THE Nebraska City News says Burkett has endorsed the Gage bill. Burkett has done nothing of the kind, and the peddling who said so, knew he was lying with the intention of deceiving voters into supporting Manahan, the Minnesota candidate for congress.

THE chairman of the popocratic meeting at Weeping Water introduced Manahan to the audience with the remark that he was like a frog you couldn't tell how far he could jump by the looks of him. The audience was quick to see the funny side of his resemblance to the frog, and responded with loud guffaws.

Justices Gray, Shires and White of the supreme court of the United States could not get from under the corporation collar long enough to decide a clear case against the freight traffic association, but the other members of this supreme tribunal had no difficulty in writing an able opinion which preserves the rights of the people.

SWITZERLAND is about to follow the example set by Belgium and Holland in the nationalization of its railways. The Swiss railways consist of five principal systems and aggregate 2578 kilometers or about 4396 miles. It is proposed to issue bonds running sixty years and to use the net revenue in the payment of the same. The charters of the companies are such that the state is permitted at any time to purchase the roads, but must not pay less than the capitalized value of the road.

GO TO the republican platform if you want to know the creed of faith and the guiding star of the republican party, but where will you find the declaration of principles of the popocratic party? The aims and acts of the democratic and populist parties are as wide apart as the poles of the earth; the attempt to meet upon a common ground of a division of offices degrades each party to the compact and in the end will bring them down combined to a bedraggled minority incapable of existence, except to point a moral and adorn a tale.

THE scene enacted in the city of Paris during the last two days does not indicate that the French people, as a nation, have made much progress in civilization during the last one hundred years. Such scenes as the last few days have witnessed will not tend to favorably advertise the great exposition which they expect to have in Paris in 1900. It is to be hoped such acts, characterized by so little respect for the law, may not go to make up the history of the young republic any more.

THE election of Judge Hayward seem to be a sure thing. The republican state committee is convinced that he will win by a handsome majority, and that the balance of the ticket will go in with him. Judge Hayward has made a splendid campaign, and wherever he has appeared his speeches have stirred up enthusiasm and converted doubters. He will be the most able governor that the state has had for a long time, and the reforms instituted by him will be genuine reforms, and not the hippodrome article.—Beatrice Express.

OUR townsman, R. A. Dittmar, republican candidate for state representative is making a very dignified and gentlemanly canvass over the district and is meeting with much encouragement. Word comes to us from many quarters that his candidacy is very popular with the voters generally and that is attracting new friends to him daily. It is evident that Mr. Dittmar will receive a handsome vote in Cass county, while in this county his majority will surprise many. His prospects for election are very bright and we confidently believe that when the votes are counted he will be declared the winner.—Nebraska City Press.

THE DUTY OF PATRIOTS.

The main purpose of the democratic leaders in the United States is to embarrass the national administration as much as possible in the settlement of the questions growing out of the war, so that some or all of the advantages gained by this country in the war with Spain will have to be thrown away. To this end all of their speakers are instructed as to the course to pursue, and all of the popocratic candidates are pledged. Speakers from the east are being sent into this state, and their utterances would indicate that they are in the direct employ of Spain. The Spanish commissioners in Paris have received the tip and are delaying the peace proceedings all they can in the hopes that the McKinley administration will not be sustained in the fall election. The voters of the state of Nebraska can see the importance of standing by the government at this critical time. The way for the voters of the first district to do this is to cast their votes for E. J. Burkett for congress. Patriotism demands this course without regard to previous political opinions. If the people of Nebraska believe in "standing up for the United States" they will elect a solid McKinley congressional delegation this fall.—Ex.

