THE POPOCOATIC CONVENTION.

Gathering of the Faithful at Louisville Saturday is Attended with Difficulty.

Last Saturday the adjourned session of the populist county convention convened at Louisville. The weather in the morning was showery, rain having fallen at frequent intervals during the latter part of the night. Nothing daunted the populists, and at the appointed hour the delegates began to arrive, telling of bad roads, (in the middle). Upon the arrival of the Plattsmouth and Plattsmouth precinct delegations they had great tales to tell of how Colonels Hempel and Sherman led the charge up every hill which was considered at all steep—and the most of them were so discovered—followed by Mochenhaupt, the brickmaker, Kinkadee, the tailor and Briggs the barber, with L. A. Thompson bringing up the rear.

J. M. Woodson clung to the seat, and like a major held the reins which guided the team up the steep hill sides, while Colonel Robert J. Vass, the only remaining occupant of the carryall, kept his eye on the lap robes and extra garments, which those who walked had no use for during their colored march. It was a part of his duty, also, to see that Major Woodson's lunch basket did not get lost. After a long and tiresome march, attended with many a repetition of the events above described, and with not a few doubts and fears as to the ultimate outcome, this little band of the faithful, including Colonel Sherman—and it was hard to determine whether he was a demolisher or populocrat—arrived at the end of its journey.

Louisville was dressed in gala attire, with the star spangled banner throwing its folds to the breeze from every business house and many of the residences, while across the street from the place of meeting swung an immense flag with a life size picture of W. J. Bryan thereon, which brought out cheers from his admirers at intervals, interspersed with music from the City band of this place.

The convention, which should have been called at 10 o'clock, did not convene until 11. Chairman J. R. Rouse not being present, M. S. Briggs called the convention to order and D. W. Foster was elected chairman for the occasion.

On motion a committee of eight was appointed to confer with the democratic county central committee in regard to "getting together" on the county ticket, consisting of Dr. H. C. Madding, H. F. Allen, A. M. Russell, H. Hempel, G. Johnson, W. D. Hill and D. McCaig. The committee reported that the democrats had placed in nomination D. O'Dwyer for county attorney and W. H. Dearing for state senator, and that if they were also nominated by the populists that the democrats would put populist nominees names on their ticket. The report being adopted the nomination of a ticket was in order.

D. O. Dwyer was nominated for county attorney; Dr. W. H. Dearing for state senator and the names of H. Hempel, W. Waugh, L. G. Todd and E. K. Rouse were placed in nomination for representatives. Though a little irregular, a motion then prevailed to take an informal ballot, which resulted as follows: Hempel 59, Waugh 26, Todd 13, Rouse 7. Upon motion of David McCaig, Henry Hempel was nominated by acclamation, and a roll call for the other place proceeded, which resulted in the nomination of W. Waugh by a vote of 63 to 25 for L. G. Todd and J. W. Reasoner 26—the latter's vote being finally changed to Todd.

A motion prevailed that the republican candidates for the house should be challenged to joint discussion. After the appointment of a county central committee the convention adjourned.

The county central committee is composed of J. W. Cox, Jno. Ramsey, Geo. McAdie, D. Root, W. G. Wolf, Sam Barger, Ben Shrader, W. D. Hill, S. Crabtree, J. Yardley, Lyman James, A. T. Henshaw, Jas. Clark, H. Hubbard, C. J. Hanner, Am. Russell, A. Beach, D. W. Foster, Wm. Gilmore, L. A. Demora, D. McHugh, H. Hempel, P. Hanrahan, J. C. Cavalt.

A Spent Meeting. Hon. John C. Cowan, one of the ablest lawyers in the state of Nebraska, made the best speech of the year at Waterman hall in this city Saturday evening. It was argumentative and strong in logic, clean and convincing. Mr. Cowan had not made a political speech before for twelve years, and he said the serious questions with which the campaign was fraught alone tempted him to come out and raise his voice in the interest of sound money and against the threat so ominously made in the democratic platform. Waterman's hall, the largest in the city, could hold no more than half the crowd which sought admittance.

An Afternoon Luncheon. Miss Verna Leonard entertained a party of twenty-four young lady friends at luncheon yesterday afternoon in a most agreeable manner. The "jolly six" or a part of the original crowd was there, and all unite in reporting one of the most delightful afternoons of the year.

He Wants His Boy.

A rather seedy looking man was in the sheriff's office yesterday to see if it was possible to secure any information regarding his wife, who eloped with a man in 1884 from their home in Springfield, Mo. The man has been looking for his wife ever since, and the three children that she took with her at the time. He has been tramping around this way for the past four years, and just lately found where the guilty couple left the little boy, who was taken sick, in the care of strangers, and it died. He learned while here that the baby afterwards died, and that his oldest child, a boy, was still living. It is this boy that he wants to find and reclaim. He refused to give his name, saying that he could accomplish his task best by concealing his identity. He was about the city all day and hopes to obtain some information here whereby he will be enabled to find his boy.—Nebraska City News.

A Nice Entertainment.

The Photograph social gotten up by the Presbyterian ladies proved a most interesting affair last evening. There was no end of pictures many infantile copies of sedate, bewiskered business men were puzzles to the guessers. The crowd was quite large, though not near what the entertainment merited. The pictures were nicely arranged about the hall, and some of them create considerable merriment when it was discovered that the boy picture with its Sunday rig was that of Mr. Pollock or some other very different appearing personage. The girls as a rule had not changed quite as much as they grew older but many of them were unrecognizable. Nice refreshments were served, and apparently a fair revenue was obtained. The successful guessers of the mysterious pictures will be given Monday.

