TELEGRAPHIC TERRIBLE TORNADO.

Surrendered by his Bondsmen.

An Odd Odd Fellow.

ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.
CENTRAL FALLS, R. I., April 14.—Geo. H. Smith, financial secretary of the Odd Fellows lodge, has been arrested for embezzlement of the lodge funds.

A CITY OFFICIAL IN JAIL.
NEW YORK, April 14.—Ex-Mayor DeBevoise, of Long Island City, was surrendered by bondsmen and taken to the county jail. Judgment for $100,000 was given against him for wrongful conversion of the city's bonds.

DESTRUCTION BY A TORNADO.

OSARK, ARK., April 14.—This morning a disastrous tornado struck the White Oak, Little Rock & Ft. Smith railroad ten miles west of here. The wind blew from the southwest and the force was beyond powers of description. The side of the mountain, which before was covered with trees, are now shorn. None are standing, even oaks being snapped in twain like pipe stems. Afterward came hail, which lasted until the ground was covered with ice, many stones being nearly as large as hen's eggs. T. H. Ransom, postmaster, lost his store and residence, probably most of the mail. 300 dollars in currency was also scattered by the wind. He was seriously injured about the spine. L. Wallace's residence and store, occupied by J. E. Cox were all levelled, as were also the residence of J. C. Murray and all others on that place. The storm averaged three miles in width. No fences can be seen anywhere. Trees two and three feet in diameter were uprooted, broken and twisted like twigs. Pile after pile of great railroad ties were found blown around as if they had been matches.

Reports of destruction of property and loss of life come from every direction. Thomas Ross and wife and Wm. Herron, one mile north, were fatally injured and their houses swept away. W. E. McCain, David Hall, John Brasure and Wallace all lost their houses. Daniel Wade, Wm. Hann and Zach Harper also lost their houses. The Union church and school house, one mile northwest, are also in ruins. At Gay's mill, two miles west, one small residence is all that remains standing. F. J. Lewis' house and half a dozen others are in ruins. The storm was of such severity as was never before known here. The tornado reached Conway, Faulkner county, at 3 p. m. No one was killed, but several were badly injured. No reports from the interior.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 14.—A violent wind storm occurred here today. It unroofed several houses and did considerable other damage. Several storms in different parts of Kansas the past twenty-four hours.

INTERNAL REVENUE.
WASHINGTON, April 14.—During the first six months of this current fiscal year the internal revenue receipts are $108,825,798, an increase of $2,551,393 over the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

REVOKED.
The order suspending James L. Ayers, of Huron, Dakota, as attorney of the land department was revoked by Secretary Teller.

FOREIGN WHEAT.
The report from the London agent of the department of agriculture makes the probable decrease in the area of wheat in Great Britain 15 per cent, and 10 per cent in France. There is also a reduction of the area in Russia. In Austria and Hungary the full breadth has been sown, but the condition of the plant at the present time is not generally very favorable.

SMALL-POX AMONG INDIANS.
Charles N. Hewitt, secretary of the Minnesota state board of health telegraphs to Secretary Teller that Indians in northern Minnesota are exposed to small-pox, and wearing infected clothing, wandering around the country. Indian Commissioner Price replied that the agent had been authorized to purchase clothing for the Indians, and that a physician was on the spot.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.
Secretary Folger has appointed a committee consisting of J. C. New, assistant secretary, Jos. H. Robinson assistant solicitor of the treasury, and W. F. McClennan, chief of the warrant division, to investigate the charges of official misconduct recently filed against Jos. G. Hill, supervising architect.

BIBBLING BOURBONS.

The Democratic Love-Feast.

What They Did, And Who
They Were.

CHICAGO, April 14.—The banquet at the Palmer house on Friday evening was an eloquent commemoration of the natal day of the father of democracy. The principles announced by Thomas Jefferson, and living still in the platform of the democratic party, were again given utterance last night under the auspices of the exponent organization of that party in the northwest and southwest. Incorporated Oct. 19, 1881, the Iroquois club has assumed a position of national importance, and today thousands will read the published speeches delivered at its banquet board, and make auguries for 1884. The gathering was a large one and many a name among the list of guests is known where reputation and brain are respected and admired.

The large main dining hall of the Palmer afforded barely sufficient space for the accommodation of the guests, and when all were seated the array presented was one worthy of description. The room was brilliantly lighted, and the appointments and decorations were superb. A raised platform at the north end of the hall a table stretched from end to end, and before eight long tables, all covered with snow white cloth, reached to all the extremities.

Interest was centered, however, on those who occupied the prominent positions at the raised table. The following gentlemen were seated at this table: Erskine M. Phelps, president of the Iroquois club, in the center; on the right president—U. S. Senator T. F. Bayard, of Delaware; Hon. Thos. Hoynes, William F. Vilas, of Madison, Wis.; Judge Lambert Tree, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Lexington, Ky.; A. F. Sneeberger, Hon. Lyman Trumbull, James G. Jenkins, of Milwaukee; Hon. William Springer, of Springfield, Ill.; Hon. Carter H. Harrison, Judge J. G. Rogers, S. Corning Judd, Judge Gary. On the left—Rev. Galusna Anderson, James O. Broadhead, of St. Louis; J. W. Doane, Wm. Henry Hulbert, of New York; L. Z. Leiter, Gen. J. C. Black, of Danville, Ill.; Everett F. Wheeler, of New York; Judge T. M. Lyle Dickey, J. Sterling Morton, T. M. Shaw, of Springfield, Ill.; J. C. Gregory, Hon. J. R. Doolittle, Hon. R. W. Townsend.

The toasts of the evening were: "Our country," responded to Senator Bayard, of Delaware. "Thomas Jefferson," by Hon. James O. Broadhead, of Missouri. "Democracy past, present and future," by Col. W. F. Vilas, of Wisconsin. "The constitution," by Hon. Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois. "Manifest destiny," by Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky. "A tariff for revenue," by E. P. Wheeler, of New York. "Temperance a virtue, prohibition a vice," responded to by J. G. Jenkins, of Wisconsin. "The Democratic Press," by Wm. H. Hulbert, New York World. "The Great Northwest," by General John C. Black, of Illinois. "Monopolies Should Not Rule," by Congressman Wm. M. Springer, of Illinois. "Public Office, a Public Trust," by Mayor Carter H. Harrison.

Harrison's speech created some sensation. He arose to speak at 2 o'clock and at once deserted his original text and entered into a fiery denunciation of free trade doctrine in its broadest sense as previously advocated by Col. Vilas and other speakers. The mayor predicted dire disaster to the democratic party if it abandoned moderate protection and inserted in an out and out free trade plank in its national platform. His remarks created considerable dissatisfaction among other speakers. The speech credited to Harrison in the morning papers was not spoken. To-morrow his real speech will be published.

Letters of regret were received Samuel J. Tilden, Gen. Hancock, Samuel J. Randall, Abram Hewitt, and S. S. Cox, of New York; Gen. Geo. B. McClellan and Gov. Ludlow, of New Jersey; Governors Stoneman, of California, Crittenden, of Missouri, McEnery, of Louisiana, Adams, of Nevada, Wallace, of Connecticut, Berry, of Arkansas, Shacknara, of Kentucky, and Cleveland, of New York. Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, and numerous others, sent letters of regret.

During the day the rooms of the Iroquois club were filled with visitors and the presidential outlook was canvassed at length. The general drift of opinion seemed to favor Samuel J. Tilden for the democratic standard bearer in 1884. After Tilden, McDonald, of Indiana, was the favorite choice. To-day Senator Bayard and a number of other distinguished democratic visitors visited the "model city" of Pullman.
