

CON M'CARTHY KILLED.

Loses His Life While Attempting to Board a Train.

WAS KILLED INSTANTLY.

One Arm Completely Severed From His Body, Besides Being Other Wise Cut up and Bruised - Other City News

From Wednesday's Daily.

Last evening about 5:45 Con McCarthy lost his life while attempting to jump upon the fast meat train at Oreadopolis.

McCarthy, left yesterday morning with his force of men for Oreadopolis where he was doing some work on the track at that place.

From what can be learned about the sad affair, although there was no one saw Mr. McCarthy when the accident occurred - its facts are about as follows: Mr. McCarthy left his men in the afternoon and started along the track towards La Platte to look over the track when he reached the bridge over the Platte he stopped and talked a short time with Mr. Thomas the ferryman, after which he started on to La Platte.

A little after 5 o'clock he came back and walked to the office at Oreadopolis. Mr. Thomas followed but was quite a little distance behind him. He could, however, see him until with a short distance of the depot, when Mr. McCarthy passed around a curve and Mr. Thomas failed to see him until he had been run over.

When the engine reached the station it slowed up to give the conductor time to register, but did not come to a full stop, but started up and when the hind end of the train passed, the station was running at the rate of five miles an hour.

The theory is that Mr. McCarthy attempted to get on the front end of the way car and missed his hold, while others seem to think that he attempted to get on a freight car.

When found, his right arm had been completely severed from his body and was lying ten feet away. A gash was cut in his head and one in his right hip. There were also several ribs broken. He died about ten minutes after the accident and did regain consciousness. Whether one car or a dozen passed over him will probably never be known, as no one saw him when the accident occurred.

The body was placed on a train and brought to this city when corner Urah took charge of the body impaled the following jury: H. N. Dovey, E. M. Kichey, M. B. Murphy, Geo. Weidman and John Cagney.

The jury met last night and heard some testimony and this morning they went out to Oreadopolis to the scene, where the accident occurred. After they came back an adjournment was taken until 4 o'clock in order that the train men could reach the city and appear before the jury.

Mr. McCarthy has been employed by the B. & M. for a number of years and was one of their most trusted employes. He was a member of A. O. U. W. lodge No. 8, in which he carried $2,000 insurance, also $1,000 in the Burlington Relief and a similar amount in the A. O. H.

The Funeral Obsequies.

From Saturday's Daily.

The funeral of the late Con McCarthy occurred this morning at 7 o'clock from the Catholic church. After the services at the church the remains were taken to the depot and shipped to York where the interment will take place. The remains were followed to the depot by the A. O. U. W. and the A. O. H. of which the deceased was a member. The B. & M. had a special car attached to No. 5 this morning which carried the relatives and friends to York.

Odd Fellows and Rebekcas.

The grand lodge I. O. O. F. and Rebekcas have met and transacted their business and adjourned. The election was finished in short order. Mayor A. H. Weir of Lincoln was made grand master, I. P. Gage of Fremont, grand secretary; Samuel McClay of O'Neill, grand treasurer; J. S. Johnson, grand warden, and George L. Loomis, grand representative.

The place for holding the next encampment was then considered, and Lincoln captured the plum. The next annual session will be held at the capital city beginning on the third Wednesday in October, 1893. After disposing of a number of minor matters, the lodge adjourned.

At the meeting yesterday of the grand lodge Degree of Rebekah of Nebraska, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Sophia Bennett of Omaha; vice president, Mrs. Theodora Miller of Blair; secretary, Mrs. Macgovern of Fremont; treasurer, Mrs. Cora Beale of Norfolk, executive committee, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Kates and Mrs. Robinson, all of Clarity lodge No. 301 Lincoln.

Last night an elaborate banquet was given in honor of the I. O. O. F. and the Rebekcas at Washington hall which was heartily enjoyed by the guests.

