

ARE READY FOR ACTION

Nebraska Republicans Preparing to Reclaim State.

Chairman Lindsay of the State Central Committee Formulating Plans for a Vigorous Campaign—Concerted Efforts to Be Made to Redeem the State From Fusion Vices.

Appreciating the potency of an educational campaign, and imposing confidence in the sagacity and intelligence of the electorate of Nebraska, the republicans have opened up headquarters at the Her Grand, in Omaha, and are preparing to conduct a vigorous campaign along this line.

The campaign in Nebraska will be directed in charge of H. C. Lindsay, Chairman of the State Central Committee, and he will be ably assisted by competent men at the head of the various departments when at the headquarters of the electorate of Nebraska, the republicans have opened up headquarters at the Her Grand, in Omaha, and are preparing to conduct a vigorous campaign along this line.

Looking out upon a peaceful sea of prosperity bequeathed to them by the statesmanship of McKinley it was in keeping with good judgment and sound reasoning for the republicans in a national convention assembled to attest their appreciation and gratitude by unanimously choosing William McKinley for their presidential candidate.

In the four years since the inauguration of state he had not only banished distress from the doorway of millions of American homes, but he had gone forth to a struggling people of unhappy lot and torn from their homes the chains of slavery and silence, to forever the sovereignty over them of one of the most merciless monarchies known to modern history.

The Vice Presidency.

Mindful of the importance of positive and experienced statesmanship, the republicans placed, as second on the ticket, that sturdy patriot, Theodore Roosevelt. There are few names in American politics better known than this, and none more noble of nobility, fidelity and intellectual and moral qualities. Roosevelt has won his position in popular confidence in the open forum, where as soldier and civilian he has exhibited such qualities as are found only in the unassailed virtue of American citizenship. A man of lofty patriotism, broad and progressive ideas, schooled in the science of government, he is a strong companion-piece to McKinley and his candidacy bears with it an assurance of honesty, patriotism, care and circumspection in the administration of public affairs. Roosevelt may justly be claimed by the republicans as representative for, though a resident of New York, he has for many years been interested in the stock industry in the Dakotas and has spent much of his life on the frontier. No man in public life is more widely known and respected. Whether his task be to stand between the people and rapacity, or to lead a column of soldiers against a death dealing storm of shot and shell in the cause of humanity, as he did at San Juan hill, it is all the same. Manhood is there and it asserts itself.

McKinley and Roosevelt—both men of splendid type. Both possessing a judgment that is profound. Both stand for conservatism in public affairs—for peace at all times when war can be avoided without dishonor and consistent with the duties and obligations of humanity. They are opposed to militarism, and they both are opposed to a large standing army. War has only been accepted as an inevitable and unavoidable obligation. They and the republican party favor the maintenance of only such an army as will suffice as a nucleus in the event of foreign complications and as is sufficient to maintain law and order at home. The object of the American people as typified in the republican party is, not to subject disputes to the cruel arbitrament of war, but to settle all disputes at home and abroad without resort to force. No nation was more peace-loving than the United States in its history, and the republican party is, not to subject disputes to the cruel arbitrament of war, but to settle all disputes at home and abroad without resort to force.

No national war has ever been undertaken in favor of peaceful arbitration in the settlement of international controversies at The Hague peace conference than the United States, and the representative of the United States in the conference bore their commissions from William McKinley. Had he favored military rule as a function of government it is not likely, in a conference held to suppress military rule, that he would have been one of the ablest men in the nation whose protests against military adjudication were so forceful and brilliant as to electrify the world. At this conference the United States had the pleasure and honor of universal disarmament and in this the commissioners from the United States voted, not alone the sentiment of President McKinley, but the recorded sentiment of the republican party.

Nebraska Will Be Watched.

In the approaching campaign no other state will be more closely watched than Nebraska. One reason is that it is the home of the fusion candidate for president, William Bryan. Another and still more potent reason is, that it is an agricultural and manufacturing state, and as such has been largely benefited by republican prosperity. Four years ago Nebraska, hypnotized and frightened by the alluring promises and startling predictions of the fusion campaigners, and by those of Bryan in particular, gave its electoral vote to the fusionists. The people of Nebraska had faith in the predictions of the "boy orator" and they followed his leadership. He was treated notwithstanding and his predictions have been exploded.

