St. Patrick's Day is Fittingly Observed in This City—Notes of the Day.

The city was dressed in a gala attire to-day. Flags, streamers and bunting were used in profusion and the business houses along Main street presented a fine appearance. The Schuyler train brought in the first delegation—one from Lincoln and the other from Tecumseh, each delegation bringing with them a band. The Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs delegations came in on No. 4.

The procession started promptly at 10:30 and marched west on Main to Seventh, north on Seventh to Oak, east on Oak to St. John's church where services in honor of the day were held. After services the procession formed on Oak and proceeded on the line of march, ending at the opera house where ranks were broken and the visiting divisions were escorted to Rockwood hall, where dinner was served.

There were twelve divisions represented in the parade. The men represented in each division ranged from 100 to thirty.

Four bands furnished music for the occasion—the B. & M. band of this city, the Lincoln band, the Tecumseh military band and the A. O. H. band of Omaha.

Joseph A. Connor acted as master of ceremonies and delivered a short speech, after which he introduced Judge S. M. Chapman, who in a few well-chosen words welcomed the visitors to the city.

Governor James E. Boyd responded to the address of welcome after which he returned to the subject assigned him. Nebraska being the subject and the governor handled "Nebraska" in a masterly manner.

This evening a programme will be executed at the opera house after which the festivities will close with a grand ball at Rockwood hall.

Notes

Joe Connor makes a first-class master of ceremony.

The South Omaha division of A. O. H. had more men in line than any division in the parade.

C. W. Holmes four horse rig was up to perfection.

The banks are all closed today.

Hon. Wm. Neville as grand marshal and his efficient aides, Ed Fitzgerald and P. O'Keefe were out of sight.

The county offices were all closed this afternoon.

Plattsmouth A. O. H. are first-class entertainers.

Hon. M. V. Gannon, president of the Irish National League will speak to-night on the subject "Ireland for the Last One Hundred Years."

The opera house was crowded this afternoon and standing room was at a premium.

Business was at a stand still today. Every body was enjoying the celebration.

Gov. Jas. E. Boyd, Hon. F. E. White, Mayor Richey and Col. Jas. A. Connor rode in the open hack drawn by four white horses, appropriately decorated, at the head of the parade.

The opera house presented a fine appearance.

The cold weather caused a good many to stay at home, who would otherwise have attended the celebration.

Railway Employees' Club. A club was organized last night at the shops composed of railway employees. A meeting was held at the coach shops and was largely attended. The aim of this organization is to secure a fair and just legislation for the railroads, and also in a social sense to help one another when sick or disabled. The club organized and elected the following officers:

- President—Wash Smith. Vice-president—Frank Vermilyea. Treasurer—Pat McCallen. Secretary—Hodgins. J. J. Cassidy was elected a delegate to the state convention.

A Contemplated Change. Joseph Opelt, who was until recently proprietor of the Opelt house at Lincoln, was in the city over night. Mr. Opelt was in the city with a view of taking charge of the Hotel Riley about the 1st of May. THE HERALD is reliably informed that Mr. Opelt is a first-class hotel man and that he is thinking very seriously of taking charge the 1st of May.

The Boyd-Thayer Matter Finally Settled.

The supreme court took up the case of the State of Nebraska ex rel John M. Thayer vs. James E. Boyd yesterday morning, and the case was dismissed on a motion of defendant's attorneys, and the costs were assessed on John M. Thayer. All of which disposes of the case which has been furnishing the Associated press daily speculations for a month or more. In case Governor Thayer's attorneys ask leave to file a reply to Governor Boyd's answer the request will undoubtedly be granted.

"Two Old Cronies"

When such clever entertainers as Ada Deaves, Al. Wilson, Max Million, Edwin Heffernan, Florence Myatt and other specialty artists who make up the Anderson Comedy Company, and such a vehicle as "Two Old Cronies" to cut themselves loose in, it is not to be wondered at that a great big audience created so much noisy enthusiasm at the Hay-market last night. This combination of fun-makers opened a week's engagement there, and their reception was certainly all they could wish for. "Two Old Cronies" is a farce-comedy in which Irish wit, characterization and mirth predominate. It is full of singing and dancing and all sorts of business calculated to produce laughter and drive dull care away.—Chicago Daily Journal.

Go and see the fun next Tuesday, March 22. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents.

A number of the leading democrats, today threatened to start another paper, because the Journal of last evening called them Jack-leg gamblers, loafers and the general riff-raff of the town. They say they want a party paper that will uphold the party and not be howling for boodle all the time.

The weather reports that came in to-day from all directions report severe blizzards. At Dallas, Tex., the telegraph reports say that the fruit trees are in full bloom and that the rain and snow has frozen on them and ruined the fruit prospects.

From the way the Journal scored the democratic primaries one would think that the democrats had failed to put the necessary boodle for the spring election.

District court adjourned to-day on account of St. Patrick's day, as the room had been engaged by the A. O. H.

Six inches of snow is reported at Little Rock, Arkansas, and it is feared that the fruit crop is greatly damaged.

The A. O. H. secured a rate of forty-five cents for the round trip between this city and Omaha.

It is town talk that Brown & Barrett's is the only place to find a new and complete stock of wall paper.

A Question of Dinner Time.

A cardinal who commanded the troops of Pope Boniface IX. in the march of Ancona, finding himself on one occasion in a position where he must conquer or die, promised his soldiers that if they secured the victory those who fell should dine that very day with the angels. They marched to the combat with alacrity, but finding that the cardinal was careful not to expose himself, "How is it," said one of them, "that you show no anxiety for the celestial banquet to which you have invited us so warmly?" "Because it is not yet my dinner time and I am not hungry."—All the Year Round.

Calling The Dead.

In the office of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., on Park street hangs an epistolary curiosity which is sure to attract the attention of all who have occasion to visit the sanctum of this well-known publishing house. It is a letter written by the principal of a school in a Pennsylvania town to Nathaniel Hawthorne, and is dated October, 1887.

The teacher begins by trying to worm himself in Mr. Hawthorne's good graces by telling him how highly his works are considered by his neighbors, and he winds up by asking a donation of a book or two for the school library.

"It seems very strange," remarked a visitor to the office a few days ago, "that a school-teacher should not have heard of the novelist's death twenty-three years after his decease." "That is not the strangest feature of the matter," replied a member of the firm, to whom the remark was addressed. "The letter was directed to Mr. Hawthorne at Salem, and after remaining unclaimed in the post office there for the usual time, it was sent to us with a request to forward it."—Boston Herald.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. This remedy also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it during the epidemics of the past two years we have yet to learn of a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by F. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago Ill.