It is not a fact that we always carry the largest stock of wallpaper in this city, and it is not reasonable to suppose that we can offer you bargains that small dealers can not. We thought and sold 25,000 feet of wallpaper last year, and by a gradual increase in trade in the future, as in the past, we will surely double our sales this coming season. Remember we will not, nor can not be undersold. Call and see our line. Respectfully,

BROWN & BARRETT.

PEOPLE AND AFFAIRS.

C. H. Van Wyck and D. A. He Constitution rider were to speak at Rockwood hall Saturday but on account of the meeting not being advertised they refused to speak. Shamp will be here tonight.

FITTINGLY OBSERVED.

The celebration of Columbus Day was fittingly observed by the school children and citizens of Weeping Water Friday. The children devoted almost the entire day, commencing in the morning with exercises in the schoolroom and in the afternoon 300 pupils, carrying banners and flags and headed by the boys' band, marched through the streets to the Congregational church, where a fine programme was given. Business houses were closed during the afternoon. Last night the opera house was crowded to listen to another entertainment by the scholars.

Another dancing club has been recently organized in the city with a membership of thirty. The club has adopted the name "The Union Dancing Club" and will give their first dance November 5th at Rockwood hall. They have also elected the following officers: president, Pat Egan; vice president, Wm. Fitzgerald; Secretary, Frank Buttery; treasurer, Hans Goos.

Roe Craig has shipped 254 head of cattle to this city and has taken them to his farm to fatten for the spring market.

ANOTHER M. P. TRAIN.

Nebraska City News.

Agent A. Harvey, of the Missouri Pacific, informed the News today that he had been working to have the train from Lincoln, which runs as far as Union, run to this city. The company has promised to run the train here as soon as a turn table can be put in. The material for the turn table has been ordered and will be put in as soon as it arrives. As soon as these things are completed the train will run to this point instead of stopping at Union.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

The coroners jury after listening to the evidence of the train men Thursday evening returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, upon our oath do say, that the death of Cornelius McCarthy resulted from accident, supposed trying to board train No. 32 on the B. & M. railroad while in motion, on evening of October 19, 1892 at Oreadopolis Junction, Nebraska. We, the jurors, find no one responsible."

WORKED BY TWO SHARPERS.

A. J. Kublinan of Nebraska City yesterday sold a cult to two strangers. The prices agreed upon was $1,000 and the strangers gave Kublinan a mortgage they had for that amount on a piece of Missouri land. It soon developed that the mortgage was valueless and search was made for the sharpers. They were captured today at Hamburg and will be brought back and prosecuted.

Geo. Fost, the man who murdered Laura Day in Omaha, had his preliminary hearing Wednesday and was held to the district court without bail. It is understood he will plead the insanity plea.

John Young and Miss Mary Smith both well-known in this city were married last night in Lincoln. Mr. Young is a nephew of J. P. Young and employed as a machinist in the B. & M. shops at Haystack. Mrs. Young is a sister of A. Baxter Smith, of this city. THE HERALD with their host of friends in this city wish them a pleasant voyage over the sea of life.

Jones & Fitzgerald will sell at public auction October 28th their entire stock of horses, carriages and everything pertaining to their two stables.

CONSULTS WITH BRYAN.

Treason at Independent Headquarters in Lincoln.

THE SCHEME EXPOSED.

Chairman Blake Is for Bryan - Bryan a Purchase Delegates to the Convention at Nebraska City - The Tie-up.

