

THE INSTITUTE CLOSES

Regarded As One of the Most Successful Ever Held.

Superintendent Schoeffer Entertained the Teachers in the Morning With What He Termed a Combination Lesson and in the Afternoon He Spoke on "The Great Teacher."

WEeping WATER, April 1.—(Special to THE NEWS.)—The last day of the institute is like the wine of the new Testament—the best. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Hanford of the Congregational church. Superintendent Schoeffer then followed with what he called a "Combination lesson." In this exercise he told the teachers how Napoleon III tried to get control of the greater part of the civilized world by the formation of the Latin union. A clear understanding of Napoleon's aims explains why the Russian fleet appeared in our waters during the civil war, and also why a large body of soldiers was sent into Texas just at the close of the civil war. Russia was preparing to assist the north against not only the south but also against most of Europe. Had the southern confederacy been recognized by any European powers it would have placed the north at the mercy of all Europe save Russia. This bit of history is not generally understood. In Mr. Schoeffer's second talk he dealt with the formation and mechanical force of rivers. He explained what the force of rivers meant and how it would affect the country if they flowed more rapidly than they do.

Following Schoeffer came Dr. King in his usual good humor. He urged teachers to make themselves acquainted with the great masterpieces of literature. Above all, the Bible was to be studied as a book of literature. Nothing more beautiful, more sublime, more heroic has ever been written.

The afternoon session opened with a piano solo by Miss Everhart. Superintendent Schoeffer then addressed his audience upon the subject, "The Great Teacher." He compared Christ with other great men. He showed that, although Christ healed and also explained the law, yet he not called a physician nor a lawyer, but a teacher. Men are great, said the speaker, not because they are rich, not because they have learning or official position, but because they take up into themselves the best elements in the civilization about them, and because they exert a moulding and impelling influence upon the people with whom they come in contact. The great teacher's favorite word was "truth." This he wished his hearers to get and to get in such way that it ends in purpose and determination. The great lesson for the age is the command of Christ to Peter—"Feed My Sheep."

Dr. King has been asked to give a reading from the "Bonnie Briar Bush." As he read he explained the meaning of many Scotch words and phrases, and called attention to the strong points of the paragraph. His rendering of the death scene of Dr. Clark was very touching.

Dr. Schoeffer's lecture on "Education Among the Greeks and Romans" was given last evening to a crowded house. For more than an hour the speaker held his audience spell bound. It was the best lecture given during the institute. He compared the education of the Greeks and Romans with that of modern nations. He showed that in mere intellectual attainments the Greeks and Romans far excelled the nations of the present, but that in heart, in virtue, in love, modern nations have never been surpassed. Roman and Greek civilization was made possible by the institution of slavery, but any people that tramples on their fellows that they may rise can never long endure.

Institute Notes
Dr. Schoeffer left for home last evening over the Missouri Pacific.

The ladies have been very careful to remove their hats during all meetings.

A large number of the gentleman teachers have been staying at the Gibson house and the landlord has had trouble to find accommodations for all. The teachers and instructors presented Superintendent Farley with a set of Shakespeare's works in nine volumes. The gentlemen was taken by surprise.

District Court Notes

From Saturday's Daily.
In the district court yesterday in the case of Smith vs. Dr. Wallace, in which the former asked for damages in the sum of $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been inflicted upon him by Dr. Wallace, the jury, after being out about five hours, returned a verdict for the plaintiff and fixed the damages at $12.25.

The case of Lawrence Stull vs. School District No. 28 is occupying the attention of a jury today, and will probably continue into Monday, as a large per centage of the male and female voters of the district are in attendance as witnesses. In this case, which went against Stull in a lower court and was appealed by him, the school district seeks to receive a small amount of money held by Stull as treasurer of the district, and which he failed to turn over to his successor in office. Stull claims an offset against the amount sued for by the district, which was not allowed by the lower court.

Mrs. Lucy Waggoner was a pupil of the famous Professor George C. Williams who is now at the head of the Boston School of Oratory. Be sure and hear her Friday evening April 7, at the Christian Church.

In a Good Showing

The mortgage record for the month of March as shown by the books in the office of Recorder Hay makes a most excellent showing, especially on the farm property. March is the month when the largest number of mortgages are given of any during the year, as a general rule, but by the following table it will be seen that the releases exceed the filings over $3,000. Following is the record:

Farm property.....	$50,453
Released.....	$5,643
City property.....	$30,025
Released.....	9,073

The increased filings in city property is accounted for by the transfer in the Hotel Riley property, in which a mortgage of $20,000 was given. With this exception there would only be a difference of $40 on the filings and releases.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

From Saturday's Daily.

