

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

William McBee Falls Under a Moving Train.

HIS BODY BADLY MUTILATED.

A Suspicion of Foul Play is Entertained, Which the Coroner Will Investigate at Once.

William McBee and about twenty-five other men who had been employed at South Omaha, boarded the M. P. freight train south last night, intending to go to Kansas City. When they reached Union, McBee and his chum, who gave his name as McDonald, got off the train to get a drink of water, both being under the influence of liquor. They started to board the train after it was in motion, and McBee fell under the wheels, and was pulled out by his chum after two wheels had passed over him.

Both lower limbs were mangled in a horrible manner. The left limb was ground to pieces from the hip down, and the right was also badly mangled. The strange feature of the accident which created suspicion of foul play, was the fact that an open knife was found in his pocket and a gash was cut in his abdomen by a knife that of itself would have proved fatal. He had sixty-five cents in his pocket, and it looked as though his partner had stabbed him and then threw him under the wheels to cover up his crime.

No one saw the accident but McDonald, and the matter is being investigated by the coroner and a jury. Doctors Walker and Wallace of Union, and Dr. Gilmore of Murray, were called, but they could do nothing, and at 8:30 this morning the man died, the accident having occurred about midnight. He was never in a very rational and could give no account of what occurred.

McBee's father, who is an engineer on the Rock Island, was notified. The deceased was well dressed and of good appearance.

A Fine Residence.

Mrs. Wiles, widow of the late James Wiles, let the contract to Sol Osborn the first of the week for the erection of a Queen Anne cottage on her farm southwest of town that will be one of the handsomest and most convenient farm houses in the county. Mrs. Wiles is a woman of rare executive ability, having managed a large estate and made money while men were grumbling about hard times and bad luck. She owns a fine farm, and erected a large and expensive barn a year or so ago, and when the new house is finished there will be few, if any, farms in the county with better improvements.

Storm at Hastings.

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 2.—A heavy thunder-storm, accompanied by wind and hail, passed south and east of this city this evening. Many stacks of grain in the path of the storm were blown to pieces and at inland, a small station on the B. & M. railway, a farmer living southwest of the city, was struck by lightning this evening, striking on the right side of his head and passing down the right side of his body. His hair was singed and his right side and leg badly burned. After about an hour he recovered consciousness and will fully recover without suffering any injury except from the burns he received.

The Second Nebraska.

The soldier boys came through this morning on the M. P. in four special trains. The first at 5:30, the next at 5:45, the third at 6:00, and the fourth and last train about 8:30, it having been held over at Nebraska City to meet friends there who crowded out in great numbers and furnished the boys with a fine luncheon. They seemed to be delighted at getting home, and when they passed through this city they greeted the people at the depot with cheers and showers of hard tack. On arriving at Omaha they will be served with an elegant luncheon by the ladies of Omaha.

War Relics.

Lem Cooper, who was on the Santa Fe and witnessed the great San Juan naval battle, sent home some interesting relics to his father yesterday, which he found on the Vizcaya which he boarded immediately after the surrender. One article was a Spanish watch and chain badly damaged by fire, and among other things several Spanish coins the size of a dime, in a quarter. He kept several bulky articles that he could not send by express.

Special Omaha Rates.

The M. P. will sell tickets to Omaha and return as follows: Woodmen's day, September 9, forty-five cents, good to return until the 12th. Firemen's day, September 5, fifty cents, good to return until the 7th. Colorado day, September 7, fifty cents, good to return until the 17th. All passenger trains stop at the exposition grounds thus avoiding street car transfers. For further particulars apply to C. E. Stoutenborough, agent.

Buy Brick at Home.

F. D. Lehnoff has been put in charge of the brick works and will sell and deliver brick to all parts of the city. Those owing the company must pay up. He will be found at the yards all day, and would be glad to have those owing call at once.

FOR SALE—A fine residence property for sale cheap for cash. An eight room house, with cistern and city water. Pleasantly located. Enquire at premises, 517 North Sixth street.

CITY AND COUNTY.

SATURDAY.

Harry Groves departed this afternoon for Lincoln to see his "brother," Ed. Stopher, one of Elmwood's leading citizens, who is "down on his business" today.

Commissioner Hays went home by the way of Lincoln today to spend Sunday.

