THE KANSAS JAYHAWKERS.

The Gray County Court House was held in Check by the Militia.

Commissioner Shoup Tells the Cimarron Side of the Story-- Ingalls Not Heard From TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 14.—The county seat war at Cimarron has been temporarily quelled by the prompt appearance of the state troops. The feelings of both factions is rising and there is little prospect of peace being permanently restored until more blood has been spilled.

The imprisoned deputies and clerks had been released by the sheriff before the troops arrived. The maddened Cimarron sympathizers threatened to go to Ingalls and burn the town and kill the people, but the farmers taking the part of the elected officers, arose in a body and during the night guarded the town and prevented damage if any was attempted. The military companies ordered out are still in readiness to move at a moment's notice. It is stated today that the friends of the two opposing towns have offered to hire men to fight in the interests of their respective places. One of the injured deputies, A. E. Brooks, is reported to be in a precarious condition.

CHAIRMAN SHOUP'S STORY.
 J. Q. Shoup, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Gray county, came in this afternoon from the scene of the frightful county seat war to lay the matter before Gov. Martin. Immediately upon his arrival he had a long conference with the officials at Cimarron. Shoup gave a thrilling account of his experience with the attacking party. He was in his office in the court house when the leader of the mob from the rival town of Ingalls opened the door of his office, covered him with a Winchester and commanding him not to move. All the county officers were held up in the same way, while the remainder of the mob took possession of the county records and fled from the town with them. The Cimarron people pursued hotly.

THE KILLED WERE OUTSIDERS.
 English and Bliss, who were killed were not participating in the fight and Shoup claims their murder was in cold blood. He demands that the murderer be brought to speedy justice. He says the attacking party was headed by Watson, the newly elected county clerk and was made up of notorious roughs and cowboys, who were brought for the purpose of terrorizing the Cimarron people, while the county records were being seized. One of the leaders of the party was the notorious "killer" Jim Johnston, who, it is said, has openly boasted that he has taken the lives of twelve men and that no one dared touch him. Gov. Martin said today that he would put a stop to the fight if it required the entire militia of the state. He proposes to have a thorough investigation and says the guilty one will be punished.

THE TROOPS ARRIVE.
 Gen. Meyers with the second regiment reached Cimarron early this morning and found the whole town in arms and expecting another attack. No strangers were allowed to enter the town without proving satisfactorily that they were not friends of the rival town. No services were held yesterday in the church, but instead the church was converted into an arsenal where the weapons of war were deposited, and Gen. Meyers ordered the people to disarm themselves at once, and told them that unless they did so their weapons would be taken from them by force. To all appearances the order was complied with.

A PRIVATE REHEARSAL.

The Boston Symphony Orchestral Club at Judge Poppleton's Residence.

Mr. Max Buchert brought the Boston Symphony club to Omaha yesterday morning and in the afternoon gave a private rehearsal at Judge Poppleton's residence on Sherman avenue. About 200 ladies and gentlemen of the city, invited by Miss Elizabeth Poppleton, who was chiefly instrumental in securing the engagement, were present and greatly enjoyed the music. Mr. Buchert's organization is a rare one in point of talent and all Omahans, who have appreciation of the finest class of music, will be given an opportunity to hear them Thursday night at the Grand opera house. The company is composed of six gentlemen and a prima donna soprano, Miss Elsa Clark Cushing, all of whom are artists of the highest rank. Mr. Willis Nowell, leader of the orchestra, is said to be the son of a seven times millionaire father, and he carries with him a violin in which is invested the snug little sum of $7,000. Young Nowell's tastes ran to music, his parents indulged him in the passion and as a result he is now considered one of the greatest solo violinists in the country. All the male members of the company are excellent gentlemen and move in the highest circles of Boston society.—Omaha Republican.

Mrs. C. M. Wead, of this city, was in Omaha and witnessed the Rehearsal and recommends it to the people of Plattsmouth. The company will perform here January 21st.

