CITY CORDIALS.

The river is again clear of ice opposite the depot.

The warm weather has thawed out the usual street faker.

The ladies bible training class will not meet tomorrow afternoon.

Meeting at the M. E. church tonight conducted by Evangelist Miller.

J. L. Polk, of Greenwood, is serving in the office of Covell, Polk & Beeson.

A carload of oil was received this morning by S. A. Davis, to supply the demand in that line.

J. R. Cox has recovered from the injury to his head he received while fixing a pump a few days ago.

A waste-basket has found its way to Secretary Bothwell's desk, of the Y. M. C. A., with the compliments of W. H. Baker.

Mr. J. McCarty, an intelligent youth, who has been training in telegraphy at the depot, has been placed in charge of affairs at Fairmont.

The general business prosperity which Plattsmouth seems to be waking up to will furnish room for profitable investments before fall.

W. A. Derrick is arranging in Omaha today with artists who desire to participate in the musical benefit in his behalf. It will be a grand musical treat.

Ten hours a day time was instituted today in all mechanical departments of the shops. Laboring hours are from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., with one hour noon.

Those who have been anxiously awaiting the return of spring cheerfully welcome the first notes of song from the robin which has appeared in our midst.

Mr. H. W. Martin, who has for some time held the position of night operator at the depot, has gone to Omaha; the night position is now held by J. B. Rhodes.

E. F. Miller, the singing evangelist, arrived Saturday evening from Omaha. He will conduct meetings every afternoon and evening of this week in the M. E. church.

Ex-Fireman Burns was tendered a surprise party Saturday night by about a dozen couples of his friends. Mr. Burns contemplates going to St. Louis soon to look for employment.

Boston Globe: "Last night's reception of Spartacus was a verdict to be proud of. Mr. Downing was successful to a remarkable degree." At Waterman opera house, Wednesday, March 6.

Chicago Tribune: "He deserved the praise that attended his debut. He commanded admiration, and was repeatedly called before the curtain." Robt. Downing, at Waterman opera, March 6.

In another column of this paper will be read a poem, prepared for today's issue of the HERALD, by the barber, John C. Boone. Mr. Boone has quite a poetical talent, and these few verses need no flattery to show their merits.

For any to fail to hear Mr. Miller, who can possibly be present at the Methodist church this week, it would be a grievous mistake. He is a man of ability and experience, and his rich singing is a most pleasing feature of the meeting.

Miss Exa Bee Critchfield leaves the city soon to make her home at Weeping Water. A number of her friends gathered at her home in this city Saturday evening, for a farewell party, in honor of her departure, and a royal good time was the result.

Miss Annie Anderson, of Glenwood, Ia., acquainted in society circles of this city, and daughter of Wm. H. Anderson, a former business man of Plattsmouth, was married at Glenwood, Saturday, to a Mr. Fisher, of Red Oak. The couple were married in the morning and took the 11 o'clock train for Red Oak. The match seems to have been made without fall consent of the girl's parents.

Mrs. Stevens, of Council Bluffs, went over to Omaha yesterday to attend divine worship in the Episcopal Cathedral. She was accompanied by several lady friends and they arrived at the church and were seated a short time before services commenced. Soon, Mrs. Stevens rose up, stood a moment, and fell in a swoon. She was carried to the Child's hospital, but died soon. Deceased was aged seventy years, and heart disease was the trouble.

W. A. Derrick, who for nearly two years served as foreman and afterward local reporter of the HERALD, doing acceptable service, severed his relations with this paper Saturday. Mr. Derrick holds a wide social acquaintance in this city, and being a good vocalist and of a genial nature, his company has been highly appreciated. He contemplates leaving Plattsmouth soon and the HERALD with his many friends wishes him well in whatever field he may seek his fortune, but regrets his departure from among us.

AT THE Y. M. C. A. YESTERDAY.

The Financial 'unday Comes' and the Young Men Respond Heartily.

Over $1,600 Raised.

Yesterday opened a new financial year with the Young Men's Christian Association in this city, and closed the six months for which money was subscribed last summer. The association has experienced a growth and prosperity since the securing of rooms that is very great, and much credit needs to be given to the zealous efforts of the secretary and those assisting him in this work for the prosperous condition of the association here. Yesterday it was desired to ascertain what the young men interested in the association in this town would give, themselves for the carrying on of the work the coming year. At the afternoon meeting the subject of "Giving" was spoken on by State Secretary Nash, and then the invitation for subscriptions, given. It was something grand to be there and here the subscriptions made, and one could see plainly that the young men saw the real benefit to them of the association, and were willing to do their part toward supporting it. Subscriptions all the way from $3.00 to $100.00 were made, and in thirty-five minutes $1,635 were subscribed. It seems as though $3,000 could be used by the association in this city during the coming year to a very great advantage. The need of larger quarters is seen at every meeting, and the benefits of the association could not be extended to a gymnasium, bath rooms and boys' branch, without much more room, and we think these will all soon be essential departments of the Plattsmouth Young Men's Christian Association.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Opened by Evangelist Miller Yesterday With Encouraging Results.

The singing evangelist, E. F. Miller, arrived Saturday afternoon, and judging from the size of the congregation which greeted him yesterday, his presence and ability had been well advertised and much interest awakened. The meetings are being held in the M. E. church and the morning service was largely attended. Mr. Miller sang beautifully, several songs and talked very earnestly. The result of the meeting was eight conversions and a desire to hear Mr. Miller again.

In the afternoon at Sunday school, by the efforts of the evangelist, several conversions were had. At the men's gospel meeting at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association over one hundred and sixty men had come. Previous to this, however, a street meeting was held. State Secretary Nash addressed the men in the rooms on the subject of "giving," and Mr. Miller sang several solos with much expression and spirit, which held the attention of all. Three men were converted at the after-meeting.

Last night the Methodist church was crowded to overflowing by those desiring to hear Mr. Miller, and much attention was given to both the speaking and singing. A large number crowded around the mourner's bench and accepted their Savior.

The revival meetings will continue all this week, commencing in the evening at 7:30, and afternoon meetings will be held at 3 o'clock. From the manifested interest yesterday, both day and night meetings will crowd the church to its best capacity and many conversions will doubtless take place. Tonight Mr. Miller speaks on his own experience. Tomorrow night he will sing and make a talk especially for young men. Wednesday evening his attention will be given to the subject of "Temperance."

Mr. J. O. Phillippi, of Omaha, general ticket and freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife. They came down expressly to enjoy the meetings held by Mr. E. F. Miller, who they heard and learned to appreciate during the recent meetings in Omaha. Mr. Phillippi is an old Plattsmouth citizen and has many friends here, who gladly entertained him and his wife. Among them he visited at the homes of Dr. John Black and B. Spurlock; and before taking his departure remembered the young men of the city by a subscription to the Young Men's Christian Association.