Death of Mrs. Mary Cook.

Mary, wife of Joseph Cook, residing near Myard, departed this life last night after a brief illness. She was the mother of twelve children, all of whom are living except one (Mrs. Hartman.) The deceased had resided near this city with her husband since the fall of 1856, and was a splendid, lovable woman, whose presence will be greatly missed.

Of the sick and suffering she was ever thoughtful, and her many acts of neighborly kindness will keep green bright memories of her sunny disposition. The funeral will take place from the family residence tomorrow at 10 a. m. Rev. Buswell officiating. The interment will be made at the Horning cemetery south of this city.

A Big Deal in Sheep.

Two farmers up in Saunders county have purchased 48,000 head of sheep in New Mexico, which will be shipped to Wahoo next week, where they will be fed and fattened for market this winter. An agent of the Burlington road was in town today securing necessary lumber from the supply department to erect a lot of unloading chutes as 48,000 sheep is a pretty big number, far beyond the capacity of any yard in Nebraska to handle. The feeding of so many sheep will make a good home market that ought to be of considerable assistance to Saunders county farmers as well as those of western Cass.

The Burlington's New Engines

Today the boiler will be mounted on the last of the eight new class K locomotives built at the Burlington shops. A year ago work began on the first one of four and as repair work would admit they were pushed forward to completion. Before being finished an order came for four more and by the 5th of September the last one will be ready for the road. These engines have been fully described by The Times. They are among the most powerful on the "Q" system and besides their pulling qualities are capable of high speed. One of them, No. 52, is being thoroughly tested between Lincoln and Creston, Ia., and has pulled a full freight train up the Creston hill at a 13 mile an hour gait without the aid of a "pusher." This is a record possessed by no other engine.

The new boilers are immense concerns. Their body is 60 inches in diameter and has a 71 inch extension wagon top. The steam space is vastly increased over the old style boiler. No. 531, the seventh of the series, is on the testing tracks now and the one now being built will be 332, the highest number among the B & M. engines proper. All numbers of engines that went to the scrap pile are filed. "H-g" engine 187, an eight driver has been fitted with a "out leg" or straight stack and nearly all the engines will get this kind of equipment as they come in from time to time for repairs. It is claimed for these stacks besides being ornamental, they are fuel savers.—Herald Times.

It is a cold day when Fremont does not have some kind of an attraction to draw a crowd. The latest is a state camp meeting of the Adventists.

A party of twenty-seven workmen were lunched together at the sugar factory on Saturday, when the usual topic—politics—was under discussion. Finally it was agreed to take a test vote and see how they stood. The vote developed the fact that there were twenty-six McKinley men and one who didn't know how he would vote because he "versteht nicht." He had been in this country but a short time and would not express himself on a question that he did not understand.—Norfolk News.

The Courier wishes to express its deepest sympathy to Editor Clements of the Elmwood Leader. A cancer starting from his nose has spread to his eyes and at last reports he was entirely blind. While sympathy does not abate the suffering to any great extent, it is tendered by every one who is aware of his sad misfortune.—Louisville Courier.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by all druggists.

The forenoon was taken in the argument of motion. In the case of state vs. Alonzo Moore motion to strike plea in statement from the files was sustained to which defendants attorney excepts.

This afternoon the jury was empaneled for the trial of Wm. Gillespie, one of the harness thieves caught at Kansas City, A. J. Graves appearing for the defense and County Attorney C. S. Polk for the state.

Notice by publication on petition for settlement of final administration account. In the county court of Cass county, Nebraska. In the matter of the estate of John W. Gullion, deceased. Mary E. Gullion, James Gullion and all persons interested in said matter are hereby notified that on the 21st day of August, 1896, James C. Stevenson filed a petition in said county court, praying that his final administration accounts herein be settled and allowed and that he be discharged from his trust as administrator, and that if you fail to appear before said court on the 22nd day of September, 1896, at 2 p. m., and contest said petition, the court may grant the prayer of said petition and make such order and further orders, allowances and decrees as to this court may seem proper; to the end that all matters pertaining to said estate may be finally settled and determined. Witness my hand and seal of said court at Plattsmouth, this 25th day of August, A. D. 1896. GEORGE M. SPOONER, County Judge.

Senator Butler, chairman of the populist national committee, has headquarters at the Shoreham, in Washington. Nothing is too good for the populist when he once gets into office. His sympathy with the anti-detroddren to the earth is purely an ante-election affair.

Eli Eaton a few days since applied at banks in this city for an amount of gold to ship to Chicago with which he desired to pay a note. He was informed that he could buy a Chicago draft which would be as good as gold. This he would not take but insisted on gold coin. He was finally accommodated with the gold and that without any premium. The Press challenges the News to produce its affidavits and the sooner the better.—Nebraska City Press.

The "Ideal" Roller Bearing Mower

THE LIGHTEST DRAFT MOWER MADE.

Deering Roller Bearing Ideal Mower, 4 1-2 and 5-Foot Cut.

A Round of Startling Victories

Has marked the path of the Deering Ideal Mower. No grass is too heavy or too light, no land is too rough and no service is too severe for this plucky little Ideal hero. Instead of friction bearings it has rollers and balls; the crank shaft is parallel with the ground so that the SELF-ADJUSTING PITMAN moves steadily BACK and forth in workman like fashion; the separated ledger plates hold the grasses like the roller of a feed cutter, and nothing can escape or draw in under the sick; the adjustable drag bar pays the interest on the investment. The driver of the Ideal Mower can cut as slow as he likes and it is never necessary to back when starting. The use of roller and ball bearings, has eliminated friction, and instead of grinding the bearings all the power is used in cutting grass.
