeded to demonstrate her earnestness in the matter. It is needless to say the cow concluded to go.

A couple of suspicious looking cusses thought to steal a ride on the K. C. train this morning from Oresopolis to Plattsmouth. When the train started so did they, and they succeeded in getting on the platform of the front car, next to the tender. Fortunately they were noticed when they got on, and Conductor Harvey promptly stopped the train and put them off. They probably footed it to town, and cursed the conductor.

Regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church. It is hoped there will be a good attendance. Mrs. Cooley will preside.

Wednesday Night at the Art Loan.

On Wednesday evening the ladies having the art loan in charge will give an old fashioned supper in connection with the exhibition at Rockwood hall, at which time and place the ladies will be attired in costumes of "ye olden time," and the styles of the past will all be represented. The supper will be in quality and quantity to satisfy all and the entertainment will be one of the most enjoyable of the week entire.

"Say," said the wool sayer to the confectioner's clerk, as he wiped the sore by his right eye, "how is it we don't see as much of you as usual up around this part of Vine street?" "What's the matter with you?" replied the clerk, as he swallowed a fresh roasted caramel, "ain't I around here as often as usual, or are you trying to April fool me?" "No, I am in dead earnest," replied the wool sayer as he sighted along the keen edge of his corporation fiddle. "I was cutting wood here until after dark last night, and you haven't been up before to-day."

"Never you mind me," replied the clerk as he turned over a basket and sat on the dry side of it. "How is it with you; were you ever in love, and do you think a man can love the way I do more than once?" "Well I should think not," replied the ancient man of the saw back. "You've got it awful bad. Why, all the boys around here are talking about it and wondering when it is coming off, and the girl she sings and seems almighty happy all the time. You needn't mind about me; if I was ever in love I didn't put in all my time chasing a girl, and I didn't swing on the gate before dark so that all the neighbors could see me and have the whole town onto me and there want any skating rinks, when I was a boy, and I never had a caddy of sweet things to catch a girl with. I'll tell you how I would catch on when I was young and before I took to drink, some day, but you'd better run right in and see her now, for she's been looking for you for some time, and you are most out of candy, too."