New Building and Loan Association.
 A new building and loan association, known as the "Livingston Loan and Building Association," was incorporated in this city on Saturday night last. The following are the articles of incorporation:

KNOW ALL MEN by these presents that we, the undersigned, hereby associate ourselves together and agree to become a body corporate under the statutes of the state of Nebraska, and for that purpose we have adopted, agreed to and signed the following:

ARTICLE I. The name of this corporation shall be the LIVINGSTON LOAN AND BUILDING ASSOCIATION and its principal place of business shall be in Plattsmouth, Cass county, Nebraska.

ARTICLE II. The business of this association shall be to buy and sell real estate, to erect buildings for the use of members and to invest funds, to assist its members in procuring homes, to afford them a safe and productive investment for their money and generally to transact the business of loan and building association, as contemplated in section 44 of chapter 34, entitled "An act to amend and complete the statutes of and for the state of Nebraska, and to have and exercise all the rights, powers and duties of such corporations."

ARTICLE III. The authorized capital stock of this corporation shall be five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), divided into shares of two hundred dollars ($200.00) each, payable at the rate of one dollar ($1.00) per month on each share in advance, and no one person shall hold more than ten shares.

ARTICLE IV. In the management of the affairs of this association the Board of Directors shall be in time chosen, and shall consist of an amount exceeding three hundred dollars ($300), except in the purchasing of real estate, or the erection of buildings, and shall not exceed three hundred dollars ($300.00).

ARTICLE V. This corporation shall begin business with the first day of January, 1890, unless sooner terminated by a vote of the stockholders.

ARTICLE VI. The affairs of this corporation shall be managed by a board of nine (9) directors chosen by the stockholders, and shall be divided into three classes, to wit: a president, a vice-president, a secretary, a treasurer and a solicitor, of whom the president and vice-president must be directors, and all shall hold stock in the company.

ARTICLE VII. These articles may be amended at any time, in conformity with the law and the constitution.

C. M. WEAD,
J. H. WATERMAN.

At first a little, hacking cough,
 " 'Tis nothing but a cold."
 They say, " 'Twill very soon wear off."
 Alas, the story old!
 The hectic cheek, the failing strength,
 The grief that cannot save,
 And life's wan flame goes out, at length,
 In a consumptive's grave.

If persons would use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, when irritation of the lungs is indicated by a cough, it would be an easy matter to avert consumption. Be wise in time.

The Way to Wash Windows.

There is a right and wrong way to wash windows, and as this operation is usually dreaded, the following method will doubtless be appreciated, as it saves both time and labor. Choose a dull day, or at least a time when the sun is not shining on the window, for when the sun shines on the window it causes it to be dry streaked, no matter how much it is rubbed. Take a painter's brush and dust them inside and out, washing all the wood work inside before touching the glass. The latter must be washed simply in warm water diluted with ammonia—do not use soap. Use a small cloth with a pointed stick to get the dust out of the corners; wipe dry with a soft piece of cotton cloth—do not use linen, as it makes the glass lumpy when dry. Polish with tissue paper or old newspaper. You will find this can be done in half the time taken where soap is used, and the result will be brighter windows.—Pittsburg Reporter.

Barbers in Olden Times.
 It is seldom in these days that you hear of a person being leached or cupped. It is rapidly becoming a lost art. Not a great many years back it was a very important business in connection with a tonsorial establishment. In fact it was almost a profession of its own. Cupping and leeching were very popular among the Germans, and, whether weak or strong, they followed the use. Not a great many years ago an apprentice barber invariably had to become a proficient in the application of the leech as he did in the shaving line. Barbers also did a good deal of tooth jerking, but that part of the business is also no more, since dentists are so numerous.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

REMEMBER.

Swift the flocking clouds are flying
 As the night shades gather grow,
 And the day leaves faintly dying
 In the western sunset glow.
 It is desolate December!

Spring is prophet of completeness,
 Full of promise and of light,
 Kin of summer days, whose sweetness
 Thrilled within the winter's night.
 (We were glad then you remember.)

Summer blooms were bold and fragrant,
 As the breezes came, you know,
 Yet the briars were bold and fragrant
 When the mowers came to mow;
 (We were sad then you remember.)

