 Meeting Saturday evening

DANMARK'S CREW.

It Landed Safely at the Azores, and a Part of the Passengers Aboard the Missouri, Bound for Philadelphia.

New York, April 21.—The agents of the steamer Danmark received the following cablegram from Lisbon this evening: "The passengers and crew of the Danmark were landed at the Azores. Three hundred and forty of the passengers are on the steamer Missouri, bound for Philadelphia. The rest are to follow by the next steamer."

Lisbon, April 21.—In an interview with a newspaper representative, Peter Rabson, third mate of the steamship Danmark, related the circumstances of the loss of that vessel. Her engines, he stated, broke down on April 4, while the vessel was 800 miles from New Foundland. Engineer Kaas was found lying dead on the floor of engine room and the cause of the accident could not be ascertained. On April 5 the Danmark was spoken by the Missouri, which towed the Danmark until April 6. "The Danmark was then settling down," Rabson states, "when we asked the Missouri to take our passengers. The Missouri, as she was loaded, had room for only twenty additional persons, but she jettisoned her cargo and took us all on board—800 of us—landing us at Azores. She then proceeded for Philadelphia, taking 340 of the passengers, besides the captain and sailors. Three of the engineers proceeded to London on board the Demorara steamer. The first and second mates are still at Azores and the remaining passengers and forty-two sailors sailed for Lisbon on the steamer Acor.

Pittsburg, April 21.—A special from Philadelphia to the Times, received at 1:50 a. m., says the steamer Missouri, with part of the passengers of the steamer Danmark, has just arrived at the Delaware breakwater.

Plattsmouth's Celebration.

This morning's Omaha Bee has the following complimentary remark about the coming Inaugural Banquet:

"Plattsmouth makes a commendable show in having already made arrangements to celebrate the centennial of Washington's inauguration, on Tuesday week, with a reception and banquet. A number of Plattsmouth ladies and gentlemen are to represent the dignitaries of the revolutionary period in costume. The gentlemen will respond to patriotic toasts. Among the prominent Nebraskans who will be present and take part in the festivities are Governor Thayer, Hon. W. J. Broun, Dr. J. Harsha, Rev. J. G. Taite, Dr. S. Thain, and Hon. J. B. Strode. Preparations are being made for an elaborate affair, and if the order of exercises sent out in advance, is any criterion, it will be a most enjoyable and elegant celebration.

Attention.

Tickets are now on sale at J. P. Young's for the Washington reception and banquet. The ladies will esteem it a favor if those expecting to attend will procure their tickets early.

Cot Revenge.

A certain merchant of this city who has a stocked business of good grain and which is kept well oiled, has just experienced excruciating revenge at the hands of a life insurance agent.

The agent has tried to work him on a multitude of occasions to get to write out a life policy for him, but the merchant wouldn't work. Failing to convince the man of his "duty" to his family the agent decided to take revenge on the stubborn spirit which resisted his reasonings, and catching his man on the street as he was hurrying on to keep pace with the calls for his magnificent presence, stopped him and solicited his eager attention while a poetical death warrant a yard long was read to him. The strong constitution of the merchant, only enabled him to resist the fearful shock, but his cast iron build prevailed, and the poetical verses bounded back from the bill board to the reader's ears with a solemnity that was appalling to himself. But it was enough—it was revenge. The victim of the poetical assault says it was a fearful endurance.

Grand Closing at Wescott's.

Eikenbary in charge of the closing. No bands of music, no souvenirs for the ladies, no bouquets for the gentlemen. Just a common every-day closing, which will occur at the bewitching hour of 9 o'clock on each week day evening, for weeks and months to come.

In the meantime, and at all other times during regular business hours, there will be no lack of music (in the air)—sweet music, too, to all those who are trying, these hard times, to make a dollar go a good ways in buying clothes.

The main point in this notice and the one to remember is the fact that Wescott, the "Boss" Clothier, has just returned from the East, where he bought the Staff in Clothing, Hats, Furnishing Goods, &c., that will suit you. His line takes in the BEST GRADES and the best styles. He owns the goods for cash and will make you prices (quality and makeup considered) lower than anybody in the town. Your trade is solicited.

C. E. WESCOTT,
 The "Boss" Clothier.

Every Gift but Speech.

Mr. S. G. Harris, a horse dealer of Vincennes, Ind., is the owner of a wonderful dog. It is a Scotch collie and seems possessed of almost human intelligence. Mr. Harris and Boz gave a private exhibition in the board of trade building the other morning. His performances—they seem to show too much intelligence to be called tricks—amazed everybody. Bank bills and coins of various denominations were placed on the floor and the dog was requested to take his choice. He immediately picked up a $10 dollar bill, which was the largest in sight.

"What piece would you give me, Boz?" asked Mr. Harris.

Boz selected a nickel and dropped it into Mr. Harris' hand. Mr. S. A. Kent came in while the dog was performing, and said: "Boz, I want you to bring me five dollars and a half." Boz picked up a $5 bill and a fifty cent piece, gave Mr. Kent an "m-onto-you" expression, and trotted over to Mr. Harris with the money. "Find Mr. Richardson," was the next order. Boz trotted up to that gentleman, looked up into his face and wagged his tail.

"Pick his pocket," said Mr. Harris. Boz grabbed Mr. Richardson's handkerchief out of his coat pocket and trotted off with it. "I want $15," said Mr. Kent. Boz picked up a $10 and a $5 bill. "Bring me the rest of it," Boz barked and growled. His next performance was to bring a hat from the window and a piece of paper from the waste basket in the corner, and he also gave an imitation of the way the clown dog prayed in the circus.—Chicago News.
