MUSIC—Lessons on Piano, Guitar and Mandolin. For terms call at St. John's Convent, corner Oak and Sixth streets.

It is said the editor of the Omaha World-Herald has not yet heard of an election in Vermont. Some one ought to wire him about it.

In the absence of Rev. A. H. Post from the city, Elder McKay will preach at the Baptist church on September 6th, at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Fred Stademan's lunch counter is open again, where you can get something nice to eat, and baking will be done on order. Opposite Hatt's meat market.

Pass the good word along the line. Files can be quickly cured without an operation by simply applying De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. F. G. Fricke & Co.

"Wake up, Jacob, day is breaking!" so said DeWitt's Little Early Risers to the man who had taken them to arouse his sluggish liver. F. G. Fricke & Co.

LOST—A leather pocket book containing $5.05 between Seventh and Rock streets and Mockenhaupt's brick yard. The finder will be rewarded by leaving at News office.

Col. Frank P. Ireland was in the city yesterday and took occasion to say that Judge Ramsey had more than met the expectations of his friends as a fair, able and impartial Judge.

Persons who have a coughing spell every night, on account of a tickling sensation in the throat, may overcome it at once by a dose of One Minute Cough Cure. F. G. Fricke & Co.

A woman in Chicago died on her husband's grave Tuesday, of grief. It is said to have been a most touching spectacle, and was witnessed by several people who were in the cemetery.

Small in size, but great in results, DeWitt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. F. G. Fricke & Co.

From all accounts Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a Godsend to the afflicted. There is no advertisement about this; we feel just like saying it.—The Democrat, Corrollton, Ky. For sale by all druggists.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. F. G. Fricke & Co.

Dr. W. A. Humphrey was recognized yesterday as a physician of merit and standing by the Missouri Valley Homeopathic medical association which elected him its president for the ensuing year. The next meeting of the association will be held at Des Moines.

The State Fair. Fully a thousand people were in attendance from this city and adjoining counties at the state fair and evening festivities in Omaha yesterday. The fair was the best ever held in the state, and the Akasben parade in the evening was an illuminated allegorical dream of beauty. The electrical display alone was well worth a sight seeing trip to the metropolis. The Plattsmouth crowd on the B. & M. filled fourteen coaches to standing room on the special train last night which did not reach this city till after midnight.

Another Harness Thief Convicted. Clark the man arrested for stealing harness from D. V. Skinner's barn near Alvo, after a spirited trial was found guilty yesterday after the jury had been out less than fifteen minutes. H. D. Travis defended and the county attorney C. S. Polk appeared for the state Mr. Clark will soon add his name to the big list of penitentiary birds that District Court and jury has turned out this term of court.

Union Veterans. George. H. Hess of Lincoln is in the city today for the purpose of organizing a Union Veteran republic club here this evening. Veterans and sons of veterans are requested to meet at McKinley headquarters at 8 o'clock this evening.

IN THE COURTS.

District Court. Judge Ramsey continues to transact an immense amount of business, and on Monday will finish up the criminal docket entirely.

On yesterday the two Gillespies, who stole Ekm Parmele's harness, were sentenced to six years in the penitentiary at hard labor. This is in strong contrast to the few month sentences that Judge Chapman used to make, and can but have a salutary effect.

The jury was excused last evening until Monday morning. Today Sheriff Holloway took Sullivan and Perine, the Louisville burglars of Edward's Bros. store, to the penitentiary, they having received sentence a few days ago, the former for two and a half years and the latter for one year and a half.

Mrs. Rena Bounds, the woman who was mixed up with Clark, the burglar, and who was found with Aaron Butterworth's harness on her team, is in jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of receiving stolen property. It is evident that Clark and Meachams stole the property and turned it over to her. LATER—The woman was discharged.

Today a jury having been waived the case of Skommel vs. Insurance company, is being tried to the court. The forenoon was largely taken up in calling the law docket.

Will Take Its Medicine. The democratic (so called) state convention meets in Omaha today, but not to nominate a state ticket, no. It means to bow low at the feet of W. J. Bryan, kiss the hem of his pantaloons, throw democracy to the dogs and espouse the populist state ticket nominated a few weeks ago. It will be a great spectacle to see time honored democrats throw aside their bourbon cloak and don the gown of populism. All this for principle? No, its all for Bryan, who hopes by this sort of log-rolling to win his way to the white house.