Mr. Geo. W. Blake, chairman of the independent state central committee, and Van Wyck's man Friday, is one of the meanest, most cowardly traitors now living in the state of Nebraska, says the independent Liberty, published at Lincoln. As chairman of the people's party state central committee, he is receiving pay and handling the funds sent in to headquarters by honest men and patriots to defeat the Hon. Jerome Shamp, independent candidate for congress, and to elect Bryan, the U. S. P. and M. P. railway candidate. Bryan is the man who sought to buy an independent endorsement by furnishing twenty-four M. P. passes, to carry that many delegates to the independent convention, held at Nebraska City, August 18th last. Mr. George W. Blake told the editor of Liberty voluntarily, before that convention met, that he was for Bryan, he did not care who the independents nominated and he dare not deny it. He told others the same thing. But in order to clearly establish the fact of his treachery, he has been shadowed of late to ascertain how and where he put in his time when not at independent headquarters, and behold the result. On Sunday evening, October 24, 1892, Mr. G. W. Blake, chairman of the people's independent state central committee called at the residence of Congressman Bryan, democratic candidate for re-election from this district, to hold religious services and to give away aid and abet in the defeat of Shamp! Independents of Nebraska contemplate your chairman plotting treason with Bryan on Sunday night! But this is not all. Almost daily, Geo. W. Blake is seen "running a sneak" into W. J. Bryan's office in the Burr block! He is there attending to the business of his party is he? What business has the independent party with W. J. Bryan that its chairman should visit him so frequently? Blake is now Van Wyck's most humble and obedient servant - for the position of one of the secretaries of the board of transportation! Do you believe for a moment, readers, that C. H. Van Wyck does not know all about Blake's treason low down efforts to defeat Shamp? If you do, you are mistaken. Van Wyck is a party to this treachery for the purpose of securing democratic votes! C. H. Pirtle is in the deal, and is working under cover with all his ability to defeat Shamp and elect Bryan. Both these men have abandoned all the independent ticket, except Van Wyck. They are in the corrupt pool with Van Wyck, to elect him governor, although all the balance of the ticket is defeated. Why? Pirtle is also to be one of the secretaries of the state board of transportation if Van Wyck is elected. Here we have the chairman and secretary of the state central committee of the people's party, in corrupt and rotten combine to defeat an independent candidate for congress. And the independent candidate for governor is the main party to the infamous deal, and keeps his henchman, Blake, hot for Bryan, that he may be posted as to Mr. Shamp's campaign. Nor is this all. A list of dates was made for Mr. Shamp and one Cundiff, a democratic "stool pigeon" of Bryan's, who was sent into the independent ranks for the sole purpose of aiding Bryan to a re-election, was filled to talk with him, and his particular duty has been to tell people on the side, that Shamp could not be elected and did not expect to be and that at the proper time he would "fall out" and be for Bryan. Finding that this did not always work, he would attempt to injure Shamp by telling people confidentially that Shamp was running in the interest of Mr. Field, the republican candidate. This sort of disreputable tactics was kept up until recently, when Mr. Shamp became convinced that he was a traitor and a spy, and discarded him. This man, Cundiff, while traveling with Mr. Shamp, as his friend and co-worker, wrote a letter to the World-Herald, in which he charged that Shamp was running in the interest of Field. Of course he did not sign his name to it. We have been "looking up" Cundiff, and if need be, are prepared to strike him from the shoulder. And this man Cundiff is another one of Van Wyck and Bryan's tools. Van Wyck is for Bryan, and will not and dare not oppose him and is using such traitors as Blake, Pirtle, Craddock, Cundiff and Thorion to carry out his corrupt deal with Bryan. Think of independents who will not and dare not denounce the attempted purchase of delegates with railway passes! Think of leading independents who say such methods are honorable! Think over the fact that S. Ed Thornton declared that he would not tolerate any man who assailed Bryan's honesty, on account of this attempted bribe! Is this reform? Is this what the alliance and independent party was organized for? If it is, the editor of Liberty made a mistake and is ready to get out of the party and aid in organizing another new one. Independents, awake! Disaster will overtake you under such leadership. Send the traitors to the rear at once, or all your efforts will have been expended in vain. Your campaign is being managed by a crew of traitors and corrupt place hunters, whose sole aim is the spoils of office and bootie! These men set up the cry of boodler at the opening of the campaign to draw attention away from themselves. All of them are standing with their hands behind their backs waiting their thirty pieces of silver. It is their boast today, that the Bryan democrats are all going to vote for Van Wyck, and that three-fourths of the independents of the First district will vote for Bryan and that "Shamp is not in it." With them, there is no question of principle at stake. "It is get there and get the offices."

