CITY CORDIALS.

Council meets tonight. Permission to wed was issued this morning by County Judge Russell to L. I. Peterson and Emma S. Gustofen, both of this county. Mr. Sherwood is fixing up his store and making the necessary arrangements for Mr. Gault to move his stock of jewelry in with him. Frank Carruth is arranging his store for Mr. Donnelly, late of the firm of F. Hermann & Co., to put in a new stock of gents furnishing goods. Mr. Frederick Rosenbrook, of Fremont, Nebraska, and Miss Aurilla B. Thrasher, of Plattsmouth, were united in marriage, by Rev. J. T. Baird, May 27th, 1888, at the home of the bride. The barber shop at the Riddle house will be ready for business tomorrow morning. One of the barbers is already here and another is expected today, so that all can get a first-class shave or hair cut at any time. The rain Saturday afternoon was perhaps the hardest one of the season. Several bridges throughout the country have been reported as considerably damaged and some even washed entirely away by the large amount of water flowing down the streams. All county offices will be closed on Wednesday, decoration day. This is a legal holiday and business could not be transacted besides the county officers want to show their respect for the honored dead and will refrain from all business that is not in keeping with the day. Jay Mansfield, of Wahoo, the new barber for the Riddle House barber shop, arrived in the city last night. We have known Mr. Mansfield for a number of years and can recommend him to the citizens of Plattsmouth as a straight-forward, energetic young man, a good barber and a gentleman in the fullest sense of the word. And as such we heartily welcome him among us and hope that his stay here may be both pleasant and profitable. The Kansas City trains were considerably delayed yesterday on account of large washouts on each side of St. Joseph, caused by the heavy rains of last Saturday. We are informed that about two miles of track is washed out on this side of St. Joseph and about 2,000 feet on the other side. The trains from Kansas City are run around by Creston, Iowa, and up on the main line of the C. B. & Q. to Pacific Junction, making quite a round about road and delaying the trains for several hours. We have received a pamphlet from the Wabash and Western Railroad Co. announcing the Twenty-fifth National festival of the North American Sengenderband to be held in St. Louis June 13th to 16th. $50,000 have been guaranteed by the people of St. Louis for the entertainment of those who will be in attendance at this grandest of all musical gatherings. The best musical talent of North America will be in attendance and any lover of good music can hardly afford to miss this meeting of the greatest of musicians. The Wabash & Western Railroad will sell tickets at one fare for the round trip. Saunders county is now jubilant over the honor that has just been conferred upon her by the State Dental Association in selecting Wahoo as the place where the next meeting is to be held. The whole city is patting Dr. J. J. Willey, the chief mover of the selection, on the shoulders for his good work in securing the honor for Wahoo. So proud are they over the selection that already have they begun to make arrangements for the meeting which is to be held there next May, by securing the Masonic hall for the use of the association. By the way, what's the matter with Plattsmouth advertising her beauty by securing some of these associations to meet with her. It's a good advertisement for a city. We are in receipt of a souvenir of the National Democratic convention at St. Louis June 5th, containing portraits of distinguished Democratic statesmen and Cleveland, both living and dead, issued by the passenger department of the Wabash and Western railroad. The portraits are all good, but it is rather a pity to us why they wanted to put in portraits of the dead, well knowing that the St. Louis convention would be the funeral of the entire Democratic party and that thereafter all distinguished Democratic statesmen would be classed among the dead. The Wabash and Western railroad will sell tickets to the National Democratic funeral at one fare for the round trip. This will perhaps be the largest funeral ever held in the United States and all who desire to have the honor attending such a funeral should avail themselves of this excellent opportunity.

Memorial Day. Decoration day is fast becoming one of the greatest holidays of the nation. Only a few years ago it was scarcely thought of except in the larger cities; but today every city and in fact almost every person in the United States is stirred by such demonstrations of respect that they are compelled to turn an attentive ear and do honor to the brave dead who fought and died for the preservation of the Union and for the freedom of her people. These are but fitting demonstrations of honor for these noble dead. And although they may not do the dead any good they can do no harm and it will do the living good to show their grateful remembrance and appreciation for what these noble heroes have done for their edification. We hope to see this day continue to grow in favor until every hill, valley and mountain shall rebound to the glorious cry of freedom and union for ever and inseparable.