The Misses Annie and Nellie O'Rourke came in from Omaha this morning.

A. C. Wright came down from Lincoln today on business and made the NEWS a pleasant call.

H. C. Calkins left last evening for New York on a visit among old friends and relatives.

Mrs. Fred Cunningham is down from Lincoln visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lloyd.

Loads of melons find a market here every day, but they are far from being as good as they were last year.

Mrs. H. Fletcher and daughter, Mable, leave tomorrow for a two week's visit in Chicago.

Ed. Donat and children arrived home this morning from a visit with relatives in Saunders county.

Ed. Spencer of this city is a member of the Second Nebraska, and is expected home tomorrow from Omaha.

Mrs. Street's mother returned to her home at Red Oak this morning, after a pleasant visit here of several days.

Miss Vesta Gray, an able attorney-at-law, of Fremont, is visiting the families of Mr. Ritchey and Mr. A. W. Atwood.

Mrs. Bertha Jackson departed this afternoon for her home in Denver, after an extended visit here with her parents.

Miss Frances Graves came down from Omaha this afternoon and will spend Sunday with her cousin, Mrs. A. A. Atwood.

The Twenty-second infantry, stationed at Fort Crook, where the war broke out is now at Montauk Point, Long Island.

Wm. Crawford, who was on the sick list for a few days, was straightened out by Dr. Humphrey and he is out again now as good as new.

E. M. Parlin, of Thies & Parlin, commission merchants of Kansas City, accompanied by his wife came in yesterday for a visit with his cousin, Mrs. S. A. Davis and family.

R. G. Dunn & Co. report fewer failures for the month of August than for the same month in years, while the trade volume is rapidly growing larger.

Mrs. M. A. Street returned last evening from a tour of eastern military headquarters where she purchased a big lot of fall and winter goods that will begin to arrive soon.

Major Mason, the M. P. night engineer, took a lay-off today and is visiting the exposition. He will probably make a fly-grip trip through the midway just to see if things are as they have been represented.

Mrs. C. A. Rankin, assisted by Miss Nina Tucker, will open a new millinery store in one of Mr. Long's rooms in the Union block in a few days, an entire new stock of goods having been purchased.

Col. Pickett continues to do an immense business for the Adam Express company, sending out big consignments of melons, sweet corn, grapes, apples, plums, etc., to the farthest points reached by the B. & M. railway. One result of his efforts at finding a market is that a large sum of money is left here every day for products.

Don't.

HAVE TAKEN OUTER WORKS.

Spaniards Make a Desperate Stand But Are Driven From El Caney.

WITH AMERICAN ARMY, Before Santiago (via Playa del Este), July 2.—Four members of the Twenty-first regiment of regulars were killed in the fighting between Sevilla and Agudadores, while 16 other Americans all members of the Twenty-first, were wounded.

Both the American and Spanish fleets early joined in the battle. While Admiral Sampson's men were reducing the recently emptied batteries at Agudadores, Admiral Cervera's fleet was hurling shells in the direction of the American and Cuban lines.

Major General Shafter yesterday morning began with great vigor the attack on the outer defenses of Santiago. From three directions the American forces advanced toward the doomed city.

While General Lawton and General Wheeler were attacking Caney, northeast of Santiago, General Kent was advancing toward Agudadores. General Garcia, with his Cuban troops, at the same time approached Caney from the southeast, and the other divisions of the American army pressed toward Santiago from the east, our forces thus presenting a solid front from the coast to General Linares' northern defenses.

Before the fighting had been long under way the American and Cuban forces gained advanced ground. Foot by foot the enemy was driven back into the village.

It was evident after the first hour's fighting that General Shafter had gauged the strength of the enemy accurately, and that he would be able to drive the Spaniards into Santiago at his pleasure. It was with difficulty that the commanding officers restrained the ardor of our troops until the hour for beginning the attack came.

The enthusiasm of the American forces was intense and their spirit quickly spread to the Cuban troops. All had shared the belief of General Shafter that Santiago could be taken by a sharp, persistent attack, and they have been impatient to advance.

Two batteries of light artillery, acting under orders from Major General Shafter, who went to the front at the head of the troops, began the battle of Santiago by attacking Caney.

