DESTRUCTIVE STORMS

That Extend from Nebraska to Pennsylvania.

General Miscellany.

IOWA NOTES.
Hamburg, Ia., July 13.—About half past twelve today, after threatening and gathering all the morning, a huge storm cloud swooped down from the northwest, and burst over our little city. For a few minutes the streets were filled with debris of all kinds. Signs, wagons, buggies, goods, boxes, awnings, were flying hither and yon, and many trees were uprooted. The South M. E. church was razed to the ground. The upper portion of Alexander's shoe store, and quite a number of frame fronts were blown out, also several small frames were totally wrecked. Small fruit, grain and corn were considerably damaged by wind, rain and hail. Those who had anticipated such a storm by preparing caves, had occasion to seek refuge therein and quell their fears.

BUFFALO COUNTY.
Kearney, July 13.—Imperfect reports concerning Kearney of a terrific hail storm in the northeastern corner of this county. It seems to have originated somewhere in Sherman county, and traveled southeast over the corner of this county, the western part of Hall and across Adams about Hastings. The reports are to the effect that it swept all in its course. It was about two miles wide.

Council Bluffs, July 13.—Specials to the Nonpareil from McPaul, Pluma Hollow, Percival and Hamburg, on the Kansas City road, in Fremont county, give particulars of a frightful cyclone and terrific hail storm that visited that section at noon today. Particulars are meagre, owing to the damaged wires. At McPaul great damage was done to buildings and crops. A large two-story brick school house was demolished. Several houses were blown down, one occupied by a family in which was a woman and a new born babe. It was blown to pieces, but the occupants escaped serious injury. Another house was destroyed, but no one hurt. The front part of Paine Bros. store was blown in. Wheat in the surrounding country was completely beaten to the ground. Corn, grass and trees were leveled and cut to pieces by the hail, which was as large as hen's eggs. The depot of the Kansas City railroad at McPaul is almost a total wreck, while there is not a house in the town with a whole window in it. It is reported ten persons were more or less injured there and in the vicinity, but no one killed. The storm seems to have started near Pacific Junction and took a southerly course, growing in dimensions and power as it reached Percival, McPaul and Pluma Hollow. At these points great damage was done by the wind and hail. The fury of the storm cannot be described. For a time the greatest fear was felt by all who witnessed it. It is thought a large number of horses, cattle and hogs were killed by the hail, which fell thick and fast. It is reported that considerable damage was done at Hamburg also.

THE TORNADO AT ST. JOSEPH.
Kansas City, July 13.—A Times St. Joseph (Mo.), special says: A tornado passed over this region this afternoon, doing much damage. The first town in the track of the storm was Hamburg Iowa, which was struck about noon. A brick church and several frame buildings were wrecked. The front walls of several business houses fell out in the street. The storm then appeared in Westboro in Atchison county, demolishing eight or ten houses and injuring nearly all buildings in the place. One child was killed. Stanbury, Mo., was struck about 1. The main tower in the normal school and the cupola of the Baptist church was blown down. Three other churches were moved from their foundation and one wrecked. At Burlington Junction a small place, it is said not a single house escaped injury. Main street presented a scene of destruction, filled with wrecks of buildings. The fronts of several stores were blown in, halls carried away and others unroofed. It is said that the people there are in need of help, but it is impossible at this hour to learn definitely the situation. About twenty-five houses were blown down at Maquette. Nothing definite received from there. At 1 o'clock black clouds appeared here, but divided and passed without serious injury.

STORM AT ST. LOUIS.
St. Louis, July 13.—This evening a heavy wind and rain storm passed over the city, doing considerable damage on land and river. The tow boat, Charley Bowen, with the barge Red Wing, was blown from her moorings at the foot of Buchanan street across the river, and driven ashore above the bridge. She is sunk and her bow stove in. The propeller, Nagotache, and a canal boat belonging to Chicago, were blown from one of the lumber yards in the north, part of the city across the river. Both landed safely at Venice, Ill.

