Deplores the Recent Occurrences at the Celestial Capital

And Wants the Powers Addressed to Help Put Order on Its Throne Again-Position of the United States.

London, July 11 .- The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Mail, telegraphing yesterday, says: "A message has arrived here from Emperor Kwang Hsu, dated July 2, by couriers from Peking to the viceroy of Nankin, who forwarded it here. It is addressed to the Russian English and Japanese governments, it deplores the recent occurrences and solemni affirms that the foreign governments are mistaken in supposing that the Chinese government is protecting the Boxers against the Christians. The emperor further implores their aid in suppressing the Pebellion and upholding the existing government."

Washington, July 11.-The following official dispatch was received here last night from China: "Chefoo-secretary of state - Shantung governor wires that he has reports that on the Fourth of July all the legationists at Peking were safe except the German. Fowler, consul."

Berlin, July 11.-The foreign office yesterday informed the Associated Press that all the powers had consented to Japan's landing a large force in China; but the stipulation was made beforehand that no powers could derive any advantage territorially from the fact of its having more troops in China than the others.

London, July 11.-Three dispatches were received here yesterday that were reassuring for those who hoped that the legationers at Peking are safe. One was from Tien-Tsin and said Chinese advices were that the legationers at Peking had taken possession of a royal palace commanding the British legation and were holding it. Another was from Washington and gave a dispatch from Goodnow, United States consul general at Shanghal, stating that the governor of Shantung had news that the legationers were all right on July 5.

News Still More Satisfactory. But the most satisfactory dispatch was one from Shanghai saying that "News from official sources was received at 10 o'clock last [Monday] night to the effect that the empress had June 30 resumed the refus of government and appointed Yung-Lu prime minister. It is said that she sent a dispatch to Nanking by courier at the rate of 100 miles a day, thanking the viceroys of the Yang-tse-Kiang provinces for their loyalty, and recommending that they protect foreigners

Ah Sin Is an Artillerist. A dispatch from Tien-Tsin tells of an artillery duel July 3, in which, after the Japs and Russians had failed to silence the Chinese battery the 12pounder of the British first-class cruiser Terrible came into action, but the enemy placed two shells fairly under the gun, damaging the carriage and wounding the crew. The gun was withdrawn and replaced by a French gun, which had a similar experience, a shell bursting in the midst of its crew. LONDON WANTS TO BELIEVE,

But Cannot See Why the Legationers Do

Not Themselves Telegraph. London, July 11. - "No authentic news from Peking" is still the burden of the dispatches from the far east, and although the disposition is to believe the optimistic reports from Chinese sources no real confidence is possible until the legations, if they are still in existence, are permitted to communicate with their governments. If, as is alleged, the Boxer movement is losing ground in Peking it might have been supposed that the Boxers would have endeavored to send up re inforcements from Tien-Tsin; but instead of that they are still in great force in the neighborhood of the latter place, and are assisted by the imperial Chinese troops with ample, efficient,

According to a special Chefoo dispatch the fighting around Tien-Tsin on the 3d and 4th was the severest yet experienced. The British losses alone were thirty killed or wounded. The Chinese had 75,000 men attacking simultaneously from the west, north and east, and made excellent practice with over 100 guns. The defenders numbered 14,000, with scant supplies, and it was only the presence of the newly arrived Japanese and Russian guns that prevented a disaster. One Russian company of infantry, numbering 120 men had 115 killed or wounded. The German contingent also suffered heavily. By the evening of the 4th the situation was very critical. The allies narrowly escaped total de-

Providentially when things were at their worst a torrential rainfall compelled the Chinese to retire. On July 6. the rain having abated, the Chinese re newed the attack, opening fire on Tien-Tsin with two baterles of four-inch guns, but the allies, aided by two of H. M. S. Terrible's 4.7-inch guns, succeeded in silencing the Chinese artillery after eight bours of fighting.

At Snanghal it seems now to be the general belief that the date of the dispatch of July 3 asserting that two legations were still standing, was an error -either accidental or intentional. The couriers must have left Peking at least ave days earlier, making the real date of the message June 28, while the alleged massacres are said to have occurred on June 30. Until this point can be cleared up the greatest anxiety will be felt as to the fate of the Euro

The purpose of the president is, as it has been heretofore, to act concurrently with the other powers, first, in opening up communication with Peking and rescuing the American officials, missionaries and other Americans who are in danger; second, in affording all possible protection everywhere in China to American life and property; third, in guarding and protecting all legitimate American interests, and fourth, in aiding to prevent a spread of the disorders to the other provinces of the empire and a recur-

BOILS & CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Carbuncles, which are more painful and dangerous, come most frequently on the back of the neck. eating great holes in the flesh, exhaust the strength and often prove fatal. Boils are regarded by some people as blessings, and they patiently and uncomplainingly endure the pain and inconvenience under the mistaken idea that their health is being benefitted, that their blood is too thick anyway, and this is Nature's plan of thinning it. The blood is not too rich or too thick, but is diseased-is full of poison-and unless relieved the entire system will suffer. The boil or carbuncle gives warning of serious internal troubles, which are only waiting for a favorable opportunity to develop. Many an old sore, running ulcer, even cancer, is the result of a neglected boil. Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that Baneful Dangerous