Work on the new union depot at Omaha is at a standstill on account of the strike by the hod carriers. The superintendent thinks, however, that he can secure enough men in a few days to proceed with the work.

The officials of the Missouri Pacific have once more changed their minds and the new train which was to have been put on tomorrow has been abandoned, at least for the present. The new time card will only change one train's time—the early northbound train will arrive here at 4:15 instead of 4:50.

Drink Grain-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose" or "is just as good" as One Minute remedy. That is the one infallible cure for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you. F. G. Fricke & Co.

REBELS DISCOURAGED.

General Feeling That Their Hour of Collapse Is at Hand.

Prominent Filipino Officer Gives Up and Two Thousand Privates Desire to Yield—Many Non-Combatant Natives Are Returning to Their Homes—Other War News.

MANILA, April 2.—0:30 p. m.—The American troops under General MacArthur are still resting at Malolos, where everything has been quiet today. Hostilities elsewhere, so far as officially reported, have been limited during the last twenty-four hours to an occasional exchange of shots between the insurgents and the troops forming the lines of General Lawton and General Hall, extending from the water works to La Lonia. But the shooting has been just active enough to make the lives of the soldiers a burden and to compel the officers to sleep in trenches, clothed in readiness to rebel possible attacks.

Most of the Americans are becoming convinced that the backbone of the insurgent opposition is broken. There are numerous rumors pointing to an early collapse of the insurrection. One of these is that General Pio del Pilar, the best fighter among Filipino officers, will desert Aguinaldo and give his support to the Americans.

The Spaniards, reasoning from their experience with the natives, refuse to believe that the rebellion is anywhere near put down. They declare that the Filipinos will not take their defeat at Malolos with the loss of the city and the removal of their so-called government seriously at heart. On the contrary, the Spaniards predict that the insurgents will have over the American lines, bothering them as much as possible, and, when attacked in force, dissolve only to reappear at other points. This sort of tactics, the Spaniards say, will be followed until the wet season compels the Americans to be housed in barracks, and then the Filipinos will return and recapture such towns as the United States troops do not garrison. With the next dry season a repetition of the present operations will begin. Time alone will show how much there is in this theory; but, as against it, it must be borne in mind that the Spaniards in all their domination of the Philippines never gave the inhabitants such a demonstration of power comparable in effectiveness to that given them by the United States.

Filipinos Ready to Yield

A priest and two men, members of the so-called Filipino congress, who hid themselves in the woods during the fighting which preceded the capture of Malolos, returned there this morning and declared that 2,000 of the Filipino soldiers were anxious to give up fighting and would do so but for their officers, who keep them under arms.

The country between Malolos and Caloocan is now full of friendless, woman, children and old people, who are returning to their homes, carrying white flags. The Americans are trying to gain the confidence of the inhabitants by proving to them that if they will return and attend to their ordinary work, peacefully, no harm will befall them. Two hundred and fifty civilians came back to their homes in Malolos last evening. Two thousand women and children, with a sprinkling of unarmed men, supposed to be warriors, came to the outskirts of Malolos on the sea side of the city and afterwards sneaked away, carrying all the goods they could.

There has been no little good natured rivalry as to which regiment—the First Montana or the Twentieth Kansas—is entitled to the honor of having raised its flag first in Malolos. Colonel Funston and twenty men of Company E, Kansas volunteers, claim the distinction, on the ground, as already cabled, of having entered the town at double quick and raised the company's flag, but the first flag to be recognized officially was that of Company G of the Montana infantry.

Was Well Received

Dr. Byron W. King's lecture Saturday evening at the Presbyterian church on the subject "All the World's a Stage" was indeed a high class entertainment. Dr. King does not enter into a critical study of Shakespeare's works, nor does he discuss the great and his times, but rather uses extracts from the many plays to embellish and illustrate his lecture. He showed each plays a part in the drama of life, and with many incidents, humorous and pathetic, he kept his audience alternately laughing and weeping. Dr. King is peculiarly strong in the pathetic vein, and it is here that he excels.

The church was comfortably filled and the entertainment was in every sense a success.

Deputy Treasurer A. L. Munger returned this morning from Port Arthur, Tex. He reports a very nice trip, with fine weather. He took the precaution to telegraph ahead for a room, and although there were about 5,000 people there, he had pleasant quarters in a hotel.

