CITY CORDIALS.

—"Pastor McShane."

—This is pure Nebraska weather.

—Only three more days of democratic suspense, then they will fall.

—The news has been a little bit scarce today, everything is politics.

—Every young man in Plattsmouth is invited to attend the Y. M. C. A. meeting at the association rooms tomorrow at 4 p. m.

—The housewife now busieth herself with re-arranging of the family dwelling place for game spots and summer real estate, and her efforts are richly rewarded.

—Frank Carruth has completed the first twenty feet of stone walk on Main street. That in front of the Cass county bank is drying. Henry Boeck and Johnny Blake are building and more will be built.

—The Union republicans will have a grand meeting tonight, Paul Schminke, John C. Watson and B. A. Gibson will talk the truth to them. Union and vicinity promise a grand republican majority next Tuesday.

—The twenty-fourth annual catalogue of the Nebraska Telephone company was passed around to the patrons of that company in this city today. A comparison with last year's issue shows a marked increase in the lists.

—Jacob Hansen was brought in from Ashland yesterday and examined to ascertain if he was insane. The examination proved the trouble to be more imbecilic than real insanity, and he was taken out to the poor farm to be taken care of.

—Last night a young men's bible study class was organized at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, to meet there one night each week and study the word of God. This is a class in which every christain young man in Plattsmouth should be an active member.

—J. P. Young was a west-bound passenger on the "flyer" this morning to join Mrs. Young, and spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bushnell. J. P. will take in the performance by the "Cold Day Company" at the Funk to-morrow night.

—DIED.—Milinda Hobbs, living south of Plattsmouth, died October 8th. She was aged 40 years, 8 months and 15 days and left eight children. Lincoln S. Shepherd, brother to deceased, died Oct. 28. He was 21 years, 2 months and 4 days old. Cause of death unknown.

—Two men, evidently farmers, became considerably excited over a political discussion, in front of Johnson's hardware store this afternoon, and quite a crowd gathered. The point of dispute was "Does Johnny Bull invest money in American politics." If we can believe the truth, he does.

—McShane's posters which he sent out over the state, and which have been sent to several of Plattsmouth's voters are going to work against him. Some good democrats at Guide Rock, this state, say they have become disgusted and will vote for John M. Thayer, and will have nothing to do with a "paster" candidate.

—The ladies of the M. E. church, will give an all day lunch on election day, in the new building on the corner of Main and 4th sts. All ladies interested are requested to bring their contributions Tuesday morning, and lend their assistance through the day. Everybody is invited to come in the evening and have a social time. An oyster supper will be served.

—Tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock a meeting for young men will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Anheuser-Busch building. No young man should absent himself because he is a stranger, or for any other reason. This meeting is for you, no matter who you are or what you are; come out and spend an hour with christian associates, and they will get acquainted with you. It will do you good and you will be invited to come again.

A Grand Musical Gathering.

As a result of earnest personal work of the young people of the Presbyterian Sunday school in selling tickets to their concert given last night, there gathered at Rockwood hall a large audience of both young and old. The entertainment more than pleased those present. All the programme was given in good style, but the most taking exercise of the evening was the music by the Zither Club. The club was under the leadership of Miss Lillian Kauble, who, though but a girl, displayed musical talent and ability worthy an older head. The Zither Club appeared twice on the programme, and was each time encored.

Mr. Eigenbroadt was encored on his solo, and responded with a song of his own composition, which was a parody on "I Stood on the Bridge at Midnight." At the close of the concert the older folks took supper and left the hall, while the young folks had a jolly time with music and games for about an hour.

Grand Musical Comedy.

From the Ohio State Journal:—It would be almost impossible to bestow too much praise upon the side-splitting musical comedy now running at the Grand under the title of "A Cold Day, or the Laplanders." In addition to the comedy element of the piece, each act is flavored with a number of popular songs which always win favor with an audience. Some of the renditions were superb, and an encore was responded to after each. The charming little songster, Carlotta, fairly captured every heart in the audience by her exquisite rendition of the song, "I'm so Shy." As comedians, Messrs. Lessenger and Sampson are fine, and keep the audience in a constant state of merriment. Individually and collectively, the company is unusually strong.

Go and see the funny comedy without a plot, written expressly to make you laugh, introducing a large number of new songs, dances and other specialties. Don't fail to go Monday night, or it will be a cold day for you if you miss it.

—A paper entitled "The Farmer's Voice," a democratic campaign sheet, published in Chicago, is being spread over Nebraska. The last issue is full of brotherly advice to the "protective class" telling them how to vote and furnishing them a republican ticket modified to suit the taste of John A. McShane, and of course the Voice tells them if they don't vote that ticket they are voting against their own interest. The paper is full of stories and misrepresentations concerning Gen. Thayer, and raises McShane before them as though he were a Prince of purity. The farmers of Nebraska know better what is good for them than some slick democratic campaign editor in Chicago who has been favored with a share of McShane's campaign boodle. The republicans of Cass county are too sensible to permit themselves to be beguiled into voting a ticket that has been doctored and put up by the wholesale in Chicago by democratic election frauds. Report comes from several towns of the county that these prepared tickets from Chicago are thick in their vicinity, and that an attempt will be made to "play dirt" with them on election day. A straight republican ticket from republican hands is the only ticket that republicans should touch next Tuesday. Papers from Omaha printed in German, have also been circulated by the democratic devilry headquarters.

—The democrats have their last rehearsal of fond hopes once cherished but soon to be abandoned, at the opera house tonight. Hon. F. E. White, J. C. Gilmore and Mat. Gering will tear down column after column of republican votes and hold the prize ticket of reform up before the people. Everybody go out and hear the old story, its last chance for four years and it will afford a source for an extra pleasant smile during the happy years of Harrison's administration to think of "what might have been." Of course they will tell of great wrongs, never before heard of, about what has and will happen if their side don't "get there." But keep in mind while you listen that "we're all right."

PERSONALS.

W. P. Critchfield, of Weeping Water, was in town today.

Mrs. Claus Breckerfeld was a passenger to Omaha this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. White and Miss Amelia Valley spent to-day in Omaha.

—According to the looks of things it seems to us, and many others, that J. H. Burris, president of the state Farmers' Alliance, has either been badly sold, or else he is trying to sell the alliance to the democratic party. We were told today by a member of the alliance how it comes that these "Farmers' Voices" from Chicago democratic headquarters are finding their way into the hands of all Nebraska farmers. The copy contains a great lot of trash about Gen. John M. Thayer, while it gives to John A. McShane a character of angelic cast. Mr. Burris, as president, sent to the democratic campaign literature headquarters in Chicago, the names of the members of the alliance, and in return the bosses there sent to each member, a bundle of "Voices" as big as a stovepipe which the receiver is expected to distribute among his friends for the "good" there is in them. Each "Voice" contains several of the doctored republican tickets with McShane's name instead of Thayer's. A large number of these bundles have been consigned to the stove and more are going there. The farmers of Nebraska think for themselves and will vote their ticket straight this fall. If there is any class of men that love an honest ballot and a fair count it is the farmer and he don't propose to be bulldozed with democratic sculduggery, or to vote a ticket made to order by anybody.

—Notwithstanding the hard work the democratic orators have had telling the old story around over Cass county this fall about "political outrage and extravagant managing," the farmers from the central part of the county report for a heavy straight republican vote, and victory on every hand.