General "Joe" Wheeler, with a detachment of the cavalry command, and General Garcia, with his Cuban troops, quickly joined General Lawton's men in the advance upon Caney. The Spaniards for a time fought desperately to prevent Caney from falling into the hands of our forces. It was a vain effort. They boldly faced the enemy's fire, holding their ground tenaciously and pressing forward whenever an opportunity to gain an advanced footing presented itself.

In their operations about Agudadores the Americans were greatly encouraged by the work of the fleet, which poured a heavy fire into the lines of the Spaniards.

Admiral Sampson ordered the New York, Gloucester and Suwanee to attack the batteries recently placed to the east of Morro. The vessels engaged the batteries at short range and left only the scoured hillsides to show where the batteries had been located.

Brigadier General Kent, who commands the center of the general line of attack, started the Twenty-first regiment of regulars toward Agudadores at the same hour General Lawton's men advanced toward Caney. Upon these troops fell the brunt of the battle to the southeast of Santiago during the early hours of the day. General Kent's forces has sustained the heaviest loss of the engagement thus far.

There was desperate fighting about Agudadores. Acting under orders from General Linares, the Spaniards at that point returned the American fire with a fury that aroused in our men the fiercest determination.

As the enemy was pressed back toward Santiago, both at Caney and at Agudadores, the progress of our forces was in entire harmony with the plans of General Shafter. Our lines thus became more closely knit, and now the Americans and Cubans present a continuous front from the southeast to the north of the city.

OVER FOUR HUNDRED CASUALTIES.

Troops Entrench Themselves During the Night and Reinforcements Came Up.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The war department at 12:30 this morning received the following from General Shafter, dated Siboney:
"Had a very heavy engagement today, which lasted from 8 a. m. to sundown. We have carried the outer works and are in possession of them. There is now but three-quarters of a mile of open between my lines and the city. By morning the troops will be entrenched and considerable augmentation of forces there. General Lawton's division and General Bates' brigade have been engaged all day in carrying El Caney, which was accomplished at 4 p. m. Will be in lips in front of Santiago during the night. I regret to say our casualties will be above 400. Of these not many killed."—Stribony.

In reply to a message asking General Shafter how many transports could be sent back to Tampa in order that reinforcements might be sent him, Adjutant General Corbin late last night received the following reply: "Colonel Humphreys has been ordered to return as many transports as possible at once."

Troops Have All Landed.

Key West, July 2.—News is received here that lookouts on the New Orleans discovered Spaniards trying to fire buildings near Santiago fortifications. The New Orleans fired several shells, doing great damage and killing many.

The balance of the troops landed today and had a bloody engagement. The Spaniards left 50 dead, the Americans 30 wounded.

A man stands no chance of being elected to the mayorship of a city unless he enjoys the confidence and esteem of his neighbors. Geo. W. Humphrey is the popular mayor of Swanton, Ohio, and under date of Jan. 17, 1898, he writes as follows: "This is to certify to our appreciation of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My family and neighbors have tested it, and we know it is an excellent remedy for coughs and colds.—GEORGE W. HUMPHREY." Sold by all druggists.

Entertaining the Copper.

It was a bitter cold night, and a night policeman in Lombard street noticed a light in the bank window, and going to the door, rapped.

"Is that you, policeman?" asked a voice from within.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Come in and have a drink," said the voice.

The policeman stepped inside and encountered a dapper little fellow sitting at a desk.

"I've been detained tonight straightening up accounts."

The policeman warmed himself at the roaring fire that blazed on the hearth and went out again on his beat. An hour after the policeman came that way and, still seeing the light through the window, rapped again.

"Is that you, policeman?"

"Come in and warm yourself."

The policeman accepted the invitation.

"It's a howling cold night," said the clerk.

"You're right, sir," said the policeman.

So he got another drink and returned to his beat. He was rather surprised next day to find that his friend of the night before had got off with some $50,000 of the bank's funds.—London Success.

An Attack on Sevastopol.

From where I was stationed I could see the dense masses of the attacking columns advance up the slope. Then the torrents of grape which met them would obscure their ranks for a moment and hardly a man would be seen to remain. I at one time saw a body of men many hundreds strong so completely swept away by one discharge that the same being leveled upon and taken as the property of A. A. Davis defendant, to satisfy a judgment of said court recovered by the Farmers Bank of Murdock, plaintiff, against said defendant.