Memorial Day Procession. All organizations intending to join the procession on Decoration Day are requested to meet at their halls at one o'clock and be prepared to move promptly at 1:30 o'clock to the places assigned them. The person in command of each society is requested to report to the marshal of the day, J. W. Johnson, at the office of Brown & Streight from ten to eleven o'clock, May 30, for orders and to be assigned places in the procession. The signal for the societies to leave their halls will be the tapping of the fire bell at 1:30 p. m. All are urged to move promptly so that we may have no tiresome delays. In case the weather should be unfavorable for marching out to the cemetery, our services will be held at Rockwood hall at 2 p. m. J. W. JOHNSON, Marshal of the Day.

JOHNSON, Post Commander.

Sons of Veterans. All sons of veterans, who wish to become members of the Plattsmouth camp, will meet at G. A. R. hall, at 7:30 p. m. sharp, Monday evening, May 28th, for muster. Sig. C. GREEN, Capt.

We have been informed by persons in a position to know, that at least two-thirds of the corn planted during the first part of the month will have to be replanted. This is due to the cold wet weather rotting the corn before it could sprout. It leaves many of the farmers in a rather bad shape as they are late with their crops any way and now to be compelled to replant what they have already planted makes it much worse and in fact looks a little discouraging.

CANZONETTE.

Tell me not, where roses blow - Tell me, where do roses go, When their sweet leaves and one by one Perish 'neath the rain and sun? As I queried came reply From a voice that nestled by: "Roses, when earth's beauty dies, Bloom afresh in Paradise." Say not whence affections flow - Tell me where our life loves go, When our senses, breath, by breath, Chafe into all senseless death. As I queried came reply From the love close nestled by: "Earthly loves with souls arise Still to live in Paradise." -Espy W. H. Williams.

Stars That Waltz.

When a planet is perturbed some other heavenly body is surely pulling it, which explains the eccentricity of the earth's orbit and also the curious zigzag motion of the star Sirius. Some great body is pulling it, and that body was discovered by Alvin Clark's great telescope. The strangest discovery of the spectroscope was that it could tell whether a star is approaching the earth or retreating from it. It was found fifteen years ago that Sirius was departing at the rate of twenty-nine miles a second. This rate kept diminishing, and now the star is approaching at the rate of twenty-one miles a second. The only hypothesis tenable is that this planet discovered by Alvin Clark's telescope is large in size, but low in temperature, and that Sirius is really a double star. In fact, the two stars are actually waltzing with each other in space, making a curious zigzag movement through their influence of each other. That is the latest discovery of the curious results of motion.—Dr. S. R. Chalmers.

Superstitions of the Pueblos.

The Pueblos—commonly called Indians, but really descendants of the ancient Aztecs—have numerous superstitions. The eagle is a sacred bird with them—the winged throne of their emperor god, Montezuma, for whose promised second advent they still patiently wait. In any of the Pueblo cities you will find the great dark eagles, either tethered upon the house-tops or perched in little cornals of cedar, and religiously tended. The Pueblo hunter always has marvelous luck, if he carries with him a tiny stone image of a coyote with a tiny arrowhead lashed to its side. Though nominally converted to Catholicism, the Pueblos are still secret but ardent fire worshippers. The snake, too, is sacred to them, and you will find its symbolic coils in their rock sculptures and on their quaint silver jewelry.—New Mexico Cor. Globe-Democrat.

Increase of Scandinavian Population.

The Scandinavian population grows at its root in Castle Garden in New York, and in all its branches over the land. The total number is now about 2,000,000, of whom one-half were born across the sea. They are divided in about these proportions: Swedes, 1,000,000; Norwegians, 750,000; Danes, 245,000; Icelanders, 5,000. So rapidly have they increased in Minnesota that they now number about one-half of the population of that state. Chicago is the fifth Scandinavian city in the world, and Minneapolis the sixth.—Public Opinion.