Nebraska Will Be Watched.

He said the adoption of gold standard would precipitate a slavery of the masses. On the contrary, it has resulted in better wages, more money through the circulation of silver alone could prosperity come. Free coinage was defeated along with Bryan and such prosperity as this country has never before known now prevails here. But Nebraska, now swept by adversity from end to end under a democratic administration, which barring the silver proposition, was a reminder of what Bryan's election meant, gave its vote to Bryan. What will it do this year? Will it still believe in a prophet who has fallen and in prophecies which when now held up before the lamp of intelligence and experience appear ridiculous? Will it turn its back to the advance agent of prosperity and its face to the advance agent of the silver or bullion trust? Will it still insist on the government making it so that the man who produces silver bullion can have its value increased 100 per cent, so that he may trade 50 cents worth of silver bullion for a dollar's worth of wheat, or corn, or labor, or will it be loyal to itself and insist on getting 50 cents worth of silver or 50

DEMISE OF F. H. WILSON

Telegram From Indianapolis Announces His Death.

Was a Great Shock to His Family and Other Relatives in Plattsmouth—His Death Due to an Attack of Pneumonia—Body Will Be Shipped to This Place For Burial.

From Saturday's Daily. Captain L. D. Bennett received a telegram at 10 o'clock this morning from Indianapolis, Ind., which announced the death of his son-in-law, Frank H. Wilson.

While it was known that Mr. Wilson had been sick for some time, it was not thought that his case was serious, and the news of his death was a great shock to his family and other relatives in this city.

Shortly after the arrival of the message Mr. Bennett received a special delivery letter from the physician who has been attending Mr. Wilson. This letter was written several days ago, and it spoke in hopeful terms of Frank's condition, stating among other things that he was suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, but he thought Mr. Wilson would recover, as he had withstood two previous attacks.

Deceased was an old-time Plattsmouth citizen and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his demise. About two years ago he went to Indianapolis and since that time has held a responsible position as secretary for a large manufacturing establishment at that place. He was a veteran of the confederate army and shortly before his death had planned to make a trip to his old home at New Orleans.

Besides many other commendable qualifications, Mr. Wilson held the distinction of being one of the best penmen and accountants in the United States. His abilities in the latter line of work secured for him a good position as examiner for the state insurance commission, and his services were not only required in this state, but he was often called to eastern cities to examine the books of insurance companies.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH

Sheriff Wheeler and Detective DeLong Fail to Locate Robbers.

From Saturday's Daily. Sheriff Wheeler returned from Omaha last evening, but he did not have the men who robbed the Missouri Pacific depot Wednesday night. The sheriff and Detective DeLong made a thorough search of the freight yards of all railroads running into Council Bluffs, Omaha and South Omaha, and while they rounded up about 500 tramps, none of them appeared to answer the description of the men wanted. In one of the yards, Mr. Wheeler says, they rounded up a bunch of twenty-four hobos.

It is generally believed that the men started out in different directions shortly after sending Operator Becker back to town, and it is doubtless their plan to meet at some point. However, the officers still have hopes that the notices sent out to the authorities of surrounding towns will be instrumental in helping to catch the men.

It is reported that a depot on the Missouri Pacific road in Kansas was looted similar to the one in Plattsmouth on the evening of July 12.

After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural digestants. These have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and united with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodol Dyspepsia cure. It digests what you eat and allows all dyspepsias to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medicinal agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief. F. G. Fricke & Co.

No Sporting Match Puled Off.

For several days past the air has been filled with rumors of a proposed sporting match, or prize fight, and the police force, doubtless remembering the experiences of several years ago in this line of sport, decided to exert every effort to prevent the match being pulled off. The affair was to occur last evening, a hall having been hired and a large number of tickets sold, but Chief Slater and the rest of the police force stood guard at each entrance and firmly informed the principals that it was their duty, as officers of the city, to prevent any violation of the statutes, and they were there for that purpose. The result was the proposed match was abandoned.

A young sport from Council Bluffs and a Plattsmouth man were the principals. The local police force certainly deserve credit for the action they took in the matter.

