Joe Ford has purchased the C. Utend barber shop and will henceforth scrape the faces of the boys, and sandpaper their heads, as in the olden time.

The pay car made its regular appearance today, and caused the countenances of the railroad boys to brighten up.

We cry "quits" with the Sat. Regulator man, and if we ever called him "fa" didn't mean it. We got him mixed with the Rev. Geo. Scott of the same place, probably because they were together.

It is currently reported that another weekly newspaper is to be started in Plattsmouth, of greenback proclivities. If it will have any tendency to increase the supply of them generally, we give it a hearty welcome and say "sal in."

Some of the boys got hold of a "gray" at the depot Saturday and got him interested in matching nickles—three of them matching—the odd man out got the money, it was a pretty robbery, but the odd man lost all his money.

A musical case with a bird, and a good voice for music, was around town entertaining the robble in the different saloons this afternoon, picking up an odd nickle here and there and putting down an occasional drink.

All linen goods: Straw hats, Linens, Alpines, and White Vests, must be closed out regardless of cost. Call early and secure bargains of Maud Emery who boarded with the County a short time for keeping a house of questionable character has shown that she is not a feather hardened but still has room in her heart for sympathy. Today she sent the boys in jail some cigars and tobacco which was relished and appreciated by them.

Wiley Black will please accept the thanks of the local page of THE HERALD for a most enjoyable ride last evening behind his sorrel mare. By the way, she is a pretty good stepper and we had to hang on with both hands to keep from bouncing out of the buggy.

The Nebraska City News is trying pretty hard to stir up something sensational down there, and every once in a while slyly makes mention of a smothered scandal of some sort, and there it ends. There is nothing like keeping the people expectant, and looking for the next chapter, but they occasionally wait the next chapter or an acknowledgment that there is none.

Attention Firemen!
The fire department will have a meeting to-morrow evening at half past seven o'clock, at the council chamber. Every member is requested to be present.

THE WANDERER'S RETURN.
A Visit from The Old "Dead" Tramp!

The old tramp, who stopped with us some three weeks ago, and who refused to be done by working on the city streets, is with us again. Since his departure from among us, he has passed through many harrowing scenes; the most noteworthy being the time when he was nailed up in a box car, found dead at Council Bluffs, and buried there by the authorities. Since that time he has visited the city of Omaha and been entertained by the courts of justice and police force there. He there refused to break rock upon their streets, desired no contract in street paving, and expressed no preference between Colorado salt and our Dakota granite. He therefore could not be made of any use upon "all the city" and the authorities there sent him on an excursion to this city. He will be, while with us, the guest of P. B. Murphy, J. C. Eganberg and E. B. Koster, who will be glad to find him and dine and furnished free transportation back to Omaha. Meanwhile if Omaha continues to entertain this distinguished citizen with free transportation to Plattsmouth, the chief of police here will secure an annual from Mr. Hodgson for the special use of this distinguished traveler. There is nothing mean about this city or its officers of the law.

July Crop Report

The Nebraska State Board of Agriculture will at an early day issue a full report giving acreage and other desirable information as to stock &c. Daniel H. Wheeler, State Statistical Agent, has telegraphed the following to the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, being a summary of report received from the local agents in the several counties of the state:

Condition.	Percent.
Wheat	90
Barley	85
Oats	80
Hay	75
Beans	70
Peas	65
Apples	60
Plums	55
Cherries	50
Berries	45

Louisville Locals.

Will Shryock has been quite sick for a few days, but he is up and around again. Lou Myers is running his store for him while he recuperates.

The Hall House is receiving its finishing touches.

The B. & M. depot is undergoing repairs and improvements.

It does seem that something should be done to keep Mr. Wm. Spence from roving over the country. The fact that an insane man is harmless does not prevent persons being more or less frightened at his approach. The case of Mrs. Schneider should be sufficient warning to guard against like or worse results of allowing insane persons too much liberty.

Walter Adams is back from his cattle range. He reports a tie doing well and his prospects for making money at the business are good.

The agricultural implement-fellers are getting in their work on self-binding trade mows. They dub each other the "bind-down" and "up-stair" men. The spirits they purchase are for "mechanical purposes" only.

The political situation is beginning to interest a few. We heard "a still, small voice" the other day. Hon. Orlando Telf passed through town Friday.