REPUBLICAN papers, republican candidates and republican orators refuse to remain silent on the great object lesson spread before intelligent people the past eighteen months. The issues in the McKinley campaign were, on the part of the republicans who voted for that great statesman, protection, and with those same republicans and the old line democrats who joined with the republicans for a time, sound money. The people waited the result. On the one hand it was prophesied that no prosperity would return and that money would become scarce; that prices of farm products would drop lower and commercial stagnation and ruin would ensue. On the other hand it was claimed that with a reasonable protective tariff levied and sound money guaranteed, money that would be worth its face the world over, and one against which foreign exchange would not run up and down chasing the price of bar silver as the column of mercury in a thermometer rises or falls with the change in temperature, that solid business prosperity would ensue; that mills would be opened—laborers would find work at remunerative wages—the great arteries of commerce would throop with the stimulus of reawakened labor and money for all legitimate purposes would be abundant in quantity that interest rates would be moderate. By all methods of fair honest reasoning the result should guide the voter this fall in voting for or against the republican ticket. The people know, when they stop to think that general conditions have not in years been so prosperous as the present and full of hope for the future as now. They know the promises of the republican party have been redeemed, and they do not want a return to the trying days preceding McKinley's election. We do not fear the result.

THE near approach of election day does not strike terror to those of foreign countries who have money invested in American securities, as it did two years ago when the silver craze was before the people for their arbitrament. The people passed upon that question, as they will upon all that arise. Confidence in the stability of the country and the condition of money has again been firmly established, and we see the result in larger earnings in all branches of industry. The people in all lines are more largely employed, and their earnings are greater. Stocks which two years ago kept dropping notch by notch as election day approached, now as that time comes, grow stronger and stronger. Not only is this the case, but preference is shown for American securities over those of other countries. The result of the late war through which we have passed, has been to give us a better standing than we had before. War at all times is to be dreaded, and avoided whenever possible, but when it must come, we should profit by what opportunity it brings us, even to the addition of territory or trade advantages that it may offer.

THE popocrats are making the fight of their lives all over the state. They know full well that the offices with the good salaries, to which they were strangers before the bad crops made it possible for them to ride into power upon the wave of discontent that the failure of crops brought. Recognizing that the abundant crops and the good times that are always with us when we have a republican administration, makes the chances for keeping the people discontented, and in the line of repudiation and bankruptcy they are working like beavers that their hold upon the public offices may not be broken, and that they may continue to feast at the public crib. The good time which Major McKinley has brought has opened the eyes of many who were lined up with the element of discontent, now they see their way clearly, and will act accordingly, for even a popocrat likes good times even if he does not have the courage to give credit to the cause that produced them.—Ex.

WHILE Spain has decided to make a demand for certain things in the treaty of peace which she knows full well will never be allowed, and that Uncle Sam will make a vigorous kick against any terms which are imposed in the settlement and, while she will go even so far as to ask the intervention of the powers, which she knows is of no use, and which looks to the world as a matter of form. Yet to Spain, and the discontented condition in which things are there, it is a deep game of politics. It is like those who man the pumps of a sinking ship; it is that or go down, and the sea of time closes over them, leaving not a ripple to mark the spot. The question is, is the old hulk worth saving?

THE Nebraska City News is howling against the McKinley brand of prosperity, yet every page of the News shows remarkable improvement, and gives the lie to its editorial utterances. Its telegraphic service alone, if only half rates are paid, costs more than all the others matter put together, costs under the hard times of free silver threats and free trade. The income of the paper must have doubled or it could not afford these increase expenses. Our neighbor had better learn wisdom from Altgeld and Fred Williams, drop all old issues and confine his fight to the McKinley bill which no one knows much about. It could accomplish more in that way and not make a laughing stock of its self.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

THE Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes, their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect savior of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by all druggists.

Remaining uncalled for at the post-office at Plattsmouth, Oct. 26, 1898: Fatts, Billy; Dreson, Fred; Mesceca, Joe; Palmer, James H.; Sbert, A. F.; Wilde, Thos.

When calling for any of the above letters please say "advertised."

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often abated long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 bottles at F. G. Fricke's drug store.

THE Missouri Pacific has a round trip rate of sixty-five cents to Omaha, good every day during the exposition except when a lower rate is made. All trains stop at the exposition except when a lower rate is made. All trains stop at the exposition except when a lower rate is made.

What do the Children Drink? Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-o you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-o is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee but costs about one-fourth as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

J. I. Unruh has just made a purchase of 100 iron bedsteads with women wire spring mattresses, mattresses and pillows which he will offer at the low price of $5.00 each. The entire outfit for the price has never before been offered at such a low price. A complete bed can be seen in his store window. All who are needing anything in this line may get a bargain by seeing him before buying.