ENJOY A GARDEN PARTY

Laws of Messrs. Burton and Twitchell Scene of a Pleasant Gathering.

Delightfully pleasant was the garden party given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Twitchell and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson on the adjoining lawns of Messrs. Burton and Twitchell. Myriads of lights, cosy corners and tete-a-tete seats were arranged to enhance the beauty of the grounds, which are in themselves very attractive with their wide sweep of velvet grass carefully tended.

Punch was served on the arrival and throughout the evening to the thirsty guests, an artistically draped flag designating the corner where it was dispensed by a charming coterie of young ladies.

Hotly contested games of croquet amused the onlookers as well as participants, and for those who wished to play cards or other games, tables were arranged convenient to the lights and speedily taken possession of.

The News quartet sang several selections. A fair young lady told fortunes, delicious ice cream and cake were served, and the hospitable entertainers were every where looking out for the wants of the guests and insuring a pleasant time for all.

About 150 guests enjoyed this novel and unique form of entertainment, and if the clerk of the weather would always furnish so perfect a specimen as last evening there would be no inside functions for the remainder of the summer.

The guests departed at a late hour declaring garden parties, conducted after the manner of this one, a decided success.

IS IT RIGHT

For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Breard, N. C. It may be a question whether the editor of a paper has the right to publicly recommend medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of the remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by all druggists.

Garrison is Reduced. With the removal of two companies of infantry from Fort Crook the garrison will be reduced to one company of about 100 men, says the Bee. South Omaha merchants will feel the loss in business as the soldiers frequently visit this city and, as a rule, make many purchases here. Fort Crook City will virtually be depopulated by the removal of the soldiers. At present four saloons are in operation there, besides a hotel, livery stable, etc. It is thought that some of the saloons at Crook City will close on account of the moving of the troops.

While stationed at Fort Crook the members of the Tenth infantry made many friends in South Omaha and the departure of two companies is regretted.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea. Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Coconaut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by all druggists.

Blood Troubles.

As the blood contains all the elements necessary to sustain life, it is important that it be kept free of all impurities, or it becomes a source of disease, poisoning instead of nourishing the body, and loss of health is sure to follow. Some poisons enter the blood from without, through the skin by absorption, or inoculation; others from within, as when waste products accumulate in the system and ferment, allowing disease germs to develop and be taken into the circulation. While all blood troubles have one common origin, each has some peculiarity to distinguish it from the other. Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema and other blood diseases can be distinguished by a certain sore, ulcer, eruption or inflammation appearing on the skin. Every blood disease shows sooner or later on the outside and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. While the sore or outward sign for the real disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other external applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment.

BLOOD TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES; the poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, potash and arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed in this class of diseases, are violent poisons, even when taken in small doses—never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already overburdened, diseased blood.

S. S. S., Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antidotes and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep-seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of successful cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin troubles.

Free Medical Treatment.—Our Medical Department is in charge of skilled physicians, who have made blood and skin diseases a life study, so if you have Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Eczema, an Old Sore or Ulcer, or any similar blood trouble, write them fully for advice about your case. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence. We make no charge for this service. Book on blood and skin diseases free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Speaking of the arrival at Nebraska City of Frank Cateyson and Mrs. Manda Collins the News of that place says they reached that city all right and rested their weary bones under a large tree near the C. B. & Q. bridge and the next morning continued their journey southward.

The News, in mentioning the death of Frank H. Wilson Saturday evening, made a slight error. The statement was made that Mr. Wilson's family and other relatives in the city were aware of his illness. While it was known that he had recovered from two previous attacks of pneumonia, but had not been notified of the third attack until the announcement of his death Saturday morning.

A dispatch in today's state papers from Lead, S. D., says: "While dumping hot ashes from a small car at the Star mill this morning, L. M. Lee, an employe, fell from an elevated track fifty feet into a pile of hot ashes. He sank out of sight before help came and his flesh was cooked from his bones. His partner saw him fall, but in three minutes' time the man was dead. He has no relatives in America and was unmarried."

Was It a Miracle? "The marvelous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of consumption has created intense excitement in Canmuck, Ind.," writes Marion Stuart, a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind.
