The weather bureau reports that it only rained twenty-eight days in May.

No matter how much at variance the republican delegates may be on the question of a nominee, they are all harmonious on the issues. Every one of them is for the McKinley tariff, for reciprocity and for sound money.

When the Chicago convention tackles its silver plank you will see some of the biggest jumping ever done in any age, for democrats can't get around it and they will try to jump over it, but they are sure to fall short of the mark.

BLAINE will write another letter, which is to be read at the Minneapolis convention before a ballot for president is taken, in which he will positively decline to allow his name to go before the convention. He stands squarely by his February letter.

BOIES seems to have been lost already in the shuffle. He has not been heard from for some time past. There is not much honor in the vice-presidential nomination on the democratic side, as the ticket cannot be elected, and it is very doubtful if Boies gets this little distinction.

HON. W. J. BRYAN having assured congress that Salt Creek is not navigable, his constituents in the neighborhood of Lincoln are making preparations to demonstrate that he is wrong by sending him on an excursion up that historic stream when he is again a candidate for anything. The gray-beards of the democratic party have not much use for Mr. Bryan for some reason or other. Probably because he undoubtedly has brains and doesn't make sufficient blunders. The ideal statesman of the gray-beards is one who doesn't know enough to dodge when a telegraph pole falls, and who can make more errors in a given time than an expert accountant would care to keep a tab on.—Fremont Tribune.

AN INTERESTING MACHINE.

A continuous tin plate machine has been put into operation in Philadelphia by the American Tin Plate Machine Co., Twenty-first street and Washington avenue. The black sheets are taken from the pickling tank and fed, one after the other into the machine. As the sheets pass along they are scoured with sand, and brushed clean by revolving rolls, washed with water and dried with steam heat. The ends of the sheets are then fastened together to form a continuous sheet, and this is passed through a pot of flux and through the tin bath, which is kept covered with palm oil.

The machine is, at present, working on tinned plates. It is stated that it can turn out 100 boxes per day of ten hours.

It is intended, however, to market the plates in continuous rolls, which will save the expense of boxing and will be of special advantage for roofing purposes. Samuel Y. Buckman is the inventor of the machine.—Engineering News (N. Y.) May 26.

HOME-MADE TWINE.

The Nebraska Farmer, discussing the manufacture of Nebraska hemp twine, says editorially:

"In the catalogue of industries more or less remotely connected with the agricultural prosperity of the western country there is none that comes more closely home to the farmer than that of the manufacture of binding twine. He has been so long at the mercy of combinations and trusts that have controlled the manufacture of this every grain farm in the northwest, that he should certainly hail with delight a move toward the manufacture of this twine out of hemp grown on his own lands, and laid down at his own door, all through the instrumentality of home labor bestowed on the product from the planting of the seed to the finishing touch in rolling the twine into balls of convenient size for use by the harvesting machine. There is a feeling of independent pride that takes hold of a man at the thought. But it is not merely as a matter of sentiment that we wish now to direct attention to the feasibility of growing hemp on our own farms, and of manufacturing it into twine for use in harvesting our own crop. If as a business venture it could not be made to pan out to the profit of all concerned we should be foolish to entertain the idea of its further development. Our experience with growing hemp in this state and the manufacture of it into binding twine has already been sufficient to show the ready practicability of the thing. And it has demonstrated the superior quality and peculiar adaptability of hemp for this particular purpose. It gives a finished product of a little better strength than has that obtained from the manilla or other foreign fibers, and one that gives a greater length of string for a given weight. And we learn also that this twine creates less wear and tear of the machinery than do others."

HOME-MADE NAILS.

Our production of wire nails keeps growing under the beneficent McKinley bill regime. The number of kegs produced in the United States, as reported by the American Iron and Steel association, grew from

in 1880 to 4,114,383

in 1891.—New York Press.

wood in Egyptian Stonework.

Probably the oldest timber in the world which has been subjected to the use of man is that found in the ancient temples of Egypt in connection with the stonework, which is known to be at least 4,000 years old. This, the only wood used in the construction of the temples, is in the form of ties holding the end of one stone to another. When two blocks were laid in place, an excavation about an inch deep was made in each block, in which a tie shaped like an hour glass is driven. It is therefore very difficult to force any stone from its position. The ties appear to have been of the Tir arish or Shittim wood.—Yankee Blade.

Fail to do Our Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. Herbechther, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for headache, nervous prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co., bottle free.

Oregon, Washington and the Northwest Pacific Coast.

The constant demand of the traveling public to the far west for a comfortable and at the same time an economical mode of traveling has led to the establishment as what is known as Pullman Colonist sleepers.

These cars are built on the same general plan as the regular first-class Pullman Sleeper, the only difference being that they are not upholstered.

They are furnished complete with good comfortable hair mattresses, warm blankets, snow white linen curtains plenty of towels, combs, brushes etc., which secure to the occupant of a berth as much privacy as is to be had in first class sleepers. Lomax, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Omaha Nebraska.

The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison (Iowa) Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm." This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Fell Dead.

These words are very familiar to our reader, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short breath, pain in side, smothering spells, swollen ankles, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, tenderness in shoulder or arm, fluttering of heart or irregular pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at F. G. Fricke & Co., who also sell the New Heart Cure.

The wisdom of him who journeyeth is known by the line he selects; the judgment of the man who takes the "Burlington Route" to the cities of the east, the south, and the west, is never impeached. The inference is plain. Magnificent Pullman sleepers, elegant reclining chair cars and world-famous dining cars on all through trains. For information address the agent of the company at this place, or write to J. Francis, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Omaha.

The Handsomest Lady in Plattsmouth

Remarked to a friend the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lunge was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when other remedies had no effect whatever. So to prove this and to convince you of its merits any druggist will give you a sample bottle free. Large bottles 50c and $1.

Some Foolish People allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists.