Rafts containing 900,000 feet of boards and a raft of logs of half a million feet were driven from their moorings and floated down the river. The lumber raft struck the bridge and broke into four pieces. Five men on it narrowly escaped drowning. Three tugs and a tow boat were sent after the rafts. Damage in the city consists of unroofing the Missouri Pacific freight house and blind asylum, and numerous minor injuries.

THE STORM AT MARYVILLE.
St. Joseph, Mo., July 13.—A special to the Herald from Maryville, Mo. says that place was visited by a cyclone between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day. Thirteen of the best business houses were unroofed, court house and jail were badly damaged. The city hall and Presbyterian church are nearly a total wreck. Union hall was also badly damaged. Mrs. Reynolds was the only person injured.

KANSAS SUFFERS.
Larned, July 13.—Particulars of the tornado on Pawnee river are meagre. Rows & Butler's mill is blown down, and Fitzgerald's sheep sheds are gone. Large hail stones killed young calves and lambs. Corn is cut terribly. The extent of the damage is not known.

STORM AT PEORIA.
Peoria, July 12.—A wind storm this afternoon did some $4,000 damage to buildings. Several people were hurt, none seriously. Damage to crops is not known.

THE BLOW IN DAKOTA.
Bismarck, D. T., July 13.—At 6 this evening the heaviest wind storm ever known here began, and lasted an hour and a half. The wind was 60 miles an hour. Lumber piles and some houses in course of erection were blown down. At Dickinson one or two fronts were blown in by the storm. The Northern Pacific shop building at that point was damaged slightly.

FLOODS IN VIRGINIA.
Harrisburg, Va., July 13.—The most damaging flood prevailed in this place last night. About eight o'clock, two angry clouds met just north of town, and rain poured down in torrents. Black's run, a small rivulet through the town, became a mighty river spreading over some of the principal streets. Shocks of wheat from neighboring fields, hogs, chickens, fences small houses and endless drift came pouring through the main thoroughfares. Many private houses were flooded and greatly damaged. Sidewalks, and in fact bridges, were swept away and many streets greatly damaged. The whole population was out on the streets till past midnight.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT FIRTH.
Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—The most serious storm of the season occurred today. A man named M. J. Wilson, at Firth was fatally injured by a falling shed. A large brick block in course of construction in this city was leveled to the ground. Loss, 3,000. At Louisville the crops are badly damaged by hail. Reports from all directions show serious damage by hail. At some points the hail fell as large as hen's eggs.

Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—The worst general storm of the season occurred today. Rising, Neb., July 13.—A severe wind and hail storm occurred this morning, breaking a little glass and destroying all small grain in some sections. The corn will recover. The loss to this section will be nearly $100,000.

DESTRUCTION OF THE INDIANA UNIVERSITY.
Bloomington, Indiana, July 13.—Last night the Indiana University was discovered on fire. The laboratory was soon in flames, and shortly afterwards the library and museum. The latter contained the famous Owen collection and Dr. Jordan's collection of fishes. The library had 15,000 volumes. The fire caught by lightning striking the telephone wire. Loss $200,000; insurance $30,000.

FAILURE OF ORANGE JUDD.
New York July 13.—Orange Judd, the publisher, assigned yesterday for the benefit of his creditors. His debts are individual and do not affect the Orange Judd Publishing Co. Judd was prostrated by a sun stroke about a month ago, and since then has been unable to attend to business. He had a number of notes out which were about to mature, and for which he had not made immediate provision. David W. Judd, his brother, stated he has not been connected with the firm for some time, and only nominally for several years.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.
Harrisburg July 13.—The most damaging floods occurred here last night about 8 o'clock. Angry clouds met north of town the rain poured down in torrents, brooks ran like small rivulets through town. The river is spreading over some of the principal streets. Shocks of wheat from neighboring fields, hogs, chickens, fences small houses, and endless drifts poured through the main thoroughfares. Many houses are flooded and greatly damaged. Pavements, sidewalks and foot bridges are swept away. The streets are very much damaged. The whole population was out on the streets till past midnight.