The just demands of an outraged people lead to the organization of the alliance in Nebraska, and the organization of the alliance led to the organization of the independent party. Two years ago it won a magnificent victory in spite of the treason of Van Wyck. It was swindled out of the fruits of its victory by the fusing of the democratic and republican parties, aided by Van Wyck. This year the party organization was captured with money and railway transportation, and honest John Powers was sent to the rear, and the traitor of 1890 was made the party chief, and Blake and Pirtle, who had officially declared him a traitor were placed at the head of the party and the whole boodler gang at once covered the deck of the independent ship and are fast steering her upon the rocks of disaster and ruin. Honor says, "Defeat Van Wyck." Honor says, "Route the entire rotten crew who are in command by firing Blake and Pirtle at once." Honor says, "Principles are eternal and live on forever, and the way to make the whole people believe the party is honest is to defeat and rout unprincipled men."

The editor of Liberty regrets the condition of affairs existing in the party today. He regrets that he cannot support those men. But he left the republican party because he would not support place hunters, and today finds at the head of the independent party in Lincoln, a more corrupt crew, with less brains and ability, than any which ever disgraced republican management in Nebraska. He finds his party candidate for governor, a political fraud, whose sole aim is office and spoils, and finds him betraying every other man on his ticket, to aid him in an election to the office of governor and United States senator and cannot and will not support such infamous and corrupt deals, made to betray again, the people into the hands of the money power. Independents of Nebraska, you will be a thousand fold stronger for the right and for justice by defeating Van Wyck. His election would mean the ruin of your party. Be true men! Be honest and just with yourselves and Van Wyck will not get 30,000 votes in the state.

Frick Last Night.

From Saturday's Daily.

Hon. J. E. Frick of Fremont arrived in the city yesterday and last night he was greeted at Rockwood hall by a good-sized audience. Mr. Frick said he had been sent out by the state committee to talk on the currency question and that he would give the audience the history from its beginning. Mr. Frick is one of the most able debaters on the currency question that there is in the state. Mr. Frick handled his subject in a very able manner and he defined the republican doctrine on silver in a manner that could be easily understood.

After he had hurriedly passed over the money question his remarks were confined to the independent party and he showed the fallacy of their position up in anything, but a pleasing manner to the independents.

Next he took the great tariff question and handled it for a short time, owing to the lateness of the hour without gloves. The democratic theories were completely demolished and were sent sailing away in the far distance.

Taking it all in all, Mr. Frick is one of the most able campaign debaters in the state, and those who heard him were well pleased.

THE CASE IS DECIDED.

Judge Short Found Guilty of Mal-Administration.

COMMISSIONERS' FINDINGS.

Hon. Orlando Tott's Address to the Voters of Cass County and His Reasons for Making It - Other News.

The county commissioners this afternoon decided the impeachment case against W. H. Short. Following is their finding:

PLATISMOUTH Neb., Oct. 25. We, the commissioners of Cass county, State of Nebraska, in the case of the impeachment of W. H. Short, justice of the peace, in and for said county, find: That he has been guilty of oppression and mal-administration while in the discharge of the duties pertaining to said office and our sentence is that he, the said W. H. Short, be, and is hereby removed from office of Justice of the Peace now held by him.

A. C. TODEK, JACOB KRITZCH, S. W. DUTTON.

To the Voters.

Without solicitation on my part (as all the delegates will testify), I was nominated by the republican party of Cass county for the office of state senator.

Accepting the nomination, I commenced the canvass of the county. When I came home for the first time I found my wife, whose health had been bad for some time, but had been better this summer, who I had hoped was nearly recovered, decidedly worse. She said however she thought it was only temporary, and I went away again for a day or two.

