Important business.

C. C. Worell, the Burlington's extra station agent, is here relieving L.
E. Karnes, who is gone to Ohio in attendance to his son's funeral. Mr.
Karnes will return about the first of November.

James Robal, the broommaker, is at Greenwood today on business. He is looking after stock for brooms. Western Cass is producing a fine article now in the line of broom corn, and the farmers are making the growing of it a paying business.

A. J. Beeson and J. L. Root, candidate for county attorney, will address the voters of Plattsmouth precinct next Tuesday, November 1, at the Taylor school house three miles west of town on the Louisville road.

The fusionists are simply wild over the situation, and think the only way to save themselves is to get at somebody or other in joint debate. That will put them in a position to ask fool questions that nobody can answer, which is their chief stock in trade.— Bixty.

J. P. Rouse came in this morning looking a little the worse for the wear, having been laid up for a few days.
He still says that things are looking all right for him, politically he thinks that he is running for office, but alas, what a revaluation election there will be for them all.

T. J. Oliver, the populist orator from Greenwood, came in this morning from Mankley where he made a speech last night in the cause of fusion.
Tonight he will tell the pops of Rock Bluffs how easy it is to get swallowed, and what great good they are expected to derive from it.

Hon. F. M. Dorrington and wife returned home last Sunday morning.
Fred's devotion to Alliance's interests caused them to miss all the Omaha parades, but they nevertheless had a very happy visit with Lieutenant Dorrington, and Mrs Dorrington had the pleasure of a hearty hand shake and few words with President Mc-Kinley.—Alliance Times.

R. H. Whitley, of Burlington, visited the exposition at Omaha and his ticket expired October 25. He taking no thought as to how long it was good for over stayed the limit, and when he attempted to return home this morning on No. 6, which leaves Omaha at 2:15, he was not allowed to ride. He was put off here, the first stopping place, and has been seeking legal advice regarding the matter today.

O. E. Dinwiddie, a member of company B, 3rd regiment, who was sick with the malarial fever, and came as far as Chariton, Ia., some two months ago, at the time Hiram Robine came home, came in last night from Iowa for a few days visit with friends, after which he will return to his regiment, which is still in Florida. Mr. Dinwiddie looks rather worse for the wear but says he is feeling all right now.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Jacob Boetel, who died with consumption day before yesterday, was held today from the Christian church and was conducted by the fire department of this city of which Mr. Boetel was a member.

A large concourse of people of which the fire department numbered about fifty, followed the remains to its last resting place.

Rev. Dungan made a very able and touching address, telling of good qualities of the deceased. The pallbearers were selected from the friends of Mr. Boetel, and were Emory Newland, Thomas Hickson, Oliver Osborn, Louie Kroehler, W. F. Newland and Eugene Williams.

The fire department has been very attentive to Mr. Boetel during his illness, sending him west at one time in the hope that his health might be improved by the change of climate. The trip did not seem to do any good, and after his return he gradually sank, growing weaker and weaker until the last.

Today's Markets.

The sound of the gong which announces the opening of the board of trade in Chicago at 9:30 this morning was the knell for prices today. Wheat which had been on the toboggan slide for the past three or four days, and which stopped last night at 66 1/2 was down to 64 1/2 this morning and the bears still pounding away. At that price profit taking by the short was the order and caused a rally which placed the price up a few notches, but after that weakness was the rule again and the price kept settling until at the close it was 64 for October and 64 1/2 for the December kind.

Corn shared the same fate as wheat and was pushed down the endline.

Oats held strong and at the close stood with a very small fraction of the place it occupied at the close of yesterday's session.

While rye was nominal, the closing being for wheat, cash, 64 1/2; corn 31 1/2; Oats, 23; rye, 51.

Colonel Bryan Sick.

Colonel W. J. Bryan is sick at Savannah, Ga., with intermittent fever and considered rather a bad case, though in no wise dangerous. Mrs.
Bryan has been notified, and has said she would not go for a few days unless the colonel's case took a change for the worse. A later telegram says the colonel is a little better and hopes for his speedy recovery are entertained.

Notice.

Those having left work at the City Steam Laundry which has not yet been delivered, will please call for it the fast mail for Missouri Valley, Ia. on business, and will see the exposition while in Omaha.

Fred Gorder came in this morning from a trip in the county, where he has been looking after his fences politically and expresses himself confident of election.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Hansen, of Fernosa, South Dakota, came down to see the sights at the exposition, and visiting with the family of J. C. Petersen for a few days.

Morris Crisman, of Nebraska City is in the city greeting his many friends. Morris is at present engaged as a compositor on the Conservative, J. Sterling Morton's paper.

Ernest Soubee, of the Fifth street outer, and his brother, Robert, are taking a day off today and viewing with wonder the occupation of great things at the exposition.

Rockwood, Carl Fricke, Mrs. Polk and children, Dr. Cook and wife and O. E.
Eigenbrodt were passengers on the noon train for Omaha where they will see the exposition this afternoon.

Mrs. John X. Johnson, the brakeman on the fast mail, was called to Crete to the funeral of his brother, James Johnson's wife, who died at Wood River yesterday. The cause of her demise was cancer of the stomach.

L. D. Bennett and wife, F. S. White and wife, Mrs. O. H. Snyder, Mrs. O.
J. Smith and son, Horace, and daughter, Beudella, and Mrs. F. A. Murphy and children, made on a party who are seeing all the wonders of the exposition today.

Ed. Helzenhausen, mine host of the Hotel Plattsmouth, and family and Mrs. Wm. Schmidtman, and Mrs.
Joseph Felzer made a party who are taking in the sights at the Trans-Mississippi today.