The Observer says that "Skedunk" was "virtually mistaken or else jumped a cog" in relating "Gene's" experience with the late flood. The following from the Talmage Tribe will shed some light on the subject.

"Gene" Maxwell, editor of the Louisville Reporter, was in our town Saturday night. He was on his way home from St. Joe, Mo., where he had been attending a printer's feast of some kind, but "Gene" says he failed to see the feast because in "He had a 'tie pass' over the Missouri Pacific, and on Sunday morning he wended his way homeward, singing 'Homeward Bound, O'er the Missouri Pacific Ties.'"

Ed Wilkinson was the first to see Gene when he got home, and in company with the driftwood protruded from all his pockets. Martindale says it is all right to say that he looks like Gene most of the year, but he wants to be excused during high water.

County Bridges.

The county commissioners held a short session this morning, and this afternoon started out on a thorough inspection of all the bridges in the county. They take the county engineer with them, and will take the measurements and estimates of all the bridges washed out or gone, with a view to replacing them at once. They do not estimate the damage done to the bridges at $80,000, as some of them had about served their time anyway, but the estimate is based upon the bridges needed to replace the old ones, and those destroyed by the floods. They will be out of all this week and longer if necessary.

Editor HERALD—As one of our old pioneers of this city was coming from Cedar Creek, passing over the high land south of Platte river, he was delighted with what he saw—fields of waving wheat, ripening oats and golden barley, that in a residence here of 27 years he had not seen anything to surpass in his history or memory at this time of year, and as far south as 8 or 10 miles presented a grand, picturesque landscape, being varied by ripening grain, cornfields and artificial groves of timber and orchards near the gate of Eden, which you can see up the east branch of Platte river while at the N. E. corner of S. 7-12-13.

The Lehnoff building is being treated to a fresh coat of paint, which greatly improves it in appearance.

A wagon load of shootists went out to the Platte Bottoms this afternoon to practice at shooting clay pigeons. The HERALD backs the Smith family.

Why can't we have open air concerts by the band occasionally? We have a fine band, and the monotony of a quiet evening might be varied sometimes by a few selections by the band.

THE GIRL OF THE PERIOD.
A Poetic Picture of the Modern Young Lady.

The Norristown Herald is responsible for the following poetic effusion:
Hero
hang my bangs
o'er eyes that dream,
and nose and rose
bud tips for cream
and here's my chin with dimples in
This is my neck,
with-out a speck
Which doth those snowy shoulders
deck; and here—see oh,
double T O N, which girls
all wear like me; and here's a heart from cupid's dart, safe shelved by this corset's art
This is my waist too tightly laced on which a bustle big is placed
This is my dress, I guess,
I guess, did my poor papa much distress, because he sighed
when mama tried it on,
and said, so I cried but mama said I soon would and buy pe's clothes for him
instead, it's trimmed with lace just in this place, "neath which two ankles show with grace, in silken hose to catch the beaux who think they're lovely.

I supposed there are my feet in slippers neat, and now it will should chance to meet we'll flirt
a little on the street, how sweet.

Miss Carrie Adams, one of our fair school ma'ams, went to McCook, this morning, for a short visit among relatives and friends.

Mr. John Kline, returned to his home in Hastings after spending nearly a week in the city visiting his many friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Henry Schullorf returned home this morning from a two weeks visit to Cedar Creek, being called there by the sickness of her son-in-law.

Santor C. Lewis, of Cedar Creek, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to come to Plattsmouth, Saturday, to consult physicians.

Mrs. J. F. Johnson took her departure this morning for Eddyville, Iowa, for a short visit, and when she returns will be accompanied by Miss Sweeney.

Mr. Frank Hager, of Creston, Iowa, for whom Plattsmouth has contained a good deal of attraction for the past few days, returned to his home this morning.

Walter Houseworth, in company with his mother and sister, came down from Omaha Saturday evening and returned Sunday evening. Mrs. Houseworth will remain a few days, then return to her home in Burlington.

Hon. M. A. Hartigan returned last evening from his western trip, and says he is glad to get home. He reports everything as dry and dusty, and no rain in Idaho since the first of May. In comparing the two countries he expressed himself very emphatically, by saying he "would rather have Cass county than the whole of Idaho."