When I returned I found her much worse, and I at once decided that it was my duty to give up any further personal canvass and devote myself to caring for the health of my dear one. In so doing I shall probably be absent from the county and so I take this method of addressing the voters.

I have already been highly honored by the voters of Cass county, and can come before them with no personal claim that I have been neglected. I have been twice elected to the office for which I am a candidate, and the only reason I am aware of why I should be again chosen should be found in the record of my actions when formerly your servant. Whatever may be the verdict you arrive at in my case, I am glad to be able to say to my fellow citizens that no act of mine, when serving you, was prompted by any motive but to honestly advance the best interests of my constituents, and if I made a failure of it I want to say that I have not been charged with it up to date.

Should I be elected again, I would be in favor of a thoroughly economical administration of the affairs of the state and such legislation as would make it impossible for employes to be dishonest, or if they were, would adequately punish them.

I think the revenue laws should be so changed that the burden of taxation should be evenly distributed, and that the legislation in regard to roads should be radically changed, as good roads are a prime necessity to our people.

I believe that in legislation the truth should be kept in mind that while the rich are entitled to the protection of the law, common people are in the majority and their interests should be carefully guarded.

And now, fellow citizens, I am aware that when a man runs for office he is invariably subjected to criticism, and I also remember that old proverb, "The absent are always in the wrong" and while I do not know what, if anything, may be said about me, I leave my case in your hands with only this statement: I have lived, man and boy, in Cass county thirty-five years, and I can truthfully say I have tried to treat my neighbors justly and discharge my public duties faithfully, and my conscience tells me I have succeeded. I have no harsh words to say about my opponent, but will be content with your verdict.

MURDOCK.

Charles Van Every of Wabash is painting Mr. Nippard's house.

Mr. Richardson will bring his family here from South Bend soon. Peter Eyclund has started to build a double corn crib since his return from Washburn.

It has seemed some time going on at the rate it has been, it will be completed by December 1.

One section of land is moving into E. H. Huse's hands, instead of G. W. Necker's, as was first last week. Charles Kedge sold his farm one mile north of Murdock to H. Fingemier for the consideration of $4,500.

William Stohman has bought nearly all the barley in this neighborhood and is shipping it to Omaha.

The heading staves for the Lutheran church are furnished by our local hardware man. They are the "Bauer's" pattern.

Peter Eyclund and family returned from their trip to Washington. They spent a most enjoyable and most enjoyable time.

L. C. Eickhoff is now fixing up one of his buildings for some Elmwood parties. We understand they will run a billiard hall.

There is a movement on foot to have a butchershop here before long. Let us give the enterprise a good support, because it is a necessity and a good one.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of William Hehnke three miles west of Murdock on the 13th. The contracting parties were Miss Ida Hehnke and Emil Law. Rev. Baumgartner officiated.

To make more room for the largest purchase in that line ever brought to Plattsmouth, Snyder will sell wallpaper at reduced prices. Do not fail to call on him at 506, Main street.

Why is it that Strictly Pure White Lead is the best paint?

Because it will outlast all other Paints, make a handsomer finish, give better protection to the wood, and the first cost of painting will be less.

If a color other than white is wanted, tint the Lead with the National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

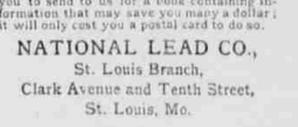

These colors are sold in small cans, one pound being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of pure White Lead the desired shade.

Be Careful to use only old and well-known brands of white lead. The market is flooded with adulterated Paints, and "so-called" white leads. The following are strictly pure "Old Dutch" process brands, and are established by a lifetime of use:

"COLLIER" "RED SEAL" "SOUTHERN"

For sale by all first class dealers in Paints. If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar. It will only cost you a postal card to do so.