The populists with rare consideration which is beautiful to contemplate left a vacancy for one office on the state ticket, that of attorney general, which by their grace the democrats will be allowed to fill. H. D. Travis of this city is mentioned as a candidate for the nomination and we can say truthfully he would be a credit to the ticket. Mr. Travis had four years experience as a county prosecutor and he did his work so well that he got more than his party vote for a third term. If we can't have a republican attorney general a majority of the people in this county we are sure would prefer Mr. Travis.

Col. F. Jasper Morgan, the Nestor of the "new" democracy. Hon. J. M. Patterson, whose conversion threw our Col. Sherman into his fatal letter writing mood, June Black, Matthew Gering, also one of the converted, H. D. Travis, and several others went to Omaha this morning to be in evidence at the convention.

Why Not Free Flour or Wheat. At a banquet given to the state flour millers Tuesday afternoon at Omaha, Secretary J. Sterling Morton made an address which has caused a great deal of unfavorable comment among free silverites. The secretary said there should be legislation for the regulation of the millers which would put up the price of cereals that the farmers might get $1 worth of flour for 53 cents worth of wheat. He thought there ought to be a law passed which would compel the millers of the state to comply with this regardless of what other nations might do. He called upon Governor Holcomb, who sat at his side, to take steps to secure a legislative enactment to bring this about without waiting for action by congress. If law could create a value in one kind of products of the soil, it could in any other kind, if it were a good thing in one case it would be equally so in all, and if it couldn't be accomplished by this nation alone, then an international agreement should be perfected to hold up the prices of all products. This would prevent panics, for panics only took place when prices advance or fall. For these reasons, he thought, the millers should be compelled to give $1 worth of flour for every 53 cents worth of wheat brought to them by the farmer.—Nebraska City Press.

Teachers' Examination. Examinations for teachers' certificates for the city of Plattsmouth will be held in room eight in the central building, beginning Monday, Sept 7 at 9 a. m. All those holding certificates which have expired, and all those desiring to obtain certificates for the first time are requested to be present promptly at that hour.

Only One Acquittal. The county attorney as well as the sheriff's officers are justly proud of the fact that after two weeks work in the trial of criminal cases only one acquittal has been had. This was in the case of the state vs. Adair a one armed boy charged with burglarizing the B. & M. depot at Greenwood. H. D. Travis and T. Frank Wiles defended the boy very ably and are entitled to credit for so successfully doing their work.

GARFIELD ON FREE SILVER.

(From a speech in the House of Representatives, July 13, 1876.) Mr. Speaker—I can hardly conceive a situation in which the House could be brought more directly face to face with what seems to present on the one hand public honor and on the other the deepest public disgrace.

It has happened in the fluctuation of these metals that there is now a notable opportunity to cheat seven millions of men by adopting the baser metal as a standard of payment, and thus accomplish a swindle on so great a scale as to make the achievement illustrious. By the proposed measure one-fifth of the enormous aggregate of public and private debts can be wiped out with a sponge. This nation owes $2,100,000,000 and private citizens of the United States probably owe $2,500,000,000, possibly more. At the present moment the relation of debtor and creditor in the United States involves nearly $5,000,000,000. It is proposed by the amendment of the gentleman from Indiana that at one fell stroke one-fifth of all this enormous sum shall be wiped off, repudiated, and that the process shall be called honest legislation. Since I have been in public life I have never known any proposition that contained so many elements of vast rascality, of colossal swindling as this.

During the rain and electrical storm Saturday morning, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock, lightning struck the large barn of William Westlake, and burned the building, one horse, 350 bushels of grain, all his farm tools, wagons, harness, hay, etc. The barn was 40x68 feet in size, and was, with its contents, Mr. Westlake says, worth about $3,000. His insurance was $900 in the Phoenix. There were five head of horses in the barn at the time, but four of them were rescued before the flames had got complete control. This is a heavy loss for Mr. Westlake, and we sympathize with him.—Weeping Water Republican.

Put in operation the provision now suggested and all our gold coin will leave the country as fast as it can be carried abroad. Do this and, a revolution in our monetary affairs, utterly unparalleled in the history of our nation will follow.

School opened last Monday with W. H. Ireland as teacher. Mr. A. Jenkins is preparing to remodel his house.