When the mowers' scythes went swinging
 All the flowers were hushed to death!
 Now no birds are joyous singing,
 And the winter withereth.
 In the desolate December.

With steadfast light and night so blended
 The haunted winter day is passed;
 The blithesome blossom time has ended,
 The summer cannot always last.
 Nor the desolate December!

Remember, then, all you remember!
 —Harriet Maxwell Converse in Home Journal.

A Wonderful Diamond.

A remarkable precious stone has been discovered recently. It was a diamond of fine white color, weighing about four carats and handsomely cut, which had cracked into two equal parts, revealing in its center another diamond. The interior stone was a pentahedron, with facets upon it as regular and perfect as if they had been cut by a skillful lapidary. So perfectly did this little diamond fit into its matrix that it was invisible when the three parts of the combination were put together. The impossibility of putting two diamonds together in such a way by art is beyond question. It was the work of nature, but what natural law, or perversion of law, had such an amazing effect was far beyond even the theorizing of those who inspected the stone.—Brooklyn Eagle.

An Earl as an Engineer.

Baron de Winton, of Shropshire, England, was forced to flee his native land on account of heavy obligations he had contracted in gambling and on the turf. While on the continent he lost over $250,000, and his financial affairs being greatly mixed up, he came to this country to escape the disagreeable task of settling and meeting his father. For a while he managed to live quite elegantly in Brooklyn, but after a long spree found himself penniless. Then he accepted a position as engine driver on the Jersey City road. Here he worked for some time, became very popular with his comrades, and by a very virtuous life managed to save enough money to pay his passage home.—New York Daily.

A Remarkable Volcano.

The city of San Salvador, the capital of the smallest and most populous Central American republic, was founded in 1523. It has been three times almost entirely and eleven times partially destroyed by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. It is eighteen miles from the sea coast, has an elevation of 2,800 feet, and is surrounded by a group of volcanoes, two of which are active, San Miguel and Izalco, and present a magnificent display to the passengers of steamers sailing along the coast, constantly discharging masses of lava which flow down their sides in blazing torrents. Izalco is as regular as a clock, the eruption occurring like the beating of a mighty pulse, every seven minutes. It is impossible to conceive of a grander spectacle than this monster, rising 7,000 feet almost directly from the sea, an immense volume of smoke, like a plume, continually pouring out of its summit and broken with such regularity by masses of flame rising 1,000 feet, that it has been named El Faro del Salvador—the Lighthouse of Salvador. It is in many respects the most remarkable volcano in the world, because its discharges have continued so long and with such regularity and because the tumult in the earth's bowels is always to be heard. Its explosions are constant, and are audible a hundred miles off. It is the only volcano that has originated on this continent since the discovery by Columbus. It arose from the plain in the spring of 1770 in the midst of what had been for nearly a hundred years a magnificent coffee and indigo plantation.—Guatemala Star.

Quartz Dust Consumption.

A local physician says the prevalence here of coughs, hoarseness and phlegm expectation is not produced from taking cold, but from inhaling fine particles of quartz dust, with which the air has been filled for several months. These particles are carried into the lungs and throat and cause irritation, and the frequent coughing is the ineffectual effort of nature to rid the system of the foreign particles. The physician further states that constant inhaling of this fine quartz dust will produce symptoms almost identical with and more speedily fatal than hereditary consumption. He cited the well known fact that the fatality among miners employed in the Crown Point and Belcher is due to the upper levels of these mines being constantly filled with quartz dust, which has played havoc with the lungs of those employed here during the past five years. The doctor referred to christened the disease "quartz dust consumption," and says the only remedy for it is to emigrate to moister climates like Oregon or Washington territory or locate "on sands that are salt from the kiss of the sea." The preventive is to keep the streets thoroughly wet down and to cease ballasting them with quartz.—Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

The deadwood—that part of a railway freight car which projects and receives the shock of other cars in the process of "making up" a train, is the most appropriately named part of the train. It kills as many, if not more, men than the car stove, though it picks them off singly.
