A PASTOR'S CRIME.

SIGUX CITY, In., Dec. 2. - Rev. J. T. C. Wilson, a Methodist munister who preaches at Beresford, is in jail at Canton under arrest for outraging a thirteen-year-old girl, the daughter of one of his parishoners. Wilson left home Monday to attend a conference meeting at Canton. He stopped at the house of F. S. Moulton, a friend, for dinner, and found no one at home but the thirteen year old daughter. He choked the girl into insensibility, outraged her and then went to Canton, where he met the father and mother, cordially dined with them and then took part in the conference.

The girl was discovered in the evening in a precarious condition. Yesterday she was able to tell who her assailant was and the arrest resuffect.

> "Clara Allen, the woman who claims that she saw the fatal shot fired, was then called. "On the day of the tragedy," she said, "I was an inmate at Lou Scott's house, situated at 103 South Eighth street. Shortly after 5 o'clock I came down stairs and saw Mr. Miller and Berlin standing on the porch and Hays in the hall talking to Mrs. Scott. The three had been inside and were then leaving."

"Are the two men with Mr. Miller on that day in the room now?"asked County Attorney Mahoney.

"They are."

"Point them out, please." "They are sitting there," pointing to Berling and Hayes.

"Do you positively identify them?" "I do."

"After leaving Mrs. Scott's," the witness continued,"the men went to Belle Brandon's whose place is a few doors from Mrs. Scott's. One of them started up the steps, but Miller protested and the three then went away, where, I do not know. Not one of three was intoxicated.

"A short time after that I went up stairs, and looking out of my window across to the vacant lot I saw Hayes standing on a small side hill south of Dodge street and south of Eighth street.

"He was gazing intently at an object in the weeds. I watched him and perhaps a minute later I saw his hand into his hip pocker and and when found he was standing on pull out a revolver, take deliberate aim and fire at something in the Trogden was on the Indiana side of the road and he nois side, so that while Saunders' body probably fell in Illinois, the act that resulted in his death was committed in Indiana. The first trial at Terre Haute resulted in a disagreement. At the second a verdict of manslaughter was rendered and a penalty of three years assessed. With a new trial and a change of venue to Clay county, Trogden got five years.

The supreme court also granted a new trial to Simon Field, convicted and sent up for life from Elkhart county for the murder of Silas Bell. The two men became involved in a quarrel and Field stabbed Bell fatally. The claim was self defense. Both cases were reserved on the ground ef erroneous instruction to the jury.

A WOMAN CREMATED.

VALPARAISO, Neb., Nov. 30,-Mrs. Stanton, wife of James Stanton, a prominent merchant of this place, met with the saddest accident that ever occurred in this village or vicinity. About 2 o'clock this afternoon while filling the reservoir of a gasoline stove, she spilled some of the fluid on a cook stove that sat near by. A short time after that, forgetting about spilling it, she started a fire in the cook stove and turned her back to attend to some of her work. The gasoline on the stove flashed up and set her cloth ing on fire. No person being in the house at the time but a little girl about five years old and the fire having such a start before she noticed it, it could not be put out. The little girl knew not what to do and started for her father's store, about six blocks away, crying, which attracted the attention of some of the neighbors, who ran over as quickly as possible and found Mrs. Stanton with every stich of her clothing burned from her body with the exception of a small portion of her corset. Mrs. Stanton died at 7:30