Mr. Steedford has just completed a snug little barn on his lots. This, with his new house, which he built earlier in the summer, makes him a pleasant and comfortable home.

The young folks of Manley and vicinity enjoyed a pleasant evening at the home of W. H. Taber, Sept. 1st. Mr. Keckler and family are attending the state fair at Omaha this week. Mr. C. M. Andrus drove to Plattsmouth Tuesday.

Mr. Cass Sander is reported on the sick list this week.

NEBRASKA NOTES.

Jonas Sudgeon estimates that he had 1,000 bushels of apples knocked from the trees during the late hail storm. Clark has a police now force consisting of six men appointed to round up tramps at night and furnish them lodging in the city jail.

R. M. and W. A. Hampton of Alliance have purchased 1,900 head of cattle which they are placing on their ranch south of Alliance.

Mrs. J. N. Stanley of Hostwick, has a new kind of pea that is larger for size of pod is remarkable, some being fully eleven inches.

Sam Hober of Meade had the misfortune to get the fingers of one of his hands badly crushed in the cog wheels of the windmill last Sunday. The doctor thinks amputation can be avoided.

John Dostal a farmer residing near Fremont, was the victim of a corn sheller accident a few days ago. He caught his fingers in the cog wheels and it was mangled so that amputation was necessary.

J. B. Nelson of Creighton broke his arm in two places recently. While coming to town on a load of hay the tongue of the wagon broke and ran into the ground stopping the wagon so suddenly that he was thrown to the ground with the foregoing result.

There are ten men employed at Oakland by the railroad company. These men all live in Oakland and spent their money and are not despised citizens because they get their money which they spend from the railroad. All of these men are for McKinley. This is only a straw, but it shows which way the wind is blowing.—Oakland Republican.

Ed Wild and Alva Smith had a dispute over "lovely woman" at Blair. The doctor put Smith's arm back in place. Alva says that when that arm gets well and his eyes resume their normal color and condition, he will meet Wild on the summit of the broken, or any other old place suited to deeds of violence, and mutilate him as a free silver paper does the speeches of James G. Blaine.

Bernard Mosler of Minden is a pessimist or a philosopher, as one may happen to look on life. He has evolved the following calculations, which he calls the "Lover's table": Sixteen smiles proved one nod; sixteen nods one word; twenty-eight words one trust; four trusts one engagement; one engagement three oaks; three oaks one wedding; one wedding forty years' misery; forty years' misery one funeral; one funeral the happiest day of your life.

Tiresome Twaddle.

Mrs. Bryan is a trifle too conspicuous in this campaign. She is an estimable lady, but after all she is not an issue, and we grow rather weary of reading windy accounts of her daily doings, probably dictated by her husband. One story, written in a vein of nauseating gush, tells of her "loyalty to her husband" and of the beautiful spirit in which she seems to say "where thou goest there also will I skedaddle; where thou diest there also shall I croak." Why in the name of all that's sacred and solemn shouldn't she be loyal to her husband? Is it a shining virtue to cleave to her husband because he has been nominated for the presidency, rather than sentenced to the penitentiary? We hear no twaddle about Mrs. McKinley. Some time ago, when Secretary Carlisle was a presidential possibility, a sniveling reporter wrote an article about Mrs. Carlisle, with a great deal of slobber, how charming was her faith in her husband, and all that sort of thing; and they do say that the great Kentuckian hunted up that reporter and read the riot act with sheet iron accompaniment, and cast him into outer darkness.—Walt Mason.

WEAVING WATER NOTES.

This is a heavy loss for Mr. Westlake, and we sympathize with him.—Weeping Water Republican.

Frank Fowler and wife returned last week from a two months' visit in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. Mr. Fowler says that while absent he took particular pains to visit the mills and factories in the localities where he was, to ascertain the feeling in regard to the political situation, and he says that seven-eighths of all the laboring men in those institutions are for McKinley, and among the farmers the ratio is almost as great. He says that in Indiana he found twenty-six of his relatives who had always voted the democratic ticket, but this year they will change and vote for McKinley and protection.—Weeping Water Republican.

On account of a number of members intending to be out of the city Thursday night it is deemed advisable to convene the Knights and Ladies of Security upon Tuesday evening, Sept. 8. We will elect officers upon that night and each member is earnestly requested to be present. By order of the president.
