THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER.

The Prohibition Question in Iowa.

The Sculling Regatta.

A new Man to the Front.

Miscellaneous.

A PROBABLE SUICIDE.

Cleveland, June 24.—The body of Charles T. Goodwin, cashier of the Lake Shore freight house here, was found today in the lake near the breakwater. He undoubtedly committed suicide. His accounts prove him a defaulter in $7,000, although he had sufficient property to pay his debts. His suicide is therefore not fully explained. He left no letter or word of any kind. He was regarded as a model upright man. He lost money speculating in grain.

HEARTLESS HATHAWAY.

Philadelphia, June 24.—The coroner began an investigation of the charges against Dr. Hathaway, alleged to have buried the bodies of illegitimate infants in the cellar of his dwelling. The doctor was brought from prison and was present during the examination. Ann Maria Emery, the alleged wife of Hathaway, testified in length in regard to the burning of babies and three burials in the cellar. The sons of both the doctor and woman also gave similar testimony. Detectives Wolf and Miller were examined in regard to the discoveries in the house occupied by the accused. The jury returned a verdict that Dr. Hathaway was guilty of abortion in numerous cases. Hathaway was committed for trial, and the alleged wife was held as a witness.

HAWKEYE PROHIBITIONISTS.

Des Moines, June 24.—Thirty county conventions have declared for prohibition. The expectation is therefore warranted that the Republican state convention will declare in the same manner. The contest, already heated and bitter in the primaries, will probably continue so until the polls are closed. With this fall's election the temperance people intend to settle finally the constitutionality of prohibition by choosing a legislature that shall do the constitutionality until it can legally assimilate the vexing doctrine thoroughly and effectually. While the prohibitionists have seized the republican party organization to accomplish the purpose, and they are identified with that party so thoroughly by preference and tradition that their failure would be a republican setback, here and there democrats have come out for prohibition as the only thing that will settle an irrevocable conflict.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The opposition, which was first against Gov. Sherman early in the year, appears to have subsided. In the light of present events, it must be conceded he was wise in the course he pursued in refusing to yield to the clamor of a few over-zealous persons. He evidenced far more stamina than most people supposed he possessed. The people will yet learn that he has more "sand" than they supposed. Time and good judgment are turning those who a few months ago were denouncing him, in his favor. There is now no opposition to his re-nomination, and he will probably have none in the state convention. Efforts are being made to draw him into the supreme judge contest, but without success. He will have nothing to say or do in the matter, and herein again he evinces his good judgment.

THE SUPREME JUDGESHIP.

is hotly contested. In Des Moines township, which comprises the west half of the city, there was a direct contest for and against Judge Day, and a large vote was polled. The anti-Day ticket won by a majority of 261 in a total vote of 944. The county may therefore be set down for McDill. John N. Rogers of Davenport, positively refuses to permit his name to be used as a candidate for supreme judge. He has been mentioned quite prominently, and is one of the ablest jurors in the state. The indications are that Judge McDill will get it, though the friends of Judge Reed of Council Bluffs are coming to the front strong. They will join issues squarely with the friends of Lieut. Gov. Manning, and claim there is no precedent in the history of the party for giving that office two terms to the same person. But they will have to contend with one of the most popular men who has held the place.

THE GABRIEL.

Chicago, June 24.—The sculling regatta on Lake Calumet Saturday afternoon developed a surprise and prodigy in the person of young Teemer of McKeesport, an oarsman heretofore unknown, but who displayed his mettle by winning a place in the final struggle Friday, but who failed to keep up with either Haulan, Hosmer or Hamm, owing, as it is now claimed, to his inexperience.

"Consolation race," open to all but the three leaders of the day preceding, he covered the three miles in 20:14, thus lowering Courtney's best record of 20:14 1/2 and the best time on record, and upon which his reputation has been built. Five thousand people were on the grounds. The seven men were ready, and when the word was given at 4:34 went off together, having been placed as follows: McKay, Lee, Grandaur, Elliott, Parker, Riley, Teemer, Plaisted. Grandaur shoved to the front early, with Riley second and Elliott third, both leading Teemer and Lee a length. Teemer then came up and passed Elliott, who dropped out of the race. Lee then forged ahead and turned the mile and a half buoy first, in 9:15, Grandaur second, with Teemer, Riley and Plaisted in the order named. At the mile and three-quarter buoys Lee made a claim that Grandaur had fouled him, and from that on the chance for first place was gone. Grandaur pushed ahead and passed the two-mile buoy at 14:03, leading Lee one-half length, McKay in close proximity with Teemer on his quarter and Parker and Plaisted well in the rear. Lee stopped rowing after passing the two-mile buoy. Teemer all this time was rowing in the form, and, passing McKay, pulled for Grandaur with a stroke of 22 to the minute. At the two and a half mile buoy, Teemer went to the front and held it to the finish, Grandaur coming in second two seconds later, with McKay, Riley, Parker and Plaisted following in the order named, McKay and Riley being well up to leaders.

The double scull race was called at 5:20 o'clock, with five entries, as follows, and in the order given: Haulan and Lee, Plaisted and Parker, Hosmer and McKay, Grandaur and Kennedy, Weisgerber and Clayton. The story of the race is easily told. Haulan and Lee led off at a forty stroke, and were pushed for one mile by Hosmer and McKay, Weisgerber and Clayton keeping well up, and Plaisted and Parker dropping back early. Haulan and Lee passed the mile and a half buoy in 8:42, McKay and Hosmer second, Grandaur and Kennedy third, Weisgerber and Clayton fourth, and Plaisted and Parker fifth. After starting for home Haulan and Lee increased their lead materially, and before passing the two-mile buoy, ceased rowing for fully ten seconds. They started again, leading by six lengths, and stood to the finish, increasing the gap momentarily, and crossed the line in 19:37, Hosmer and McKay coming in twenty-six seconds later, Weisgerber and Clayton nine seconds after them. Grandaur and Kennedy were fourth, and Plaisted and Parker fifth.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

Washington, June 24.—Secretary Chandler has addressed a letter to the chief of each of the bureaus of the navy department, calling attention to the recommendations of the commission concerning the reorganization of the navy yards and the disposition proposed to be made of each yard. The recommendations of the various yards have been furnished a copy of the letter and requested to assist in carrying out the plan of the commission. The secretary alludes to the statistics of the navy yards, and says: "They show an enormous daily expenditure, namely: For 657 foremen, clerks and employees other than ordinary mechanics and workmen, $2,179, and 3,805 other employees $9,139, making 4,462 total employees at a daily cost of $11,319, or at a rate of $3,000,000 a year, when the only work in progress on ships of war at all the yards was repairing of the Omaha, Shenandoah, Trenton, Ossipee, Mohican and Alert."

SUNDAY OPENING.

The Post will publish tomorrow a long article presenting the question of opening on Sunday the National Museum, Smithsonian Institute, Congressional Library, and similar institutions at the capital. Librarian Spofford, Professor Baird, Cyl. Robert G. Ingersoll and Robert Colyer, of New York, favor the movement, while of the numerous ministers here but two approve the proposition.

VAN WYCK WINS.

Second Assistant Postmaster Elmer has annulled the contract lately awarded to John R. Miner for carrying mail on the newly established route from Fort Niobrara to Deadwood. This is the matter on which Senator Van Wyck has been waging such a strong war, and will be looked upon as at least a partial victory for him. Miner and his backers were so sure of being sustained by the postal authorities, through the influence of some of the Nebraska delegation, that they had already sent horses and mules to various stations along the route, and were getting ready to commence business. What action will now be taken is unknown, but at all events it is pretty positive that none of the old star route crowd need apply.