C. F. Valley has been making some improvements out on his farm in the way of a new granary and having his house reshingled. Harvey Holloway and Jack Murray did the work and made quite a record on the latter job, putting on 11,000 shingles in a little over two days, with cold weather, at that.

Despite the fact that the mail trains operated by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, between Chicago and Council Bluffs are the fastest in the country, their engineers experience comparatively little difficulty in keeping them on time. One of the two mail trains, No. 7, has been late but once this year. The other, No. 15, is an hour faster than No. 7, but its showing is almost equally good. Four times only, since January 1, has it failed to make its schedule of 500 miles in ten and a quarter hours.

Viola Allen's Literary Aspirations.

Miss Viola Allen, the "star" of Hall Caine's dramatization of his popular novel, "The Christian," has always aspired to be an author. She has said that there are two things which she would rather do than act: write a book, or be a trained nurse. She will now make her literary debut in an article which she has written for the Ladies' Home Journal, reciting and explaining fully "What the Life of an Actress Means."

Matches Without Phosphorus.

Kohlmann Rosenthal, an Englishman, and Dr. Von Komocki, a Berlin chemist, assert that they have invented a match that will strike anywhere and no phosphorus is used in it. This invention, they say, will do away with the horrors of necrosis, to which employees in match factories are subjected.

A TREELESS REGION.

Aspects of Some of the Mediterranean Countries.

Anyone who has traveled through the comparatively treeless countries around the Mediterranean, such as Spain, Sicily, Greece, northern Africa, and large portions of Italy, may frequently pray that our own country may be preserved from so dismal a fate. It is not the loss of the forests only that is to be dreaded, but the loss of agricultural regions now fertile and populous, which may be desolated by the floods that rush down from bare hills and mountains, bringing with them vast quantities of sand and gravel to be spread over the lowlands. Traveling a few years ago through Tunisia, I came suddenly upon a fine Roman bridge of stone over a wide, bare, dry river bed. It stood some thirty feet above the bed of the river, and had once served the needs of a prosperous population. Marveling at the height of the bridge above the ground, I asked the French stationmaster if the river ever rose to the arches which carried the roadway of the bridge. His answer testified to the flooding capacity of the river and to the strength of the bridge. He said: "I have been here four years, and three times I have seen the river running over the parapets of that bridge."

That country was one of the richest granaries of the Roman empire. It now yields a scanty support for a sparse and semi-barbarous population. The whole region roundabout is treeless. The cure of the national forest is a provision for future generations for the permanence over vast areas of our country of the great industries of agriculture and mining, upon which the prosperity of the country ultimately depends. A good forest administration would soon support itself, but should be organized in the interests of the whole country, no matter what it cost.—Atlantic Monthly.

Dinner Served Up in a Tree.

A restaurant exists at the village of Robinson (named after Crusoe), about ten miles from Paris, where they serve dinners up in a tree. This restaurant has turned the trees of its garden into small thatched-roofed pavilions. They are built solidly into the branches, and plainly furnished with neat tables, straw-seated chairs, and coarse, clean napery. The visitors ascend by a flight of rustic steps, and the food is handed up in wicker baskets by a stout cook and waiter above and, considering the distance the viands have to travel before they appear on the table they are served tolerably hot. "There were," said a gentleman who recently dined there, "three stories or platforms of the tree on which my party dined. We occupied the middle one, while the pavilion above us was in the possession of a group of vocalists. Every one was in high spirits, and the dinner in a tree proved a great success."

S. S. S. GOES TO THE BOTTOM.

Promptly Reaches the Seat of all Blood Diseases and Cures the Worst Cases.

In every test made S. S. S. easily demonstrates its superiority over other blood remedies. It matters not how obdurate the case, nor what other treatment or remedies have failed, S. S. S. always promptly reaches and cures any disease where the blood is in any way involved. Everyone who has had experience with blood diseases knows that there are no ailments or troubles so obdurate and difficult to cure as those which affect the blood. Very few remedies claim to cure such real, deep-seated blood diseases as S. S. S. cures, and none can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. is not merely a tonic—it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst cases, and roots the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily, only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint and rids the system of it forever.

Mrs. J. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a mouse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and my great excretion I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the actual flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely." See Dr. Lee's Special.

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD
—is the only remedy that is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no mercury, potash, arsenic, or any other mineral or chemical. It never fails to cure Cancer, Eczema, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Tetter, Boils, Carbuncles, Sores, etc.
